Allied planes began 750 bombing raids totaling 289 while 176 enemy planes were destroyed. Battle for Italy was turned into complete rout as Allies were 32 miles north of Rome. Allies withstood furious counter-attack around Caen. Success of airborne troops in invasion was being lauded. For most part French patriots were waiting quietly for time to strike. One beachhead was nine miles deep and it was reported RAF were already on beachhead with an airfield. About 750 bombers from Italy hammered targets in Munich area of Germany. One beachhead was nine miles deep and it was reported RAF were already on beachhead with an airfield. About 750 bombers from Italy hammered targets in Munich area of Germany. SUNDAY — Troops were being covered by Allied fighter planes striking from newly won airfields in France. They were a third of the way across the Normandy peninsula and 15 miles from Cherbourg. Yankees captured 15,000 and 7,000 Germans and closed in on Caen. Germans flooded parts of battle area. American planes were out in strength to bomb rail yards and tracks, gun positions and troop and tank concentrations of enemy. In Italy Clark was finding only slight opposition; advances were so fast planes had to drop bombs for use of troops. Widespread aerial strikes against Jap Central Pacific island group were reported including Nauru and Truk. A Jap naval task force was smashed off New Guinea while trying to reinforce garrison on Black Island in Schoutens.

MONDAY — U. S. troops drove half way across Normandy peninsula while others widened the 50-mile long beachhead. Allied warships and thousands of planes spread ruin deep inside enemy lines. Carrier force planes continued attack on Guam, Tinian, Saipan and Rota islands in Marianas.

WEDNESDAY — Allies captured Montebourg, 14 miles from Cherbourg and sent patrols into outskirts of Valognes. Allies advanced generally on 80-mile front. Strong German counter-attacks were beginning. Caen was still further outflanked but Germans still held the town. Many Germans were surrendering, running prisoner total to 10,000. Allies had 500 to 700 square miles in France. Many Allied planes hit Nazi supply lines. On the Italian front the Nazi retreat was resumed. Italian-based bombers pounded targets in Munich area. The Finns' second line was pierced by Reds and it was predicted Finns would soon quit war. American carrier task forces raiding Jap bases in Marianas sank 12 enemy ships, damaged 16 others and destroyed 141 Jap planes in three days. It was announced. Four of the ships were combatant vessels, as were five of those damaged. U. S. lost 15 planes. American planes were using Mokmer air-drome on Black Island in Schoutens.

Germans were back in Montebourg at northern end of beachhead. Americans withstood counter-attacks around Caen and pushed several miles beyond town. Le Havre was under sea bombardment. Allied warplanes flew 12,000 sorties against German defense system; 1,500 heavy bombers blasted strategic targets. Allies in Italy captured Orbetello, 71 miles from Rome. Reds continued to advance through Finland. Two American naval task forces, 2,000 miles apart, simultaneously shelled the southern Marianas islands and the central Kuriles in deepest penetration of Jap defenses by Allied warships. Coordinated air raids smashed at supporting Nip air bases. Chinese checked Jap drives while pushing their own advances along Burma road. Twenty-eight planes were downed on Black and fighting was on a large scale.

Youth And Service Men's Club

Closed For The Summer

The Oakland Youth and Service Men's Club has been closed for the summer season.

The committee in charge feel that the club has been a success and have a definite benefit to the community.

We wish to thank all who served as business, donated money, games, lamps or helped in any way. We also wish to thank the Mayor and Town Council members for giving us the use of the room in the City Hall and for their splendid cooperation in every way.

We plan to reopen the club this coming winter, but we will need the help of the people of the community in order to do this. We shall need furniture for the room and although we have a small amount of money in our treasury, it is not sufficient to cover the cost of the furniture needed. Therefore we are going to make every effort to raise some funds during the summer in order that we may be able to open even a better club this winter.

Notes Rapid Success

Of Harland I. Casteel

The account of the rapid rise to success of a former resident of this county is contained in a Wayneburg college bulletin, of Wayneburg, Pa., and concerns Harland Inskip Casteel. He is the son of Nathan H. Casteel and grandson of the late Truman W. Casteel.

The bulletin states: "Our friend and alumnus, Harland Inskip Casteel '29, is moving upward in the law and business world like a meteor. A few years ago he became associated with the Republic Oil company, and knowing him as we do, we are not a bit surprised to find that he has by his industry become one of the entrusted men of the great corporation which M. L. Benedum has built up in recent years. In a short time we shall dedicate a bulletin to him, but at present it will interest his friends to know that he is the first vice-president of the Republic Oil company and the Republic Oil Refining company. This is a distinction which few men as young as he have ever achieved. In addition he is vice-president and director of the General Oil Sales corporation, Husky Transit Corporation, Greenville Republic Terminal, Inc., Southport Republic Terminal Co., C. B. Collins Company and Joe Skidaway, Inc., and vice-president and assistant secretary and treasurer of Republic Pipe Line company and Duval Pipe Line company. Good luck, Inskip!"

"Jeanne, how about selling me your extra grill?"

"OK, but I'd rather trade it for that IES lamp you're not using!"

With no new electric appliances in the stores, neighbors are getting together to solve the problem. Here they trade, and there they sell. In some communities it's working out very well. Why not join the movement? You'll help yourself by helping others, and it's a lot of fun. Just before the war we made a check and found that nearly every home had one or more good appliances they were not using. Now's the time to cash in on them.

Minor repairs and good care will keep appliances serving you for years. Don't scrap yours by neglect, for it will be months before new ones will become available.

MONONGAHELA SYSTEM

JENNINGS

A severe frost hit this community last Wednesday morning when the temperature dropped to 30 degrees. Growing crops were seriously damaged in most places in this section.

Dan Yommer was painfully injured one evening last week. Mr. Yommer, who has been mute since childhood, was returning home for the evening meal from the Resh saw mill. Approaching the railroad track he looked along the rail but saw nothing and stepped on the track. He had walked about fifteen feet when a motor car struck and ran him down, dragging him some distance. The motor was being driven by Stanley Wiley, of New Germany.

"THE LIFE OF A HUNTER."

By Meshaeh Browning

Is being eagerly read by thousands of hunters and their families from coast to coast. It contains 450 pages of the most thrilling stories of hunt-to-hand fighting with furious bucks, bears, wolves and panthers. The tenth edition is nearly exhausted and war restrictions will cause indefinite delay in printing more. No family in Garrett County should fail to secure a copy while they last. Hunters, Teachers and Advanced Scouts should, by all means, have a copy of this delightful book, $2.00 postpaid.

Good for Home Consumption

It has remained for Eric Johnston, President of the United States Chamber of Commerce, to lead the way in championing the American system of private enterprise. Instead of belittling our system as outmoded, as is too common a political practice here at home, Mr. Johnston, at a luncheon given him in Moscow by the Soviet Trade Commissar, said:

"In economic ideology, the practice of my country is different from yours. You are state-minded, collective-minded, and gentlemen, make no mistake, we are determined to remain so or even to become more so.

"I think each of our two countries should be allowed to pursue its own economic experiment, unimpeded by the other." Speaking of a "gulf" between the nations, he said: "Three bridges of practical cooperation can be thrown across it: (1) Our common determination to bring Hitler and fascism to an end; (2) Our common passion for production; (3) The bridge of export and import trade." The Russians applauded his speech and Trade Commissar Mikoyan congratulated Mr. Johnston.

We need more men like Johnston praising our own country and American private enterprise. Too many of our politicians are pussyfooting on this subject, while injecting government further and further into the affairs of private citizens, thereby limiting individual opportunity. Mr. Johnston can do missionary work at home as well as in Russia.

Severe Storm Causes Damage Within County

Trees Bear Brunt of Attack And Many Are Felled Or Broken By High Winds

High winds accompanying a severe electric storm struck most of Garrett county about 7:15 o'clock on Monday morning, uprooting and snapping off numerous trees, cutting off the electric power, interrupting telephone communications, and causing other damage throughout the area.

Trees bore the brunt of the storm that descended suddenly upon the area with a rush of wind and rain, and in some cases laid most of the trees that were felled or broken were "the mighty oaks", of which there were many in this section, but the maples and in a few cases the pine trees did not entirely escape.

A tree across the power line at Hutton was the cause of the interruption in the electric service for about three hours, while falling trees and limbs in other sections caused local damage to electric and telephone lines. Repairs were made as quickly as possible by crews of the West Maryland Power and the C and P Telephone company. So far as is known the trees in falling around the neighborhood came down without harming houses, and there was no extensive damage to crops reported in any section. Many apples, cherries, etc., were knocked from the trees. Some trees across highways caused some traffic delay.

Falling trees hit some tombstones in the Oakland cemetery, while debris cluttered the place.

The rain brought relief from the hot weather of Sunday when the thermometer registered 89 degrees at the government station at Weber's. Following Monday however, the thermometer dipped deeply and had many people building furnace fires in their homes. Wednesday morning the mercury dropped into the forties. Monday's storm brought a little more than one-half inch of rainfall which was considerable aid to all crops, especially to berries and peas.

Certificates For Airplane Spotters Are Now Available

Irvin R. Rudy, chief observer when the Oakland spotter station was in existence, announced this week that he had received certificates of merit and letters of commendation from officers in charge of the Philadelphia Fighter Wing, for distribution to all members who served as spotters.

These certificates and letters may be obtained by calling at the Rudy Department store, Second street. The certificate is a "testimonial of loyal and faithful volunteer service," and declares the recipient a member of the Army Air Forces Aircraft Warning Service Reserve. The letters of commendation are from Col. Stewart A. Towle, Jr., and Major Joseph S. Littlepage, of the Army Air Corps, and Henry L. Stinson, secretary of war.

Demand for Fewer Selectees Is Seen

Col. Henry C. Stanwood, state selective service director, expressed the belief this week that demand for draftees for the armed services will taper off within a few months and become stabilized at a figure representing an "appreciable" drop from the average monthly total of men called up in the last year.

He based his prediction on the fact that the number of men needed for normal replacements is virtually stable, and that from now on the number of casualties will be directly reflected in the number of inductions.

NUMBER 1.

Lightning Strikes And Destroys Barn Of Luther Nine

Lightning struck and the ensuing fire destroyed the barn of Luther Nine, on his farm at Underwood, about five miles southwest of Oakland, about 6:30 o'clock last Friday evening during a thunderstorm. Mr. Nine, who had just finished milking three cows, was temporarily stunned by the shock and in the ensuing fire was burned about the face and hands as he attempted unsuccessfully to save his automobile.

Mr. Nine released the three cows as soon as the lightning struck and they were able to get out. Four calves were in another part of the barn. One of these was freed, and two others managed to get out in some unaccountable manner just before the barn collapsed. One of the calves was lost in the flames.

Also in the barn were a binder, grain drill, tractor plow, potato digger, and all of his smaller equipment and tools; harness, fertilizer, about 75 bushels of wheat, 50 bushels of buckwheat, 25 to 40 bushels of barley, and his automobile, all of which were destroyed.

About 600 pounds of cured meat in the granary section of the barn and all his potatoes were also consumed by the flames.

Mr. Nine said that the loss was at least $3,000 with only one-third covered by insurance. The barn was 40 by 60 in size, a bank type building and well constructed.

Mr. Zeller, a bachelor, lived at the residence on State street and conducted a shoe repair shop formerly operated by his father. At one time he was employed as a telegraph operator. His parents were the late Charles and Rosa Zeller, pioneer residents of Terra Alta.

Pfc. Tasker was born November 1, 1921. He entered the armed forces in September, 1942, and was a member of an engineer corps.

His parents believe that their son was one of those who succeeded in getting into a lifeboat at the time of the sinking and who was possibly strafed by the enemy the following day.

FIFTH WAR LOAN CONTINUES SLOW IN THIS SECTION

Chairman Says Individuals Are "Going To Have To Dig" If Garrett County Is To Reach Its Quota

With only $41,328.25 reported in the sale of bonds in the fifth war loan drive, the campaign to raise $275,000 continues to be extremely sluggish, it was said this morning by H. C. Riggs, the county chairman.

Individual sales especially were said to be at a low ebb, and Mr. Riggs declared that individuals are "going to have to dig" if Garrett County is to reach its quota.

Of the quota of $275,000 which the county is expected to contribute, $145,000 is expected to be raised by individuals through the purchase of "E" bonds. Up to and including June 19, the sale of "E" bonds totaled only $13,706.25.

The entire report showed a total of $41,328.25. Mr. Riggs said he had received assurances of further purchases from both individuals and corporations. The total of this week does not include certain amounts to be credited from the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company, the Davis Coal and Coke company, and a portion of $8 million dollars in bonds purchased by the state from various funds.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company advised the State committee that it had allocated $250,000 of its subscription to Allegany and Garrett county, and Mr. Riggs presumed that Garrett county's allotment would be based on the percentage of the quotas that both counties are expected to raise, which would indicate Garrett county would be credited with about $25,000. There will also be a credit of $85,500 from the State Employee's Retirement System of Maryland.

A purchase of $500 in 2½ percent bonds by a county individual is also being credited to the county's quota.

Mr. Riggs pointed out that hundreds of thousands of our fighting men were really enduring hardships, living under the worst possible conditions, and still buying war bonds besides, and declared those who are left at home, living in comparative comfort and security, many of them earning more than they ever earned before, should consider lending money to the Government a privilege as well as an obligation.

He listed five other reasons for buying extra war bonds in this drive:

1. War Bonds are the best, the safest investment in the world!
2. War Bonds (Series E) return you $4 on every $3 in 10 years.
3. War Bonds help keep prices down.
4. War Bonds will help you win the peace by increasing purchasing power after the war.
5. War Bonds means education for your children, security for you, funds for retirement.

Twenty-Three Are Accepted For Service

Will Be Subject To Call Either To Army Or Navy After Twenty-One Days

Twenty-three were accepted for service in the armed forces from the group of thirty-three who were scheduled for examination in Baltimore on June 13.

They were not designated for the Army or the Navy, but will be subject to call any time after twenty-one days. They will be assigned to a definite branch of the service when they reach Baltimore, according to recent regulations.

MT. LAKE PARK

The Victory Garden Attack Is On! One is constantly haunted by fears, By blood, sweat and tears, That your labor will be lost To the rabbits or Jack Frost! The rabbits attack is savage Upon the beans and cabbage! The birds get your potatoes, The horn-worm your tomatoes, The birds eat the ripe cherries, Next your luscious strawberries— The beetles have your number And proceed to devour the cucumber; Then there's too much or too little left.

To add just another pain! You cannot protect your garden, or I million dollars! To shoot a rabbit draws a five dollar fine! You can only say, "Woe is me!" But ON TO VICTORY! But I say it isn't funny To work so hard Just to feed a dumb bunny! And in closing just a paraphrase From the latest song craze: "O What a Beautiful Morning! O What a beautiful day, Everything is coming my way!" —Albert Augustus Selden.

Mountain Lake Park gardeners are on their toes this Victory Garden time. Take a look around and you'll see the sort of gardens read about. Make no mistake, we're going to need them before the winter is over.

Well-trained GHOST wants work!

THE local Society of Spooks and Spectres blames us for unemployment among its members.

They say a ghost has got to have long dark halls to work in and flickering candles to blow out. How can any self-respecting wraith rattle chains or utter mournful moans in a brightly lighted room with the radio playing swing music?

Seriously, today's children have little chance to learn the fear of the dark that once oppressed their elders. They don't know how shivery blackness can be. They never fumbled blindly for a match or felt tremulous relief as the lamp wick caught flame and slowly drove back the shadows.

Who's afraid of misty apparitions—with reassuring light always instantly at hand? And just as electricity has all but banished haunted houses, so it has laid the ghosts of many household jobs that once were done by hand.

In fact, electricity is so common, so constant today, that most people take it for granted. But the folks who work for this company can't do that. It's their hard work, careful planning and good business management that keep electric service friendly, dependable and cheap—even in wartime.

Kitzmiller Man Is Chief Mail Clerk At Italy Air Base

"Show the mail man no mercy in writing the boys overseas," pleads Pfc. James H. Keller, 29, of Kitzmiller, a mail clerk of an AAF B-17 Flying Fortress Italy based squadron. He added that mail from home "was the number one morale builder over here."

Keller knows well the look of satisfaction that comes when the men receive large batches of mail and the feeling of frustration when no mail is forthcoming.

Keller, a former baseball player in the Mountain State League, plays a fast game of outfield in his off duty hours for the Desk Pilots of his squadron's flak league. He is stockily built and still a powerful hitter as he was when playing for the Elkhart Elks and the Terra Alta Braves, when he had a batting average of .211. He also played semi-professional baseball for the Midland Indians, in the George's Creek area.

Keller was graduated from Kitzmiller High school in 1929, at fourteen years of age, and won letters in soccer and basketball. A former line-man for Western Union he enlisted in the Signal corps on March 24, 1941. After rising to the rank of staff sergeant he was discharged because of a mistake in his records making him eligible to be released with other men over 28. Keller was called back in August, 1942, and entered the AAF. He has been overseas for three months. After entering the AAF, Keller was graduated from Aviation Police School at Miami Beach, Fla., in October, 1942.

He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Keller, of Kitzmiller.

DIARY OF THE WAR

FRIDAY—Central Pacific amphibious troops bypassed Truk and were invading Saipan island in Southern Mariana, as American super-fortresses made their debut with a bombing raid on Japan. Landings on Saipan were 1500 miles from Tokyo. The number of super-fortresses engaged in the attack was not disclosed, but they flew from the India-Burma-China theatre. They belong to the 20th air force, a mobile unit to be used wherever needed. American forces were slowly closing in on part of Cherbourg in France. Reds advanced against Flims, capturing 11 more fortified points. Five thousand planes blasted key positions in Germany. American bombers also hit Truk with heavy attack. Japs admitted raid on their homeland, but said damage was slight.

SATURDAY—American carrier forces shot down 47 Jap planes and sank two ships in Bonin and Kusan Islands, 592 miles southeast of Tokyo. The army revealed the super-fortresses hit Yawata, Japan's Pittsburgh, in raid, but lost four of the planes. The carrier raid was simultaneous with landing on Saipan and made air assistance to the enemy on Saipan highly improbable. Americans were five miles from Garapan on Saipan harbor, first sizeable Jap city to be threatened. China-based planes were aiding Chinese army at Changsha, which was to be held at all costs. In France, Japs seized Montebourg and St. Sauveur, two-fourths of way across Cherbourg peninsula. Yanks in Italy occupied a town 100 miles north of Rome, with a major airfield. Britons were attempting to neutralize the flying bombs which Germans were sending over England. Reds captured 100 additional populated places in drive in Finland.

SUNDAY—Yanks pushed four miles past St. Sauveur, and only seven miles from the sea, virtually trapping Nazis inside Cherbourg. Another two-mile advance was made below Salerno. American dead in France totaled 3,283 and 12,600 others having been wounded, first 11 days of campaign. Britain's air defenses were reorganized to combat the Nazi rocket explosions. British hit the Calais sector twice, where Germans were presumably launching these robot planes. French were battling for the island of Elba, five miles west of Italian mainland. Allies in Italy continued their push northward. 8,000 Chinese troops captured the Japs' Kamaing base in North Burma. Yanks were near airfield in the push on Saipan island in Pacific. American forces resumed aerial pounding of Jap north Pacific bases in Kuriles. Warships shelled Guam.

MONDAY—U. S. Infantry trapped 9,000 Germans in Cherbourg peninsula and slaughtered those who tried to break out of the pocket. They swept themselves along a seven-mile strip of coast. Another column on the 16-mile Normandy battlefield pushed to within six miles of St. Lo. More than 1,300 U. S. bombers struck oil refineries and oil storage depots in northwest Germany. French colonial troops drove Germans from strongholds in central and southern Elba. In Italy there were gains by both Eighth and Fifth armies. Reds reached Mannerheim line in Finland. A Jap amphibious counter-attack on Saipan island was beaten off when 12 rocket-laden Nip barges were sunk by coast guns. Americans were on edge if Saipan's air strip. Jap troops in China seized Chuchow and river city of Siangnan, and Liuyang, 30 miles east of Changsha. In Burma American troops used flame throwers and bazookas to storm Myitkyina, partially captured Jap base.

TUESDAY—Americans drove within eight miles of Cherbourg and were unloading fuel and ammunition dumps and German fortifications within city. About 50,000 Nazi troops are trapped there. Americans bypassed Montebourg. Planes crossed Channel in spite of weather and hit launching platforms of Nazi robot bombers which continued to spray over southern England. Reds charged through shattered Finnish defenses and were 10 miles from Viipuri. French colonial troops completed mopping up of island of Elba. British troops in Italy were on outskirts of Perugia, key road junction 85 miles north of Rome. Assam was cleared of Japs by Allied India forces. Japs advanced on Hongyang in China. A navy ask force repelled a Jap raid on carriers, destroying 300 enemy planes. Marines and army troops captured the Asito airbase and drove across Saipan island.

WEDNESDAY—Smoke hung over Cherbourg as trapped Nazis were destroying harbor installations. Americans were four miles from the port, and attacking outer defenses. Jap artillery was already pounding selected points. British and Canadian forces on flanks beat back enemy tanks. More than 1,500 U. S. heavy bombers blasted nests of German robot planes and synthetic oil, tank and plane plants; 21 bombers were forced to land in Sweden. Russians swept through Viipuri in Finland. A heavy rain slowed Allied advance in Italy but Eighth army burst into Perugia, 85 miles north of Rome. Jap armies captured Changsha in drive through central China. Bombers raided Truk, Pampanga, Nauru and Marshall island enemy bases. British troops in India

Victory Gardens Are Beginning to Yield

State Health Director Emphasizes Value of Fresh Vegetables From Garden

Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Department of Health, believes that vitamins from vegetables grown for victory can have an important place in the well-balanced diet needed for optimum health. Emphasizing the value of fresh vegetables from the garden, Dr. Riley gave the press the following statement from the Nutritionist of the Department:

"Victory Gardens are beginning to yield vegetables and fruits—nature's vitamins. Strawberries from the Eastern shore of Maryland provide a rich source of Vitamin C or ascorbic acid. About a dozen large berries, eaten raw, will provide you with your daily allowance of this vitamin. Other rich sources of this vitamin are raw cabbage, one cup of which will provide your daily allowance, raw and canned tomatoes or tomato juice, raw peppers, grapefruit, oranges and lemons. In order to obtain the full food value of your vegetables from the garden or market cook quickly in as little water as possible. If there is any water left in which they have been cooked, be sure to use it in soups or gravies, or combine it with tomato juice for a refreshing drink. The water in which carrots, string beans or peas have been cooked is especially good when combined with tomato juice. Instead of always cooking spinach try using it as a salad, either plain with your favorite dressing or in combination with other greens. Remember also that potatoes boiled in their skins retain most of their Vitamin C. If you are planning to have mashed potatoes, boil them in the skins first and then peel.

"Garden peas and other vegetables must be kept in a cold place after picking and not kept too long. Vegetables mature rapidly in the heat of the day and, as they mature, become less sweet and more starchy. Peas gathered first thing in the morning are sweeter as well as fresher and more tender.

"If you have more fruits and vegetables left after you have eaten all you want fresh remember to can or store them for next year. The United States Department of Agriculture has just prepared a new free popular bulletin, "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables"—A.W.L. 93. Write for your copy today to "Home Canning," Washington—25, D. C. The Extension Service, University of Maryland, College Park also offers helpful information for the preservation of food."

Pedestrian accidents, as usual, led all other types of accidents with 15 persons killed. Fixed object accidents increased tremendously in severity with 10 persons killed compared to only one killed during May of last year.

Timber Control Support Urged

William H. Johnson, district forester, told members of the Grantsville Rotary club that the one way to avoid federal regulation of timber resources in Maryland is for private business to become interested in the success of the program set up in Maryland by the Forest Conservancy Districts Act.

Johnson declared that forest resources are rapidly being depleted and added that something must be done to elevate them to their highest state of productivity.

He pointed out that there appears to be two ways to accomplish the purpose. "First, and most unpopular," he said, "would be governmental ownership of all timber lands," and secondly, "regulation of cutting practices of private enterprise."

The district forester cautioned the Rotarians that "if private enterprise is to survive in this field, its exponents must make up their minds that they must conform to a planned program which takes into account the proper use of our forest resources."

He said the question is: "Who shall set up the planned program and see that it is followed out?"

In the past decade, Johnson related, there has been an "expansion of federal control in many fields of private enterprise, necessitated, we are told, first by the depression years, and more recently by the war emergency. For sometime, the chief of the United States Forest Service in his public utterances, has been advocating federal control of the cutting practices of our timber reserve."

The way to avoid federal control, Johnson stated, is to see that the Forest Conservancy Districts act is successful.

Johnson outlined briefly the provisions of the act that became effective the first of the year, but pointed out that public reaction to enforcement of the regulations cannot be forecast with any degree of certainty.

He explained that in the early stages of the law's administration, "our activities must, of necessity, be largely educational. The public must be brought to realize the need for scientific management of our woodlands, and the way in which existing rules and regulations are designed to accomplish it."

Delinquency under the Selective Service Act has dropped to about 40,000 cases.

Facing the Future Fearlessly

Every man thinks and often worries about his own and his family's financial security when ill health or old age shall have reduced his earning power.

Members of the Woodmen of the World, however, can face the future fearlessly. The safe, sound legal reserve Woodmen life insurance protection they own banishes such worries. They know this protection will be there to meet their needs in old age, or in event of their earlier death.

Woodmen also enjoy many "plus" benefits of Woodcraft . . . the social activities of their local Woodmen Camps that foster intimate friendships . . . the opportunities for self-development through their Camp's fraternal program. Let the local Woodmen representative tell you how you, too, can secure Woodmen legal reserve insurance protection (offered to white males, from birth to age 60) and face the future without fear.

Points On Party-Lines

More people are now on party lines than ever before. This is due to war conditions, which have put a stop to the building of telephone plant. So, to furnish service to as many people as possible, we have had to stretch existing facilities to their utmost. One result is that more and more lines are now serving two families instead of one.

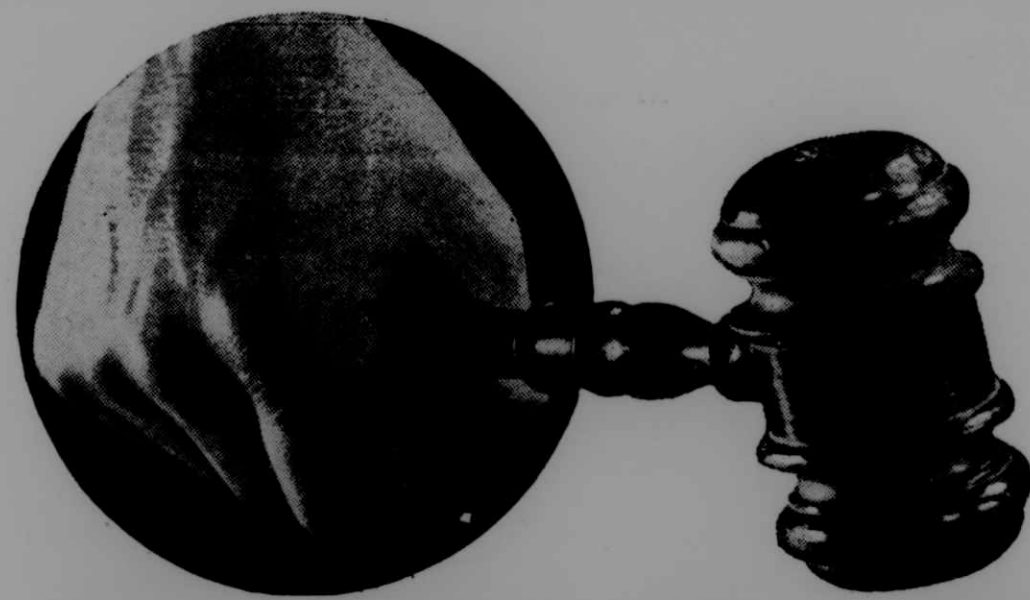

Party-line service is satisfactory service if these few reasonable rules are observed:

1. Avoid long conversations.
2. Do not make several calls in succession; give the other fellow a chance.
3. Do not interrupt the other party when he is making a call.
4. Hang up carefully after each call in order to keep the line open.

Friendly consideration and teamwork result in better service for all concerned.

and Authorized Edition, used in the Sunday School.THE POWER IN SIMPLE LIVINGLESSON TEXT—Daniel 1:2-16, 19, 20.
GOLDEN TEXT—2nd Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself with the king's cuisine, but with the wine which he drank—Daniel 1:8."Dare to be a Daniel."
Dare to stand alone.
Dare to have a purpose firm.
Dare to make it known.Remember how we used to sing it in our Sunday School? Possibly some of us still do. The thought of the song assuredly needs to be emphasized anew."The times are out of joint." Millions of men and women are meeting new problems and temptations. The standards of life they learned in home and church or Sunday school are not too easy to maintain.Many are hearing that old excuse for family, "Man, you're in the army now," or "Don't forget you're not at home with Mother; you're in the navy." Civilians have similar tempting excuses for careless living, drinking, etc.Our lesson is a timely one. It presents Daniel as having—I. A Courageous Purpose (v. 8).Daniel and his three Hebrew companions were among those carried captive to Babylon. As promising young men, they were selected to receive an education in the wisdom of the land, at the king's expense.
The king provided for them the delicacies of his household, thinking that to keep them strong and in good health. Daniel recognized that many of these things were unclean according to the laws of his people.
He also knew that to eat such food and to drink the intoxicants provided for them would be to injure his health and cut down his ability to learn.It was no easy thing to ask to be excused from what the king had commanded, not to do what everybody else was doing; but Daniel had a courageous purpose "in his heart."
But Daniel had the wisdom to be tactful about his convictions. He went to the king's steward with—II. A Considered Plan (v. 9-13).He had something thoughtfully worked out, a fair proposal which would not endanger the life or standing of the prince who was over them. He proposed a test, and suggested, if it failed, to be subject to further orders. He knew it would not fail.How often those who have it in their heart to stand true to God against evils, such as beverage alcohol, have no plan in mind, and are only head and footless in their conviction. They make no contribution to the cause. Let us be intelligent and properly prepared.Daniel's plan put a planned diet and water over against rich foods and wine. It was a case of simple living against "high" living, and the result was a foregone conclusion.
Those high in positions of authority in the field of diet tell us again and again that we need simple, well-balanced meals. And science is definite and clear in its condemnation of alcoholic beverages.III. A Convincing Proof (v. 14-16).Ten days proved the point. Daniel and his friends were fatter and fatter than the others. They were vindicated in their courageous stand for what they believed to be right. Simple living demonstrated its value.Think what a fine testimony the experience of Daniel must have been in that great group of young princes who were at the king's table. So we also may give good witness for our Lord by our loyalty to right standards. Often it is true that those who outwardly scoff at them are secretly moved to respect those who consistently stand for what they believe.We need to cultivate in our young people the high courage which will enable them to stand against the constant temptation to partake of alcoholic beverages and to face with intelligent courage the clever propaganda of the liquor sellers.Note that Daniel and his friends did not lose by their decision—they gained. They reached—IV. A Commendable Position (v. 19, 20).At the end of the training period the king gave these young men examinations. Now that in technical knowledge, "IQ," and in personal characteristics, Daniel and his comrades were superior to all the rest.
That is in accord with the findings of modern science in the matter of the use of liquor.Is it not almost unbelievable then that the advertising of the liquor interests, suggesting that liquor is a desirable thing from a personal, social, and business viewpoint, is permitted? The facts are all on the other side.Strange too is the tolerant attitude of our nation and especially of many in the church toward that which is known to be destructive and detrimental. It is an appalling commentary on the extent to which our standards have been lowered or forgotten.Ration Reminders*SUGAR—Stamps No. 26, 31 and 32

Maryland Board Asks For Core Drilling Project

Governor O'Connor reported that the Maryland Board of Natural Resources had asked the United States Bureau of Mines to carry out a recently proposed core drilling project in an attempt to develop new coal mines in Allegany county.

The project suggested by the Maryland Department of Geology, Mines and Water Resources was aimed at maintaining the economic security of the people of Frostburg and other communities in the Georges Creek basin, dependent on the maintenance of the coal production in that area, the governor said.

Most of the coal produced in that region comes from the Big Vein. In order to avert an extended decline in output in this basin, underlying coal seams, not yet adequately explored, would have to be developed, O'Connor continued.

Reporting that all of the acreage of the Big Vein coal had been developed, the state's chief executive warned that the reserves of this coal were limited.

The department of mines has recommended a program of core drilling that will total 13,650 feet in the Georges Creek basin, 3,400 feet in the Upper Potomac basin, and approximately 8,000 feet in other Garrett county basins, at a total estimated cost of $80,000.

O'Connor disclosed that in recent years the Maryland coal fields had not held their own in nationwide production.

Timely Notice

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States has issued a pamphlet on the nation's water resources. It shows how in the last decade, the Federal government has become the most important factor in this field. The rapid expansion of its participation and control has been accomplished through new laws, abundance of money, widespread unemployment, favorable court decisions, executive orders and directives, generous interpretation of the statutes, surrender of control by Congress, encroachment on the rights of the states, and the ascendancy of Federal planning and regulation.

In reviewing the history of these developments, the Chamber points out that they have produced one of the most important social, economic and political problems to face the postwar period. It says: "Every government project is subsidized either directly or by special privileges. The aggregate cost to the taxpayers of doing this is very large and represents a substantial part of the present tax burden. Unless a change is made in the prevailing policy, this will mount rapidly as new projects are undertaken."

"Government enterprise is practically tax free. . . . The rapidly growing extent of tax free property throws a constantly increasing burden upon a constantly narrowing source of taxes. . . . The continuation of this course eventually will dry up the source of business and property taxes, leaving personal incomes as the sole source of tax revenue."

"The Federal government is rapidly extending the field in which it competes on a tax-free basis with its tax-paying citizens. . . . The continuation of this course in the end will destroy free enterprise."

And then, the Chamber might have added, we will have state socialism.

DEWEY-BRICKER COMBINATION IS NAMED BY G. O. P.

New York Governor Gets Nomination For President On First Ballot at Chicago Convention

Thomas Edmund Dewey, Governor of New York, was nominated by the Republican party delegates to the convention in Chicago yesterday for President. It was a first-ballot nomination, although not quite unanimous. One lone delegate out of the 1057 in the convention cast his ballot for General Douglas MacArthur.

John W. Bricker, Governor of Ohio, who had been a rival for first place on the ticket, was chosen as candidate for Vice-President. He also was selected on the first call of the roll and he got all of the votes in the convention.

The entire nominating session was completed in a little less than three hours.

Governor Dewey, in formally accepting the nomination last night, declared that the making of world peace "is no task to be entrusted to stubborn men, grown old and tired and quarrelsome in office."

"No organization for peace will last if it is slipped through by trickery or stealth or the momentary hypnotism of high sounding phrases. We shall have to work and pray and be patient and make sacrifices to achieve a really lasting peace. This is not too much to ask in the name of those who died for the future of our country."

Dewey was introduced by Representative Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts, convention chairman, as "the next President of the United States."

Playground To Open Monday For Season

The playground at the municipal property, at the north edge of town, will be opened for the summer months Monday, it was announced by a Lions club committee. The club is sponsoring the playground and is furnishing half of the money necessary to keep it going during vacation time. The City Council is furnishing the other half of the expense money.

The playground will be in charge of Miss Ruth Field, Oakland high school instructor, and she will have a number of assistants.

Hours will be from 9 to 4 o'clock, and Miss Field urged that all interested persons come to the playground Monday and register.

The Lions club committee supervised the erection of the playground equipment last evening. Members of the committee said that inside equipment was still scarce and that any individual having play equipment to donate should get in touch with the advisory committee, of which H. C. Riggs is chairman.

Baptist Pastor Will Finish His Work Here

Rev. Bragg To Continue His Studies For Several Years

Rev. B. Finney Bragg will conclude his ministry to members of the Garrett Baptist Field on Sunday when he will conduct services in the Mt. Lake Park, Deep Creek and Fernside churches.

Rev. Bragg is leaving for Ouachita Baptist college at Arkadelphia, Ark., to enroll in the summer term of school and upon completion will receive the Bachelor of Arts degree. In September he plans to enter Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, at Fort Worth, Texas, where he will study for four years and at the same time pastor a church in that vicinity. Upon completion of the course there he will receive the degree of master of theology and master of religious education.

Rev. Bragg came to Garrett county in May, 1942, from Washington, D. C., where he had been in government work and also pastor of a church at Glen Echo. He is a native of Arkansas. Mrs. Bragg will go from here to her home in Conde, Va., for the summer, joining her husband in Fort Worth in October.

No successor has been named for the Garrett Baptist field. Rev. R. I. Berghauer, assistant general secretary of the Maryland Baptist Union Association, was here recently to look over the situation.

Tornado Sweeps Destructive Path Mile Wide Through Garrett County

SEBOLD HOME—or rather what remains of the James Sebold home which was moved from its foundation before being literally blown to pieces. One of the children was found beneath this wreckage, two of the children and father near where the group is standing, and Mrs. Sebold and the fourth child beneath the tree that can be seen at the extreme left.

Disaster Sidelights

All who noticed farm animals during the storm said they all appeared bewildered. One animal was noticed in particular, a Guernsey bull, 2 years old, belonging to Mrs. T. W. Castee, north of town. During the storm it broke from a pen and tried to enter Mrs. Castee's home, chased everybody who came near it, and even after several neighbors had succeeded in getting him back in the barn kept bellowing and pawing all night long. The next day it was taken to Terra Alta and was due to go on the auction block on Tuesday. It had been extremely gentle prior to the storm. Mrs. Castee's barn was on the edge of the storm.

Mrs. Michael Faherty and Ronald Faherty, aged 10, were among those killed in the storm at Thomas, W. Va. They were former residents of Crellin. Mrs. Faherty was formerly Mary Sheets.

Mr. Faherty, assistant foreman at Pierce Mine No. 39, and a member of the miners' first aid team left his home to help around Montrose by taking a first aid team there. He had been gone only a few minutes when the twister struck Thomas. The Faherty home was wrecked and Mrs. Faherty and son were carried 100 feet away. When their bodies were removed from beneath another building both were dead.

Harry Bittinger, who had windows smashed and the corner of his barn badly damaged, told that during the storm his back door kept bulging in the manner of a bellows. Whenever the bulge looked as if it would break down the door he would rush and put all his weight against it. When he thought the storm had subsided he went out on the front porch to see trees scattered all about him, and looking up in the sky saw a huge piece of roofing go floating off over DeBerry's hill like a magic carpet.

Kenneth Paugh, who had part of his roof torn away, started to his brother's home, northward. He turned around at the DeBerry lane as trees started to whip around and before he reached his home he was panned in by falling trees across 219.

As Harry McRobie and his son Raymond were heading for home in their car a school bus station was lifted by the wind over their car to be deposited on the hill beyond.

Rudy Schreiber, of Duquesne, Pa., Deep Creek Lake resident, was enroute to Oakland. He got to the outside edge of the storm when a tree broke through the windshield. He was unhurt.

Edw. Lawrence, enroute home, just got through as the storm broke. Mrs. Gus Groves, neighbor of the Sebolds, remarked on Saturday that she felt she had been remarkably spared. She and her daughter were in the Sebold home at nine o'clock but suddenly decided to go home. Ten minutes later there was no house. Their own home had all windows smashed, a damaged porch and a lost garage.

An organ at the DeBerry home was blown from one room into another room. While the house remained, the front porch was severed from the house like it had been cut with a sharp saw. Few windows remained in the house.

The storm originated in Pennsylvania on the outskirts of Pittsburgh, went through McKeesport, and took a twisting path to Shinnston, W. Va., 100 miles away, thence through Maryland, striking again in Preston county and from there through Garrett county.

ret county, U. S. government weather observers said they were puzzled by the freakish pattern of the storm. It was indicated there may have been a dozen different storms. There was heavy rain in some sections and in others hailstones as large as walnuts. Hospitals in Waynesburg, Pa., and Clarksburg, W. Va., and intermediate points were filled to overflowing with patients. There were twenty patients in Potomac Valley hospital, Keyser; eight of those were from Garrett county.

Russell Brown and son John, were sitting in their car in front of the Bell house, on Mt. Lake road, watching the storm. The former casually decided to get home. Ten minutes later the storm tore through that area.

Bible School Closing Program Sunday Night

Will Climax Two Weeks of Instruction With Services In Methodist Church

The Daily Vacation Bible School of the Oakland churches holds its final teaching sessions tomorrow morning, climaxing two weeks of instruction, inspiration and constructive play. One hundred and thirty-five children are enrolled, and have been under the direction of thirteen teachers and helpers.

This afternoon the children are scheduled to have the annual picnic of the school at the city playground, the equipment having been placed for them last night by members of the Lions' club.

The closing program of the school will be held at the Methodist church Sunday night at seven o'clock. To this the public is invited. There will be a display of art and notebook work done by the pupils, and evidences of lessons learned, each class and department contributing a song, dramatization, memory drill or prayer.

As a feature of this closing program one hundred and fourteen children will be presented certificates of merit for regular attendance and worthy effort. This is said to be the largest number to have earned certificates in several years.

Seeking Help To Clear Forest Land

Senator Bernard I. Gonder announced yesterday that he was attempting to get some workmen to Garrett county to help clean up the forests and render aid to farmers who were affected by the tornado.

He said he talked by phone to Joseph Kaylor, state forester, and to John Nelson, chairman of the State Board of Forests and Parks and the possibility of sending some war prisoners here to work appeared bright, he said. He declared the state officials were much interested in getting some help to the stricken area.

Surgical Dressings Total 3,760 In Week

Surgical dressings made by volunteer Red Cross workers under the supervision of Mrs. Willard Elliott, director, totaled 3,760 this week. The classes completed the following: Monday afternoon 624, Tuesday 791, Wednesday 790, Thursday 588, Friday 567.

Most Severe Storm In History Struck Here Last Friday Night Shortly After Nine o'Clock, Killing Three

Persons, Putting Eight In Hospital And Causing Untold Property Damage

Three persons were killed, at least eight people sent to hospitals and scores were injured in a tornado which twisted through part of Garrett County last Friday night.

The storm cut a clean path through the county knocking down, destroying or damaging houses, barns, outbuildings, timber, and killing cattle, horses, hogs, chickens, sheep by the score.

The twister in this area was just part of a pattern of destruction in West Virginia, and Pennsylvania, which took at least 146 lives, injuring more than 1,000 and causing millions of dollars in property damage. Hardest hit was an area around Shinnston, W. Va., where 58 died. The destruction here was estimated at $100,000.

In the five-county area of Garrett, county shortly after nine o'clock, coming into the county from a point between Terra Alta and Cranessville, W. Va., striking part of the Swallow Falls section, hitting the Dr. Hinebaugh farm just north of the municipal golf course, hitting route 219 with full force at the Walter DeBerry farm and that of Harry W. McRobie, turning to catch three or four farms on the Broadford road, about two miles northeast of town, cutting across the Mt. Lake Park-Deer Park highway to demolish the Bell and Sebold homes in its path southward, striking the Bethlehem community, and from there it is not certain whether it raised, to descend again on the Eastern Shore of Maryland or whether the same one twisted around to reach Thomas, W. Va., and go on to reach Thomas, W. Va.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sebold were killed when their home near Deer Park was blown from its foundation and completely demolished, while their four children miraculously escaped death and are now in the hospital recovering from injuries. The baby had a lacerated right hand. All had brush burns and cuts.

The only other fatality was that of Robert Tilton Paugh, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Paugh, of the Bethlehem community. Their home was completely destroyed. Mr. Paugh and two daughters are in the hospital at Keyser, while Mrs. Paugh and other members of the family are at the Kiser home at Mt. Lake Park. The lad had a crushed skull and both legs broken and multiple bruises over his body. Sebold had a crushed skull and multiple bruises, while Mrs. Sebold had a crushed chest, bruises about the head and a broken leg.

How the other persons in the demolished homes escaped death is still a mystery not only to the individuals themselves, but others.

Garrett county virtually was sealed off from the world for 15 hours after the storm hit, road and wire communications not being fully restored until Saturday afternoon. Telephone and electric company crews worked until Sunday to put everything back in shape.

The town of Oakland just missed the full force of the storm but nearby places were strewn with splintered trees, telegraph poles, dead animals, roofs of houses, twisted storm wreckage, etc. Areas about a mile wide were swept clean at some places.

Recently elected officers of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club were installed at the regular meeting of the club on Monday evening.

Smouse, first vice-president; Hervey Bittinger, second vice-president; J. M. Jarboe, secretary-treasurer; J. Edward Helbig, tail twister; Charles V. Harvey, lion tamer; Grover Sheed and Harold H. Harned, new directors. Ralph Pritts is a hold-over member of the board of directors.

Thirteen members of the Lions club of Cumberland were guests Monday evening as were W. Russell Pancake, Oakland, and Miss Betty Cook, coach of the local talent play.

With Our Men In The Service

Mr. and Mrs. Whitfield DeWitt, of near Accident, last week received a letter from their son, Sgt. Charles DeWitt, who is in Sardinia. Sgt. DeWitt has flown more than forty combat missions since arriving overseas on Christmas day. He writes: "Flying a lot here lately, hitting it a little rough in places, but on the whole, not too bad. Ordinarily forty missions in the Mediterranean theatre would have put me back in the states, but now it's unlimited service." Sgt. DeWitt's last letter was dated June 11.

Pvt. Foster M. Mann has completed his basic training at the Army Air base at Keesler Field, Mississippi, and has been transferred to Scott Field, Ill., where he has started his training as a radio operator and mechanic in the Air Corps. Pvt. Mann has been in the service since April 15, 1944. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Milburn W. Mann, of Oakland.

Technical Sergeant Floyd R. Stiles, 29, son of Dinsmore Stiles, of Albright, W. Va., and formerly employed as a miner by the Stanley Coal Company at Grellin, is the section head of the intelligence office at a P-47 Thunderbolt fighter training station somewhere in England. Sgt. Stiles handles intelligence reports of all kinds and the maintenance of records of all intelligence activity. A library of reading matter for pilots and ground officers is also under his supervision. Sgt. Stiles enlisted September, 1940, and was with the medical corps for five months. Later, transferred into the aviation engineers, he worked as a surveyor in laying out ground for construction of airports. Another transfer in August, 1942, took him into the air corps. A short time later he arrived in England.

Corporal Luther Beachy, with a bomb squadron somewhere in England, has written to say that he receives The Republican paper regularly. He says he has seen "quite a bit of England. I have been to London and many other places of interest. Am just hoping now that this war is over real soon, like all the other boys are wishing and hoping." Cpl. Beachy is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Galen Beachy, of Grantsville.

Sgt. James W. Jenkins, Jr., has arrived safely in India, according to word received by his wife, now employed at the State Department in Washington, D. C. Both Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins are from Altamont.

Sgt. Edward A. "Peck" Faugh, nephew of Miss Katherine E. Shirer, and W. E. Shirer, of Oakland, has been transferred from Memphis, Tenn., to Camp Breckinridge, Ky. He is with an army band unit.

Walter T. Ashby, Crellin, again in the European theatre of war, writes to give his impressions of the new phase of activities over there. "Receiving an issue of The Republican over here is like picking up a telephone receiver and finding long distance is calling from home," he declared.

"I find this trip much more interesting than the first one in some ways, especially since the second front has started. Everyone is doing his utmost and very best. Every soldier is going through something he has never gone through before. As they go across the last strip of water into France and up to the front lines they carry the thoughts of home with them, wondering if it is still the same; what Mother and Dad are thinking of at that very moment. They remember the last furlough at home. All these things come before their eyes just before hitting the front like a passing parade.

"Besides the Republican, the other important thing is letters from home. It means so much to a soldier to receive mail. It is his greatest morale builder."

Cpl. Glenn W. Frantz and wife, Pfc. Maxine Frantz were visiting relatives and friends in and around Oakland and in Aberdeen, the past week. Cpl. Frantz is stationed with the Black Hawk Infantry in Camp Livingston, La., and has been training new recruits there the past several months. He was recently awarded the good conduct medal. His wife is stationed with the Marine Corps at Arlington, Va. They were accompanied to Oakland by the former's mother, Mrs. Dorsey Purnell of Aberdeen, and while here visited at the home of Mrs. Frantz' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Hauser, west of town.

DeCorsey Bolden, U. S. Navy Air Corps, studying under the V-5 program, and stationed at Memphis, Tenn., at the air base there, arrived in Oakland Sunday night to remain several days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emroy Bolden, Second street. He will report for duty again on July 7.

Pfc. Kenneth Crocco has returned to Peaks Island, Portland, Maine, after spending an eleven-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Crocco, at Vindex.

DEATH AND DESTRUCTION—The photographs above show some of the destruction caused by the tornado that swept through Garrett county Friday night. At the top is shown what remains of the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Sebold who resided between Deer Park and Mt. Lake Park. They were killed when the tornado struck and their four children were injured. The bottom picture shows the widespread destruction on the property of Emroy Bolden on the Broadford road about two miles northeast of Oakland. The home in the foreground was completely demolished while the barn in the background was damaged beyond repair.

Completes Gunny School

PVT. CHARLES H. BOWMAN
Pvt. Charles H. Bowman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Bowman, of McHenry, recently was graduated from an aerial gunnery school at Harlingen, Texas, receiving the wings of an aerial gunner and being promoted to private first class. He is now stationed at Clovis, New Mexico, receiving training on the new super-fortresses.

Mrs. Beula Ross, Jennings, has received word that her husband, Pvt. Cecil E. Ross, has arrived somewhere in England.

Mrs. C. E. Ashby, of Grantsville, has received word that her son, Cecil E. Ashby, who is with an ordnance company, U. S. Army, in Italy, has been promoted from staff sergeant to technical sergeant. She also received word from another son, Pfc. Glenn G. Ashby, that he had been transferred from Camp Hale, Colorado, to Camp Swift, Texas.

According to word received at Mt. Lake Park, Corporal Daniel Butler, of the U. S. Army engineering corps, has arrived safely overseas. Corporal Butler is a veteran of World War I.

Corporal Thomas Stevenson, an aerial gunner, located with the Army Air Force at Alameda, New Mexico, is spending several days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Stevenson, Mt. Lake Park.

George Edward Whittington, an Air Cadet Officer while in training at Keesler Field, Mississippi, has been transferred to Lowry Field, Denver, Col., where he is now studying gunnery and electricity. Upon leaving Keesler field he was given a commendation from Major Albert M. Rambo, base commander, for "carrying out duties efficiently, for military bearing, for his military knowledge, for leadership, for his enthusiastic and cooperative attitude." The commendation further stated that Cadet Whittington was "definite officer material." He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Kenneth Whittington, Eighth street.

Tornado Sweeps Destructive Path

before they could reach the place. In the meantime members of the Gus Groves family and Ben Shaffer, neighbors, were locating the people. Mrs. Sebald and one child were found beneath a large tree which had been snapped off at the base. The two older children were in a ditch near the garden beyond the house. Mr. Sebald near the barn beyond the garden, while the baby was found in the wreckage of the house. Apparently he had begun to cry as soon as picked up. All were given first aid treatment by Clyde Shipley, of Mt. Lake Park, and members of the Oakland Fire department worked anxiously through the night wherever they were needed.

Neighbors of stricken families opened their homes to take care of those left homeless. Mr. and Mrs. William Bell and son, whose home on the Mt. Lake Park-Deer Park road was flattened, came to the Irvin R. Rudy home in Oakland. Although they sustained no broken bones they were hardly able to leave their beds the following day.

At the Harry McRobie home on route 219 Mrs. McRobie, Mrs. Raymond McRobie and baby were on a couch when the storm broke. Mr. McRobie and son Raymond McRobie were outside rounding up some cattle. Mrs. McRobie saw an organ coming toward her and about that time the floor began to twist. When it was over the couch was up on the DeBerry hillside, the young mother and baby clear of the wreckage and Mrs. McRobie was able to extricate herself from the debris. She suffered several fractured ribs and was taken to the home of Rev. and Mrs. B. F. Bragg in Oakland. Father and son moved from the car they were in and each lay down and clung to fence posts until the wind subsided.

Around the Bolden farm, a large corn field was completely wrecked and the rain soaked earth carried into the air plastered against the top of telegraph and telephone poles. Clarence Minna said when he saw the storm approaching he started to herd his children and wife into the cellar but was about to open the door when the storm struck which collapsed the house. It required some time to extricate themselves and get to town for aid. Robert Minna, 17, had a fractured leg, and the others escaped serious injury.

The Red Cross immediately began inquiry into the need of stricken individuals and a disaster committee consisting of Delbert Davis, F. E. Kershoun, W. W. Dawson, assisted by Mayor L. M. Frakes of Oakland, made inspection of the area. They arranged, along with Mrs. E. Z. Tower, Red Cross chairman, for furniture, clothing, kitchen equipment, fruit, vegetables, etc., to be brought to the back door of the J. W. Jackson store, or be given out as the needs were investigated. The Girl Scouts under Mrs. Virginia Dawson, leader, made collections of clothing.

Mrs. Russell Brown and Miss Ann Mearns are acting as a relief committee and people who need assistance in any way as a result of the storm are asked to contact them at either 76-R or 267-M.

Some material is also being brought to the Naylor Building on Alder street, opposite Sturgis' Pharmacy. Those in charge stressed that donations should be in good condition and usable and not "cast-offs."

As soon as rehabilitation began to get under way, members of the men's bible class of the Methodist church went to the farm of Walter DeBerry and spent an entire day in cleaning up the area. Neighbors of other families gave their assistance in salvaging what the storm had not blown away, finding a place to care for the cattle, chickens, and other animals that had survived the storm but whose shelters had been flattened.

Have a Coca-Cola = He's coming home tomorrow

...preparing to welcome a returning soldier

When your fighting man returns home, it's the simple joys he seeks... reunion with his family... moments in the living room... a snack and refreshment in the old familiar kitchen... and ice-cold "Coke". So remember to keep some of his favorite snacks and have ice-cold Coca-Cola in the refrigerator. He'll respond as always to the invitation Have a "Coke". In camp or home town, the pause that refreshes is a symbol of a friendly way of living.

It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke".

He Loved His Country . . .

The Editor of The Cumberland News on Tuesday encouraged people to read Washington's "Farewell Address" on the occasion of the observance of the Fourth of July anniversary.

He termed the farewell address of the nation's first president as "one of the most magnificent human documents in existence, a great leader's last best wishes for his fellow countrymen." He continued:

Washington spoke out against factions—"to put in the place of the delegated will of the nation the will of a party, often a small but artful and enterprising minority of the community."

These factions, he wrote, "are likely in the course of time to become potent engines by which cunning, ambitious and unprincipled men will be enabled to subvert the power of the people, and to usurp for themselves the reins of government, destroying afterwards the very engines which have lifted them to unjust dominion. . . . The disorders and miseries which result gradually incline the minds of men to seek security and repose in the absolute power of an individual, and sooner or later the chief of some prevailing faction, more able or more fortunate than his competitors, turns this disposition to the purposes of his own elevation on the ruins of public liberty."

This is the kind of government, he wrote, which "agitates the community with ill founded jealousies and false alarms; kindles the animosity of one part against another. . . . It opens the door to foreign influence and corruption. . . . A fire not to be quenched, it demands a uniform vigilance to prevent its bursting into a flame, lest, instead of warming, it should consume."

He urged, too, the avoidance of encroachment by one governmental department upon another. "The spirit of encroachment," he said, "tends to consolidate the powers of all the departments in one, and thus to create, whatever the form of government, a real despotism."

All this was written to the people of America in 1796—one hundred and forty-eight years ago—by a man who loved his country.

REGULATIONS ON MANPOWER ARE NOW IN EFFECT

Purpose Said To Be To Secure Most Effective Allocation Of Labor Supply For War Production

Regulations governing basic hiring controls for the Western Maryland area under the new national manpower plan which became effective July 1, were announced by Grafton Lee Brown, assistant State director of the War Manpower Commission.

The purpose of the regulations which have been approved by the various management-labor committees in the area, is to secure the most effective allocation of the available labor supply of the area in accordance with the needs of war production, Brown said.

The chief control factor in the new plan, which affects all employers, is that all new male employees must be hired through the United States Employment Service, or in accordance with arrangements approved by it.

Female Regulations Cited

Regulations effective here apply to new female employees in these categories:

1. Who is to be hired for work in a critical occupation or whose statement of availability indicates that her last employment was in a critical occupation.

2. Who has not lived or worked in the locality of the new employment throughout the preceding thirty-day period.

3. Whose last regular employment was in agriculture and who is to be hired for non-agricultural work exceeding six weeks in duration.

Daniel E. Staley, acting WMC area director for Western Maryland, said that United States Employment Service shall take into consideration the qualifications of the worker for the job and the relative priority rating of the job as determined on the recommendation of the manager in each local USES office which will have jurisdiction over the employment to be made.

Storm Damage Repair Fund Made Available

An emergency appropriation of $14,000 to the Department of State Forests and Parks for restoration of Garrett county's forest facilities damaged or destroyed in the recent tornado, was announced Sunday by Governor O'Connor.

Authorized by the Board of Public Works, the appropriation will be used to rebuild three major structures needed by the department. They include one $6,000 dwelling, a barn valued at $3,500, a garage and shop that will cost $1,000 to replace in addition to outbuildings to the value of $3,000.

Besides these structures, the Governor said, the forestry service's intercommunicating telephone line was destroyed over a stretch of five miles. At an estimated cost of $600 per mile, this restoration would approximate $3,000.

In addition to damage to structures a number of trees in the Herrington Manor State forest were destroyed.

State Is Disbanding Minute Men Units

Co. 881, Oakland, Will Assemble Next Wednesday Evening To Receive Final Orders

All companies of the Reserve Militia (Maryland Minute Men) in Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties, have been placed on the inactive list by order of Governor Herbert R. O'Connor, it was announced by Lieut.-Col. William P. Lane, commanding officer of the Eighth Battalion, Reserve Militia of Maryland.

Company 881 is the only company in Garrett county, headed by George H. Hanst, captain, and Edward P. Kahl, lieutenant.

In issuing the order placing the Minute Men on the reserve list, Gov. O'Connor said: "I desire to express my sincere appreciation to each officer and enlisted man for the loyalty and devotion to the State that actuated his service as a member of the Minute Men. Happily, the State has been freed from any disturbance necessitating the use of the militia reserve; nevertheless the willingness and readiness of all concerned to serve in any eventuality merit the highest appreciation of the entire people of the State."

It is tentatively planned to have a final review and assembly of all Minute Men companies in Allegany county about July 30, at which time Lieut.-Col. Lane will attend. All active members and members who have been discharged previously or transferred to the reserve should report to their commanding officer when the date and time is set for the review.

The order of the Governor affects only the 8th Battalion. There were fifteen companies in Allegany county, one in Garrett county and about fifteen in Washington county. The order of the Governor was effective as of June 24.

The Oakland Minute Men company will assemble on Wednesday evening, July 12, at the City Hall at 8 o'clock, to receive final orders and learn about the disposal of property in their possession. It has been announced by Captain Hanst. There are still twenty-seven men listed on the active roll of the local company.

War Bond Lost in Tornado Recovered at Front Royal, Va.

A war bond lost in the recent tornado, belonging to Ethel E. Gower, of Hays Run, W. Va., near Cranberry, has been recovered on the G. H. Somer farm near Front Royal, Va., near Strasburg, it has been learned.

Mr. Somer wrote as follows: "I found a $25.00 war bond on my farm near Front Royal, Va., with your signature on it. Please let me hear from you." The bond was found five days after the storm.

The bond was in the home of her father, Playford Huff. Huff's home was destroyed in the house at the time was his wife, Mrs. Ernie Huff, one daughter, Mrs. Maxine Loughry and son Tony. Two grandchildren, Shirley Ann Gower and Geraldine Siler, Mr. Huff was taken to the Fairmont hospital. Geraldine Siler was taken to the Cumberland hospital. The balance of the family had several bruises and cuts and other injuries.

RED CROSS BUSY WITH REHABILITATION WORK

Headquarters Are in Broadwater Building—Cal Crim Sends $500 Check to Disaster Committee

With national officials of the American Red Cross established here for an indefinite stay, the work of rehabilitation among families left destitute by the recent tornado, is under way.

Sixteen families have registered at the Red Cross headquarters which are in the Broadwater building, in rooms formerly occupied by Dr. R. R. Williams, Robert Sandberg, assistant director of the program for Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Maryland, has been in Oakland for the past several days making a survey of the damage, conferring with members of local families.

He announced that the death list in the entire area had increased to 170, with over 1,000 injured, 500 homes completely destroyed, a like number damaged, and 600 to 700 other buildings destroyed or badly damaged.

Miss Janet M. Long, who has her headquarters here, is in charge of the work in Tucker, Garrett and Grant counties, and Mrs. Edith Tetlock, nursing representative is with her. Local volunteers have been on duty daily.

The rooms are open daily from 9 a. m. to 7 p. m., and officials stressed that all who need assistance should register and make a statement of their losses. The phone number is 235.

Mr. Sandberg said that an advisory committee of seven persons from the county would be named to review cases relative to giving awards and to advise Red Cross officials, so that all who needed any assistance would be given such.

Makes Gift of $500

D. Cal Crim, of Cincinnati, Ohio, a former resident here, has sent a check of $500, in memory of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Crim, to be used for the benefit of these people whose lives and property were destroyed or damaged during the recent tornado.

The check was received by the disaster committee which is composed of F. E. Rathbun, L. M. Fraley, Delbert Davis and W. W. Dawson, and Mr. Rathbun said the money would be expended where the Red Cross was unable to do so. The check has been placed in the hands of J. M. Jarboe, treasurer of the Red Cross, to be expended under the guidance of the Red Cross.

The committee, in a letter to Mr. Crim has thanked him for this expression of generosity. Mr. Crim is head of the Crime Detective Bureau in Cincinnati.

Youths Are Wounded in Separate Accidents

Two youths received wounds in separate accidents during the past week. Tommy Wainer, Green street, and William Grimes, Mountain Lake Park, were the victims.

Wainer, 11 years old, and "Chickie" Sineell, 6, of Fairmont, West Va., had some 22 calibre cartridges and while throwing stones at one of them it discharged, the bullet striking the Wainer boy in the right shoulder. An x-ray showed no trace of the bullet and it is supposed it struck a bone and came out again. He received surgical aid and an anti-tetanus injection was administered.

The Grimes youth, 15 years old, received a wound in his right hand when he was engaged in loading an old revolver belonging to his late father and had the muzzle of the gun pressed against the palm of his right hand when the explosion of the gun occurred. The bullet cut a path through a part of his hand and wrist and had to be extracted by a local physician. He also was given an anti-tetanus injection.

City Council Had Quiet Session Monday Evening

Jacob L. Kinsinger Is Found Dead Near His Home at Casselman

Body Is Discovered In Casselman River; Death Termed As Being Accidental

Jacob L. Kinsinger, aged 74 years, of Casselman, near Grantsville, was found dead early last Friday morning in the Casselman River. Dr. E. L. Baumgartner, Oakland coroner, declared that death was accidental.

Mr. Kinsinger, a retired farmer, made his home with his son-in-law, Bruce Folk, a telephone linesman. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Bruce Folk and Mrs. Dan Folk, both of Casselman, and five sons, Orval Kinsinger, Casselman; Elmer Kinsinger, Confluence, Pa.; Daniel, Clarence and Lester Kinsinger, Casselman, also by thirty grandchildren. Mr. Kinsinger's wife died four years ago.

According to Officer Blair Buckel of the State Police at Grantsville, Mr. Kinsinger's body was found by his son-in-law, Bruce Folk, at about 7:30 o'clock Friday morning. He was fully dressed and had apparently risen at an early hour to take a walk, for his bed was made and his room was in order.

Funeral services were held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the Mennonite church in Grantsville where Mr. Kinsinger was a life-long member.

Car On Fire; Pocketbook Lost, But Found By Honest Man

An honest man turned a series of misfortunes into a fortunate ending on the fourth of July.

Mrs. J. H. McAfee, Pittsburgh, who has a cottage on the Red Run area of Deep Creek Lake, accompanied by her daughter and baby, had the first misfortune of having her car suddenly ablaze, while enroute to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Brennan, who have a cottage on the Glendale road section of the lake.

Passerby helped to extinguish the fire which was slight. Upon reaching the Brennan cottage it was discovered that Mrs. McAfee's pocketbook, containing a large sum of money, valuable papers, etc., was missing. Upon returning to look for it, it was discovered that Mr. Sidney Lewis who lives near McConas Beach, had found the purse with contents intact, and was preparing to make a search for the owner.

Many Vacationers Now at Deep Creek

Deep Creek Lake, 10 miles north of the lake cabin, and cottages have been filled and privately owned cottages are mostly all occupied.

Three-day tourist fishing licenses which cost $1.75 have been selling in a lively manner and 300 licenses were sold in a three-day period by Elmer Haulbeck, warden at the lake.

Good catches of black and rock bass, crappies, catfish and bluegill have been reported by anglers.

Some restrictions have been lifted on gasoline for motorboats and as a consequence many motorboats are back on the lake, reminding people somewhat of pre-war days.

Reservations at practically all of the lake cabins and cottages have been filled and privately owned cottages are mostly all occupied.

Quite a number of people are also at Mt. Lake Park for their vacations.

Maryland is leading other states in 5th war loan purchases, in comparison with its quota. It was over its quota 21 percent.

Rains Also Cause Damage To Farms In Recent Storm

Not all the damage to farms, resulting from last week's storm, was done by wind, according to the Supervisors of the Garrett Soil Conservation District.

Practically the entire northern end of the county had a very heavy rain-storm at the time of the tornado. The damage by run off of the rainfall was not spectacular, it was stated. Few large gullies were cut in the hillsides, but many tons of good topsoil were washed from corn, potato and grain fields. Most of the damage was done by sheet and rill erosion—a little soil washed from all parts of the field, and rills from 2 to 5 inches cut where the water accumulated to flow over a cultivated field.

In many instances, even where large amounts of soil were removed, the first cultivation following the storm filled and smoothed the rills, so that the fields now look much the same as before; but farmers who took a good look at their fields know that the soil removed is gone forever, according to William Nace, soil conservationist here.

The supervisors also pointed out that large quantities of lime and fertilizer were washed away with the soil. Several farmers voiced their disgust at having bought and applied large quantities of fertilizing materials only to see the bulk of them taken downstream in a single rain, and stated their determination to prevent the recurrence of such losses.

Helping prevent these losses is one of the principal aims of the Soil Conservation District, which is in a position to furnish technical assistance to help farmers plan and lay out the contour strip cropping, diversion terraces and other measures designed to keep the soil where it belongs. This assistance can be obtained by getting in touch with anyone of the Supervisors, the County Agent, who is secretary to the board, or with the District Conservationist's office.

Members of the board of supervisors are Harry Porter, Oakland; Paul M. Friend, Oakland; Emerson Bishop, Friendsville; John Beachy, Grantsville; and Foster Vost, Accident.

Tony Sullivan, Miner Of Kitzmiller Is Killed Instantly

Tony Patrone Sullivan, aged 31, motorman for Pritts Brothers, coal operators at Kitzmiller was instantly killed shortly after seven o'clock on last Friday morning when the motor he was preparing to take into the mine ran over the upper part of his body.

There was no witness to the accident, but officers and company officials who investigated, said Sullivan apparently slipped and fell from the motor and as he fell some part of his body struck the control lever and threw the motor into full speed. He fell directly in the path of the moving machine and his death was almost instantaneous.

Sullivan was a son of the late Tony and Grace Patrone Sullivan and lived in Kitzmiller most of his life. His father, an Italian, came to this country from Italy and took the name of Sullivan. Other members of the family later dropped the name of Sullivan, but Tony continued to use it.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Fannie DeWalt Sullivan, two sons, Tony, Jr., 11, and Vernon Lee, 9; four sisters, Mrs. Jennie Braace, Greensburg, Pa.; Mrs. Rose Scott and Mrs. Jonas Sweeney, Washington, D. Desire For Storm News Brings Out Record Run Of Newspapers

The desire for news and pictures about the recent tornado in this section was so great that The Republican made a record run of last Thursday's issue.

The editors calculated that there would be some calls for extra papers, but were in no way prepared for the deluge of the past week.

Ordinarily there are approximately 200 copies of The Republican sold at the Hamill book store. A call was sent in Thursday evening for more papers and an additional 100 were sent to the store; then another call Friday morning for more. Customers in the meantime were swarming in The Republican office for more papers.

With the press run standing at 3,810 the forms were removed, but by the time they had been taken to the second floor, or composing room, the calls became so numerous that the editors condensed all the storm news and pictures into two pages and 350 additional "specials" were printed on the smaller press in the composing room. None of these specials remained after Monday evening.

So all in all there were 4,160 copies of The Republican containing the storm news, of which number 600 were sold at the Hamill store and the rest mailed out to our regular subscribers.

FOR THE RECIPE FILE

Casserole of Chicken with Vegetables
Four to five pound chicken; salt and pepper; flour; 2 tablespoons butter or other fat; 3 carrots; 1 bunch celery; 1 onion; 1 green pepper; 1 cup hot water; 1 cup milk. Cut up fowl, season with salt and pepper, sprinkle with flour, and brown in the fat in a frying pan. Remove the browned pieces to a casserole.

Chop the vegetables, and pour them into the frying pan to let them absorb the browned fat. Then transfer them to the casserole with the chicken, add a cup of hot water, and cover.

Cook in a slow oven 275 degrees F. for 2 to 4 hours, or until the bird is tender. Add more water from time to time, if necessary.

Just before serving, remove the pieces of fowl, and skim off excess fat from the mixture of broth and vegetables. Mix 2 tablespoons of this fat with an equal quantity of flour and add with the milk to the contents of the casserole. Cook for 10 minutes longer, season to taste, and pour vegetable sauce over the food, or replace the pieces of meat in the sauce and serve from the casserole.

Strawberry Shortcake
One quart strawberries, sugar, 1½ cups sifted flour, 2½ teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 1-½ cup butter or other shortening, 1 egg, 1-3 cup milk.

Hull and wash berries. Slice or cut in halves or quarters. Put aside 1 cupful. To the remainder add 1-½ to 2 cup of sugar, mix well and let stand at room temperature while preparing shortcakes. This is the sauce. Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in fat, add slightly beaten egg and milk all at once and stir in vigorously and very quickly. Mix just long enough to moisten the dry ingredients. Turn out onto a floured board and knead lightly for no longer than a few seconds. Roll out into a long narrow rectangle (about ¼ inch thick and 3 inches wide). Cover with the 1 cupful of unsweetened berries and sprinkle with 3 tablespoons sugar. Roll up like a jelly roll and cut into 6 slices. Bake on a greased baking sheet in a very hot oven 450 degrees F. for 12 to 15 minutes. Serve warm with the sauce and ice cream, if desired. Six servings.

NO RATIONING OF FREEDOM

By Ruth Taylor
There are so many definitions for freedom. It is what you call an alluring word—because it means all things to all people.

Ask the small boy on a spring day and he'll answer you promptly, "No school, and the fish biting." Ask the seahunter, he'll say, "A fat neighbor who will not struggle against my divine right to take what I want."

Ask the pioneer, and he will say, "Uncluttered horizons and a chance to make my own way." Ask the idealist, and he will say, "A new world where all may share of the bounties of the earth." Ask the religious man, and he will say, "A life in which I may worship my God according to my own conscience and obey His holy laws."

Why are there so many definitions? Because freedom is not a static thing. It is not a rule but a way of life. It is an obligation. It is determined by our relationship to other people. Only the hermit can be free alone. Freedom in a civilized community is the way of life that demands intelligent followers.

Freedom does not include the right to carry poison, to talk against our neighbor, to judge him by his ancestors of his kindred. Only by his companions, may we ever condemn him. Freedom carries with it a belief in the dignity and sacredness of every human being. "For all—Jew and Gentile, rich and poor—there should be unrationed brotherhood." is the slogan of one free community. Freedom must demonstrate to the world that a diversity of culture strengthens our nation, feeding with fresh water the springs of national life.

Freedom is justice and we must remember that in a court of justice a man is honest until proven otherwise. Judgment is not passed on what others have done. Judge not thy neighbors by others. There are good and bad in every creed and more good than bad.

One man's freedom is another man's freedom—whether it be in America, in China, in Norway or in darkest Africa. No man is really free unless all men are free. No man's home is safe unless all men's homes are safe.

What is freedom to you? Think it over carefully and then apply it to your fellowmen, to your brother. It must fit you both, or it is not freedom.

Protection Against Typhoid Strongly Urged By Dr. Riley

State Health Officer Says Vaccination Is Likely To Be Typhoid Fever Time

"Vacation time is likely to be typhoid fever time, according to Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Department of Health. The summer months, when swimming, camping and picnics are at their height, are usually accompanied by the year's highest incidence of this disease.

"Immunization against typhoid fever is strongly recommended for persons of all ages who want to enjoy warm weather activities secure from the threat of this disease. Protection is achieved by three inoculations, usually given one week apart. The treatment should be repeated every three years, because the immunity conferred does not ordinarily last longer than three years. If you have not been vaccinated against this disease since 1941 inoculations are, therefore, in order. Ideally the 'shots' should be taken somewhat in advance of your outdoor vacation, for the immunity requires time to establish itself thoroughly.

"Improved sanitation, it is true, has gone far to lower the incidence of typhoid fever in recent years. It is known that every case develops as a result of consuming milk, food or water contaminated with human excreta containing the disease-producing germs. Sometimes such discharges come from a patient ill with typhoid fever and sometimes from an apparently normal carrier, a person who has had the disease and, after recovery, continues to discharge its germs. Control measures to insure safe food and milk and a pure public water supply, together with supervision of known carriers, have made typhoid fever far less prevalent than in the past.

"In spite of these community safeguards, personal immunization should not be neglected," Dr. Riley warns. "However careful you and the health authorities may try to be, there is the possibility of infection from some unsuspected source, particularly during the summer when people are often lured into remote places, away from approved water supplies. By all means go to your doctor or to the nearest clinic for vaccination against typhoid fever."

Symbol Of Victory?

This may or may not be a symbol of victory for the Allies in the very near future, but James Lewis of a number of his family found a small rock one day last week on his property, right where the water drains from the roof of his dwelling, and the rock was a distinct "V" in shape. The lines are about 2 3/4 inches long and about 3/4 of an inch in thickness. At least it makes a good paper weight.

AUDITORIUM WHERE MEETINGS ARE HELD

The Mt. Lake Park Holiness Camp Meeting opened its 62nd annual sessions Friday evening, June 30, at 8 o'clock. Dr. Harry Denman, secretary of the general commission on Evangelism of the Methodist church, is one of the evangelists. Meetings from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m. each day through July 9th.

DR. HARRY DENMAN,
EvangelistIs Imperative That Black Market Gas
Be Eliminated At Once

"A restriction of tetra-ethyl lead in civilian gasoline makes it even more imperative that the black market in gasoline coupons be stamped out," A. Clarke Bedford, chairman, Petroleum Industry Committee on Rationing for District One, comprising the Atlantic Seaboard States, said today, pointing out the significance of Petroleum Administrator Ickes' order cutting premium gasoline about 60 percent during forthcoming months.

Bedford pointed out that "this is a significant indication of the tremendous demands of the armed forces for gasoline — a vital war product. Premium grade gasoline is required by tanks and other mobile equipment used by the Army. The American motorist is undoubtedly more than willing to make this additional wartime sacrifice by switching to regular grade and releasing equivalent supplies of tetra-ethyl lead to the armed forces."

He also said: "It is imperative for the motorist to do even more — and that is, to confine his driving to the coupons issued him by the ration board and thereby kill the black market operations in gasoline coupons which are actually diverting to the chiselers gasoline needed for necessary war workers."

He urged motorists to follow the Petroleum Industry's four point anti-black market program. The points direct car owners to:

1. Apply only for ration coupons for essential driving;
2. Write license number and State on the face of each ration coupon;
3. Refuse gasoline without surrendering coupon;
4. Refuse to buy or accept gasoline coupons from others.

DIARY OF THE WAR

FRIDAY—Reds overwhelmed Bork, last "Fatherland Line" fortress before the White Russian capital of Minsk. In less than a week Reds had occupied more than 25,000 square miles of territory, while trapping or wiping out ten Hitler divisions. Reds also completely cleared supply railroad from Murnansk down to Leningrad. In France fierce fighting raged on three sides of Caen. All German counter attacks were repulsed. Bombers blasted aircraft production centers, oil refineries and other German targets. American troops in Italy advanced against strong German resistance. Jap opposition was still strong on Saipan, but Nafutan Point on the southeastern edge was taken by the American troops. Americans have destroyed over 12,000 Jap planes since war began. Yank bombers hit Hengyang in China, indicating that Japs had captured that place.

SATURDAY—Soviets reported 152,000 Germans killed and 51,000 prisoners in White Russia offensive. Allies claimed 70,000 killed or captured on French invasion front. Reds stormed across Berezina river. Allies tightened clamps around Caen. 120 miles from Paris, U. S. broke off relations with Finland. Nazis reported Americans lost 9,752 on Saipan, with 1,474 of them dead. Nazis were declared in full flight along battle line north of Rome. Allied bombers were on 3,000 sorties over enemy territory. Chinese were reported still holding Hengyang. Chinese troops advanced in Burma.

SUNDAY—Reds took Borisov and tightened grip on Minsk; took 500 other places in White Russia along 70 mile front. British in France smashed four Nazi counter attacks while Yanks took Cape Hargue position on Chongchong peninsula. Nazis still maintained their unceasing attacks of robot planes on southern England. Fifteen thousand Danish patriots were reported ready to fight. Nazis continued to fall back on Italian line. Japs launched the long-expected offensive northward from Canton area in effort to split China. Yanks continued to punch out gains in mountains of Saipan.

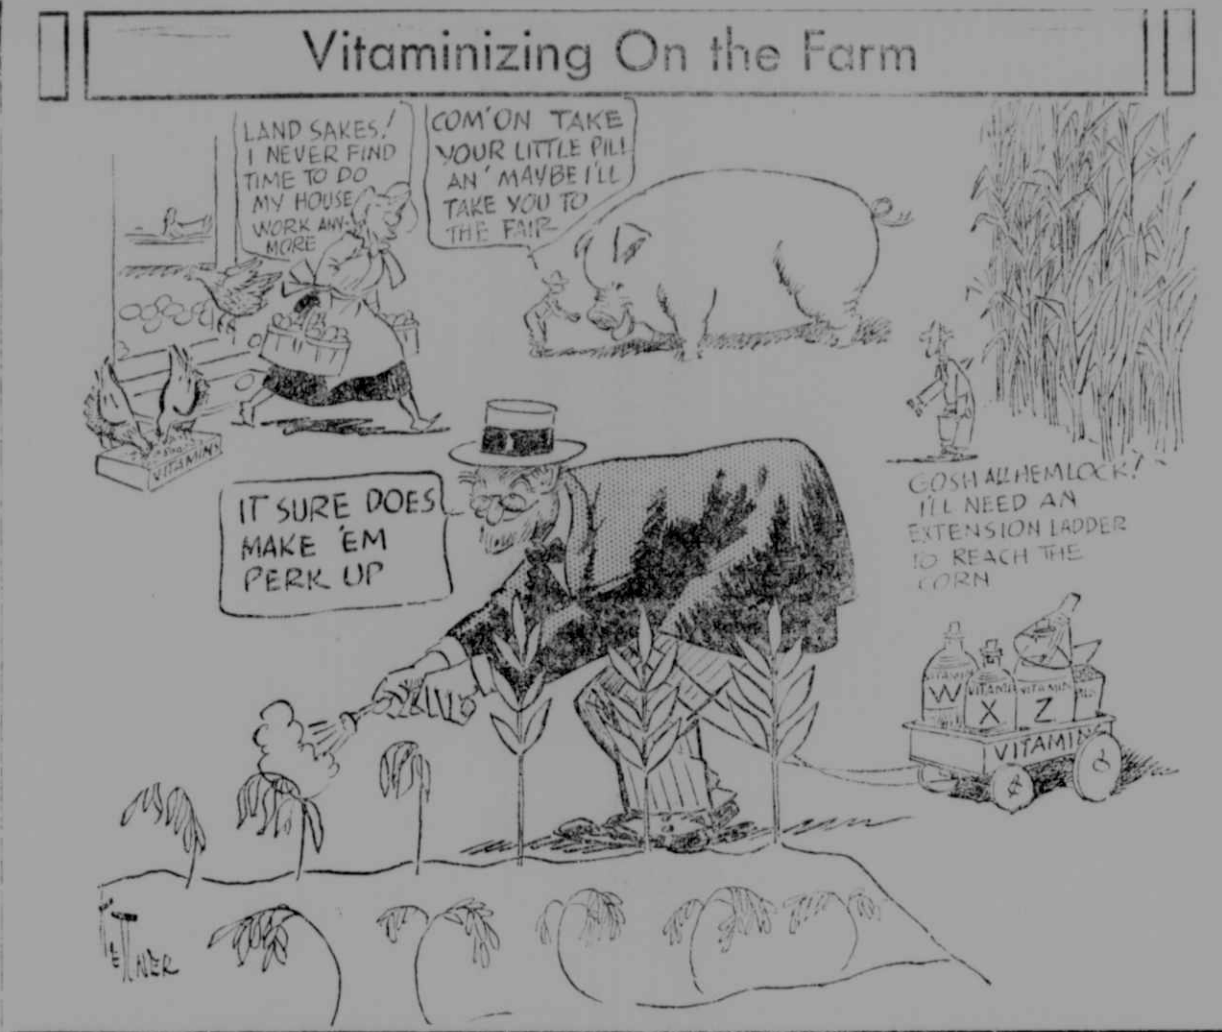

MONDAY—German assaults against British-held Caen sector dwindled following heavy losses. Red forces closed in around Minsk, cutting two main escape railroads into Poland. American infantrymen in Italy captured Cecina, 20 miles from Livorno. French columns pushed to 31 miles below Florence. British on Adriatic side occupied Loreto, 12 miles south of Ancona. Big bombers pounded Calais, while Italy-based planes hit oil refineries, rail yards, etc., in Balkan countries. Japs were being pushed back on Saipan. Force fighting still raged inside Hengyang, encircled railway junction in southeastern China. It was announced Chongchong would soon be in use again, this time as port for the Allies.

TUESDAY—Reds captured Minsk, last major city that Germans had held on Soviet soil and took more than 1150 other places, including Polotsk, 120 miles northeast of Minsk. Possibly 200,000 Germans were in that area. Capture of Minsk was seen as speeding the day of final victory and made probable that Reds would be on German soil in two weeks. It was predicted that Germany's once mighty air force was facing extinction as a result of systematic bombing by the Allies. French entered Siena in Italy as foe pulled out, leaving the city practically undamaged. Yanks launched a new offensive in Normandy area. British continued their push around Caen. Breast peninsula was hammered by RAF. Saboteurs and guerrillas were taking a heavy toll of Nazis in Denmark and France. American troops under MacArthur landed on Noemfoor island, off Dutch New Guinea, and captured the airborne with little opposition. Yanks were closing in on Saipan. Japs were beaten off in Burma and a bloody battle was on in China against Jap stab along north-south rail line.

WEDNESDAY—Russians continued their drive toward Warsaw and Baltic states, and German prisoner total swelled to over 125,000. Reds were less than 150 miles from East Prussia. Allies gained two to four miles on Normandy front. Americans captured high ground outside La Haye du Puits and at opposite end of bridgehead Canadians stormed a town west of Caen. About 5,000 Allied war planes ranged over France to smash military targets and support ground troops. American heavies from Italy were also busy. Yanks in Italy were with artillery range of German Gothic defense line. Chinese asserted Japs were using mustard gas at Hengyang.

British captured a Jap base north of Imphal in India. Americans captured German on Saipan and pushed remaining Japs to northern tip of island. Bombing attacks were made against other islands in neighborhood. Planes also raided Bonin islands. Yanks also gained ground on Noemfoor island off New Guinea, having taken one airstrip with two more to go.

THURSDAY—Russian tanks and infantry swept close to Baltic states and Germans abandoned Kovel, 175 miles from Warsaw. Reds took town 40 miles northwest of Minsk. Americans in Normandy fought in streets of La Haye du Puits. Canadians were driven from captured airfield but held Capriquet, 3 miles west of Caen. Allied warplanes were aiding ground forces and heavies were all over the target area. Both Americans and British gained on both coasts in Italy. Marines and soldiers on Saipan prepared for final blow at Japs. Tokyo reported that a task force continued powerful strikes in Bonin and Volcano islands. Chinese retained hold on Hengyang. In Burma area Chinese were only 25 miles from junction with Stillwell troops. Sinking of 25 additional Jap ships by subs was announced.

Oakland Woman Tames a Flicker

Mrs. Delbert Davis has added a special new friend to her list in recent days. During the recent storms a young flicker was blown from its nest near the Davis home.

The bird was given food and shelter and now at Mrs. Davis' call will fly down from a tree or wire and perch on her arm. One time it landed in her hair, according to neighbors, but she asserts that was because of untidy waves.

Seeing is believing. In this case the writer believes because he actually saw the performance.

35 Lots Are Sold at Lake

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT.

The Wallace Controversy

To be frank about it, the big reason for the exceedingly deep feeling concerning the renomination of Vice-President Wallace as Mr. Roosevelt's fourth-term running mate is that, in the event of the election of the Roosevelt-Wallace ticket, Mr. Wallace's chances of becoming President before the term is over are considered greater than they were in 1940.

This is too obvious to need argument. For one thing, should Mr. Wallace be reelected, he would be 63 years old soon after his inauguration, instead of 59 as in 1940. For another, while there is nothing in the least serious the matter with him, he has been forced to slow down, see fewer people and do less work. Under order of his physicians he is taking better care of himself. And the whole White House is trying to spare him all unnecessary labor. Naturally, this has given rise to speculation concerning the situation should he be reelected. It has been suggested, for example, that after the war against Germany has been won Mr. Roosevelt might resign, devoting himself to the making of peace and accepting direction of the post-war League of Nations. Or he might find himself physically unable to cope with the terribly difficult post-war domestic problems and be compelled to relinquish the Presidency to save his health. Either of these suggestions fits in with the claim of his friends that he really doesn't want to be President again and is running only because of his belief that his continuance is essential to the winning of the war.

Of course, if elected, Mr. Roosevelt may retain his full strength and serve another term (he then would be only 67) with unimpaired virility. But, it must be admitted that, for one reason effected. A worker may be referred to other than essential or locally needed jobs only:

Regulations On Manpower Are

When the worker is not needed for any essential jobs in the area;

When the worker is not able to accept essential jobs outside the area; or

When there is justifiable ground for the refusal or referral to an essential job.

Worker Given Choice

In case there are two or more job openings of the same priority rating for which the worker is equally qualified, he will be entitled to a free choice among such job openings.

Refusal to accept referral to a job opening does not immediately result against an applicant, Staley said. However, if a worker refuses referral on grounds other than those permitted under the United States Employment service standards, he subsequently may be referred only to jobs in the highest category of priority in which there is a current opening in his occupation (or a related skill).

Employers Obligated To Comply

Employers are obligated to comply with the War Manpower Commission regulations in order to have workers referred to their establishment. He shall not arbitrarily or unreasonably discharge such workers or refuse to hire any qualified worker so referred, and shall refrain from using the employee on a job beneath the skill level to which he was referred, or on less urgent production.

"Manpower priority may be refused to an establishment if there is evidence that the establishment requesting priority is not making reasonable efforts to solve its own manpower problems," Mr. Staley said. The regulations on the other hand "provide that priority ratings shall be reviewed at the request of the employer, and that they may be revised whenever necessary to meet changed conditions or circumstances."

Milham W. Mann, local office manager of the United States Employment Service, who attended the meeting of all state United States Employment Service managers in Baltimore last week to discuss application of the new regulations under the national system, said that several changes have been made in the office setup and in procedures in order to facilitate the handling of the increased load of employer orders and applicants for jobs, and that prompt service would be given every inquiry.

These regulations will affect practically all employers in Garrett county who employ male labor, and certain employers of female labor, Mr. Mann stated.

Employers of labor are requested to cooperate with the Oakland office in the administration of the new program by giving all employees a statement of availability who are separated from their employment, and instructing all persons applying for employment to visit the Oakland office for information before they can be hired.

Unemployed persons are requested to visit the local office for information on job opportunities.

Offered FHA Facilities

Families stricken by the recent tornado in Garrett county were offered the facilities of the Federal Housing Administration in financing the restoration of their homes and farm properties, it was announced yesterday.

The maximum amount for repair or restoration under provisions of the National Housing act is $2,500, repayable over a period of three years. Families who have to build entirely new homes may borrow up to $5,000, repayable in twenty-five years.

Buick motors has completed 50,000 bomber motors.

Some Vegetables

Back On Ration List

The Office of Price Administration ordered the restoration of ration point values for canned peas, tomatoes and asparagus, and dropped a broad hint that other vegetables now ration-free may require points again soon.

OPA assigned a value of five points for No. 2 cans of peas and tomatoes. Asparagus goes back on the list at ten points.

Other canned vegetables still ration free are green and wax beans, beets, carrots, corn, spinach and leafy greens.

Other processed food changes for the period through July 29 include the return of brandied, spiced and pickled fruits to rationing. They get the same point values as other canned fruits.

Spaghetti sauce and tomato sauce in eight-ounce containers are reduced a point, but vegetable juice combinations in forty-six ounce cans get a new value of five points, up from four.

All canned fruits, still in short supply, retain their current high values, while all frozen fruits and vegetables remain ration-free.

Fighting this war and getting ready for it has cost the nation $199 billion since July 1, 1940, or over $140 billion a day.

The church auditorium was decorated with white candles, rhododendron and evergreen, while the altar was banked with white gladioli, white snapdragons and larkspur against a background of native spruce.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her maternal grandfather, Mr. Isaac Colbantz, of Peru, Ind., was attired in white marquisette and lace, with a veil flowing from a tiara and lace cap. She wore a strand of pearls which was a gift of the groom, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and larkspur.

The maid of honor was the bride's sister, Miss Ruth Marjorie Scrogum, who wore a pink appliqued marquisette and a headpiece of pink net and larkspur. She wore her maternal grandmother's pearls and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses and blue larkspur.

The groom had as his best man the Rev. Samuel Flora, pastor of the North Baltimore Church of the Brethren, Baltimore. Ushers were Gerald Guyton, Boonsboro; Eugene Schlossnagle, Accident; Herman Miller, of Bridgewater, Va., and William Bane, Camp Bowie, Md. The groom, best man and ushers wore dark navy blue suits, maroon ties and white boutonnières.

The bride's mother wore a gown of orchid jersey with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The marriage ceremony was performed by the bride's father, Rev. Scrogum, assisted by the bride's uncle, the Rev. David Landis, pastor of the Dupont Church of the Brethren, Continental, Ohio.

The organist, Miss Ruth Weybright, of Bridgewater, Va., played "Liebestraum," "To a Wild Rose," "Intermezzo," and Schubert's "Serenade" before the ceremony. The traditional wedding marches were played, and an arrangement of "Tonight We Love" was played during the ceremony. Mrs. John Nipe, of Hyattsville, sang "I Love Thee," by Grieg, and "Because" prior to the ceremony and Malotte's "The Lord's Prayer" at the conclusion.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents where a buffet luncheon was served to the wedding party and to the immediate families.

Bow Your Heads

THIS is Invasion! Now in the hearts, brains and muscles of our American Youth lies the future of our country.

Bow your heads. Pray with millions of mothers the country over, as their hearts reach out over the seas, each one seeking out her boy, to protect him with the shield of her love.

Believe that in this world there is definite strength in decency and honor. Believe that in our devotion there is moral force. Believe that our will to victory will aid that victory.

Seek and ye shall find!

Let us seek added strength and fortitude for our men in our own sacrifice and devotion.

Let us focus every thought, every action, and every prayer on the boys fighting for us.

And, while each one bends to his task with ever-growing fervor and energy, let us adopt a common symbol as our faith in Victory.

Let that Symbol be War Bonds. Let us pour our money in a gigantic flood of goodwill toward our sons and brothers, as a spiritual shield for them.

This is the Invasion. The lives of our boys are at stake. Let them see that the Soul of America is with them.

Let it not be too late . . . not next month, next week, or tomorrow, but today . . . now.

TAKING POSSESSION OF CANAAN

LESSON TEXT—Joshua 14:6-14; Judges 1:26-27.

GOLDEN TEXT—Thou hast wholly followed the Lord—Joshua 14:9.

Companions in battle usually mean friends and comrades for life. Joshua, of whom we studied last week, had such a friend in Caleb. Together they had faced the crisis of life.

Caleb is one of the characters about whom the Bible does not say much, but in every case the word is one revealing high and noble character. Consider such passages as Numbers 13:6, 30, 14:7-9, 24, 30; 25:5, as well as our lesson for today.

The background for our study is the story of Caleb's courageous stand with Joshua when the spies returned from their visit to Canaan, which is related in Numbers 13.

Note first of all Caleb's

I. Perfect Obedience (Josh. 14:6-8).

"I wholly followed the Lord my God," said a testimony from a man like Caleb is no idle boast, no effort to parade his faith and piety before others. In saying it he was repeating what God and Moses had both said about him. In his heart he knew it to be true.

It is God's will for each of His children that they should come to such a place of simple trust and complete obedience that in every circumstance of life they need to know only one thing—God's will, and then in faith to go and do it. It is a life beautiful in its transparent simplicity and powerful in the strength of God Himself.

II. Promised Inheritance (v. 9).

"Surely the land whereon thy feet have trodden shall be thine inheritance," said the promise of God through Moses. Forty-five long years had elapsed, but down through this period of wilderness wanderings and the conflict in subduing Canaan the promise had lived in Caleb's heart. He knew it would be fulfilled, and he waited serenely for God's time.

Such also are the promises of God which keep the heart singing in our hours of trial and sorrow, which light up the dark ways, which strengthen the heart of His children. Learn God's promises, cherish them in your heart, expect God to fulfill them.

III. Preserved Strength (vv. 10, 11).

"The Lord hath kept me alive . . . and I am . . . strong." There was a man kept of God, in full vigor in his eighty-fifth year, "like a rock in a chattering sea, like a snow-capped peak in a change of cloud and storm and sun" (Meyer). No doubt there was here what our forefathers liked to call "the longevity of the antediluvians"; but even apart from that, let us recognize that life and strength come from God, and that those who walk with Him in holy living may count on Him for the renewed strength of Psalm 103:5.

An incidental but extremely important lesson we should learn is that God has no age deadline. The church has frequently sinned against Him and against His faithful servants by "selecting them" for younger men, when they would have brought blessing if the church had encouraged and used them. The writer of these lines is a young man, but he would speak here a word of being admiration regarding his honored brethren who have gone on before to bear the brunt of the battle.

IV. Powerful Assurance (vv. 12-15; Judg. 1:26-27).

"If the Lord will be with me, then I shall be able," Caleb asked for no easy task. He was ready to go up against the giants of Hebron. Read Deuteronomy 3:11, and you will find that there were men in those days who needed thirteen-foot beds. But Caleb was not afraid. He counted not on his own strength, but on the power of God.

It is significant that, while the other sections of Canaan were only partially conquered, Caleb brought his formidable adversaries entirely under control, so that "the land had rest from war" (v. 15). The verses in Judges 1 indicate that Caleb was as good as his word. He was a doer, a God-fearing 85-year-old. His faith is here contrasted with the shameful unbelief and failure of Israel.

The spiritual application to our day is evident and appropriate. There are giants in the land. Corruption—social and individual—frays its brazen head. Drunkenness and vice leer at us with the impudent suggestion that we cannot control them.

There are giants "within us"—greed, selfishness, love of ease, lust, passion, cruelty" (Blaikie).

Are we to do nothing about them? If we are to meet them in the strength of the flesh, we might as well do nothing. But in the power of God, we are like Caleb—able. In His name we may do something about them for His glory.

Program Mapped Out
To Stamp Out Black Market Operations

The Petroleum Industry committee on rationing for Maryland, met in Baltimore on June 21st, set in motion an intensive program to cooperate with the Government in stamping out the black market operations which have been stealing more than 2,500,000 gallons of automotive gasoline daily.

Mr. P. S. Cochran, Chairman of the committee for Maryland, stressed the importance of stamping out the black market.

"Gasoline is one of the principal weapons of this war," he said. "It is playing a tremendously important part in the battle of Europe and soon will play an even more important one. Naturally, military needs come first, but misuse of our limited home supply robs millions of longer our economy, war workers, and others who must use a limited amount of gasoline. Slowing down the war effort at home actually jeopardizes the lives of our fighting men. The Government, the public and every employee of the Petroleum Industry must cooperate to stamp out the black market in gasoline."

The Petroleum Industry Committee on Rationing announced the appointment of a Chairman for every county in the state. The Chairman for this county is E. A. Conroy, Field Supervisor, Standard Oil Co., of New Jersey, of Oakland, Md. The county committee will acquaint all dealers with the facts about the black market and organize them to combat this menace.

Mr. Conroy spoke before the Lions club on Monday night outlining the dangers of the black market counterfeits and will also speak before the Rotarians on Friday evening.

Tennis Club Is Formed At Mt. Lake Park

Something tangible has been done to Mountain Lake Park's decaying recreational activities.

A meeting was held Monday, July 3, at the Mountain Lake Hotel by the new Mountain Lake Park Tennis club in an effort to make use of abandoned tennis courts. A committee was formed and its officers were elected.

J. P. Beacons, Fairmont, was appointed president; F. C. Wright, Jr., Washington, and G. Deacon, Clarksville, W. Va., were elected vice-presidents; Mrs. J. A. Holloway, of Wheeling, in treasurer, and Mrs. June D. Grimes, of Mt. Lake Park, secretary.

The board of directors includes Congressman Jennings Randolph, Elkins, W. Va.; A. D. Naylor, Oakland; Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, Oakland; A. Taylor, Cincinnati, O.; and Mayor H. L. Bittner, of the Park.

Work on the courts is under way and will be completed in two weeks. All five courts will be repaired, grass cut, club house repaired and grandstand renewed.

Contributions for the project were given last year by an organization named "The Mountain Laker's", and also from new members of the tennis club. The cost for the new undertaking is estimated to be $300.

The three tournament courts will be used by adults while the other two will be reserved for children.

It is hoped by the members that they will be able to arrange an informal tournament for Labor Day.

There is no fee for the use of the courts, so everyone is welcome to use them.

A REAFFIRMATION OF LOYALTY

By RUTH TAYLOR

On this Fourth of July, the one hundred and sixtieth anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, it is fitting that we pause and take stock of what this cornerstone of our American way of life really means, that we reaffirm our loyalty to those things in which we believe.

The Declaration of Independence was much more than a proclamation emanating from the thirteen colonies from the mother country. It was the first statement of a new philosophy of freedom, a long range program by which and through which to establish a government of the people, by the people and for the people.

The Declaration of Independence was the credo through adherence to which we became the first self-constituted People — not brought together by race, by national origin or by any one religious belief, but bound together by an acceptance of the practical ideal of the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man, which is the cornerstone of freedom, the basis of all monotheistic faiths, be it Catholicism, Judaism or Protestantism.

The price of freedom has always been high. But its price is never too high for those who have known what enslavement meant. Voluntarily we have given up much in money, in time, and in many of the things we had come to look upon as essential. The toll in patience, courage and long suffering has been great — but the sacrifices are mutual sacrifices, demanded from all for all. The only real weapon against the regimentation and enslavement of totalitarianism is the solidarity of unified action, when each individual works as a free man for the good of his fellow citizens.

The Declaration of Independence has given us more than any other country has ever possessed in the way of freedom for all. It will only continue to do so if, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge our concerted action to protect and defend with every ounce of power the democratic way of life for which it stands, and if we reaffirm by our actions our loyalty to the ideals which made us a nation.

Lutheran Pastor To Be Installed

Rev. George D. Birk, pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran church in Oakland, will be officially installed at a special service during divine worship on Sunday morning.

Rev. E. F. K. Roof, president of the West Virginia Lutheran Synod, will deliver the message at the 10:45 a. m. worship service.

The auditorium and other portions of the church have just been completely redecorated by George Z. Dawson, contractor. The walls and ceiling of the main sanctuary have been canvassed and painted, the color scheme being a powder blue for the walls and oyster white for the chancel, the ceiling and window trim. The narthex of the church is also finished in oyster white. Minor repairs have also been made.

Holy Communion was administered to a large number of the membership in the newly finished sanctuary last Sunday morning.

Two weeks ago delegates representing all the states assembled to choose Republican standard-bearers and platforms. They symbolized the workings of a democracy which Hitler sneered at and of which the Japs were contemptuous. In a few days another convention will assemble for the purpose of choosing the Democratic standard-bearers.

At each party conclave comes the roll-call of the States—"Alabama," "Arizona," on through "Indiana, Maryland" to "Wisconsin, Wyoming," the proud list of the sovereign 48. They are the States United, for all their divergent political views and the rolling roster of their very names should resound like thunder throughout the world.

Two weeks ago the States echoed the will of Republicans and Democrats alike throughout the nation by naming Dewey and Bricker on the first ballot. But will the convention just a few days away be as free and spontaneous? Those who have broken the rules of democracy upon many occasions are bent upon continuing in power. They are violating principles for which the service men are fighting. Consider whether the Democratic delegates are free agents of the people when a staunch New Dealer announces "I believe the convention itself will nominate the vice-president. My guess is that the President will not interfere in this nomination." Consider the President's own attempt to force his candidacy down the throats of the Democrats. After squeezing out all contenders he agrees to run, and says he will accept the nomination. What bunk!

The delegates of the 48 states should represent the America which fired by freedom and the determination to remain free, required no dictator or slave battalions to transform itself almost overnight into an arsenal of democracy, and then into a furious fighting force that is sweeping the tyrants before it.

States which were born in freedom, which grew to strength and power in freedom, should ever unite to keep that way.

Mountain Lake Park Tennis Tourney Will Be Held In August

Tennis Club Announces Dates As August 24, 25 and 26 On Tournament Courts

Tournament tennis will return to Mountain Lake Park this year, it has been announced by J. Patrick Beacom, president of the Mt. Lake Park Tennis club. The organization will sponsor a War Bond Invitation Tournament August 24, 25 and 26.

The last Western Maryland championship tournament, sanctioned by the U. S. Lawn Tennis association, was held in 1941 a few months before Pearl Harbor, and since that time there has been no official tournament play. This year a new club was formed and reconstruction of the courts and tennis facilities have been undertaken.

With the announcement of the tournament dates also came the announcement of the appointment of Ralph E. Weber as tournament director. Mr. Weber served as director of most of the former tournaments of the Western Maryland championships. The appointment was made by the Board of Directors and club officers. Congressman Jennings Randolph, of the Second West Virginia district, and for many years a summer resident at the Park, is a member of the board of directors.

There will be men's and women's singles, men's and women's mixed doubles. Entries are to be mailed to the director of the Tennis club's War Bond Invitation Tournament, care of the Mt. Lake hotel, Mt. Lake Park, Md. Entries will close August 23, and drawing will be held on the eve of the tourney.

Mr. Beacom said that after victory it was expected that the Western Maryland tournament would be resumed.

Injured In Fall

Henry Davis, aged 60 years, of near Hutton, was painfully but not seriously injured last Friday afternoon when he fell from a ladder as he was assisting in replacing a telephone line near Camp Minnetoska, which had been blown down by the tornado.

He was brought to Oakland by Mr. Hansen, camp owner, where he was examined by a local physician and later admitted to Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, for further examination and treatment. At the hospital his condition was termed "fairly good," and Mrs. Hansen said there had been no broken bones. The patient had not been in the best of health during the winter months, suffering from a heart condition, and it was thought possible he might have had a slight heart attack while on the ladder. He is expected to be able to return to his home this week.

Mr. Hansen said that two miles of his private telephone line had been entirely destroyed by the tornado, and other parts of the line damaged where it connected with the Swallow Falls-Oakland line.

Randolph Believes Airport Necessary In Post-War Period

Congressman Advocates Planning Now For Adequate Airport In The Mountain Top Area

That Oakland and the Mountain Lake Park resort area should construct an airport to be used in the post-war era of air travel, was the opinion expressed one day this week by Representative Jennings Randolph.

The West Virginia Congressman, with his mother, Mrs. Ernest Randolph, of Elkins, was a guest for several days at the Mountain Lake Park Hotel.

Mr. Randolph said, "People in this part of the State should begin, at once, to formulate plans for an adequate but inexpensive airport in this scenic and recreational mountain top region." He thought a single turf runway would be sufficient.

"Private flying will have a tremendous growth after victory has been won. Two and four-passenger aircraft could bring hundreds of visitors to Western Maryland each summer from Washington, Baltimore and the nearby areas of West Virginia," he said.

Mr. Randolph, chairman of the aviation committee of the West Virginia planning board, is the author of legislation now before Congress, to construct thousands of airports over a ten-year period, the projects to be started at the close of the war. Mr. Randolph has been a summer visitor to this section for many years.

"I am sure Congressman Beall, of this District, will be interested in a meeting with interested parties to discuss the possibilities and I will be glad to cooperate in any way," Mr. Randolph remarked. He said he was gratified to note the interest which Governor O'Connor is taking in the development of aviation.

Both Mr. Beall and Representative Randolph have been active in bringing about the completion of the Cumberland airport, located at Wiley Ford, West Virginia. Daily air transport service is scheduled to begin there in the next few months.

The Morgantown airport will add TWA service to its B. A. in the near future, and will make flight time from Morgantown to Washington in one hour. Thirty-five minutes will be the flight time from Cumberland to Washington and would be less than 5 minutes from this area, should an airport be constructed.

Purchase of Auto Use Stamps Lagging

Oakland Postoffice Has Sold 165 Stamps Thus Far

The sale of auto use tax stamps is lagging in Oakland and the County, as well as in all other parts of the state.

The Oakland postoffice reported a sale of 465 stamps late yesterday afternoon. I. R. Rudy, postmaster, said other postoffices in the county also had the stamps for sale. After July the Oakland office will still have the $5.00 stamps for sale, but motorists, who do not expect to operate their cars all year may purchase monthly stamps at the Bureau of Internal Revenue office, postoffice building, Cumberland.

Motorists are required by federal law to have the use tax stamp on the windshield. Enforcement is in the hands of the Internal Revenue bureau. City and state police have not concerned themselves about enforcement.

The old stamp became invalid June 30. Many motorists have resented the imposition of the tax since they are restricted on the use of gasoline, and have failed to purchase the sticker, not only this year but in the past two years that the law has been in effect.

The Cumberland office announced that while no instructions had been received it was expected that deputy collectors would begin their annual inspection and checking of cars in the area within a short time. A person caught driving a car not bearing the stamp is liable to a $25.00 fine or thirty days' imprisonment or both.

The U. S. District Attorney's office in Baltimore indicated it would not prosecute Maryland motorists who fail to buy the stamps, according to a news item in the Baltimore Sunday Sun.

It was stated that at least 200,000 Maryland motorists have failed to purchase the stamp. There are over 2,500 registered vehicles in Garrett county.

Thirty-two soldiers were killed in a troop train wreck in Tennessee.

4-H Boys In Camp This Week at Bittinger

A varied program including instruction in handicraft, rifle marksmanship, nature study, with vesper services and campfire activities in the evening, and recreation each afternoon. John H. Carter, county agent, is in charge of handicrafts, while Russell Brown, botany instructor, University of Maryland, is handling the nature study. Harry Morgan, Frostburg, is in charge of rifle marksmanship. Joseph M. Steger, assistant farm agent for Allegany and Garrett counties, and Verlin S. Holter, assistant Washington county agent, are camp counselors.

Mrs. Weeks Publishes History of Episcopal Parish Activities

A compact history of St. Matthew's Episcopal Parish, Oakland for many years, and a loyal member of the church about which she writes.

The booklet contains fifty-two pages of interesting information about the activities of the parish, presented in a delightful style by the writer who spent much time scanning the old church records and gathering her authentic information. Besides the history of St. Matthew's church there are accounts of the Episcopal chapels at Swanton, Deer Park, Altoona, and the work which was carried on throughout the years in other sections of the county.

The history was written by Mrs. Weeks at the request of Rev. David C. Trimble, then rector of the Parish. There are several illustrations thru the pamphlet and the cover was designed and the engraving made by her husband, Edw. M. Weeks a specialist in that line of work.

Copies of the book are now on sale by the author, and may also be obtained at the Hamill Book Store. Many residents of this area will no doubt want a copy of this book as well as churchmen of a larger area.

"Lutheran Week" To Be Observed July 19-23

"Lutheran Week" will be observed at Jackson's Mill beginning Wednesday night, July 19, with a coordinated program for the West Virginia Synod and its auxiliary organizations, according to the statement of Rev. E. F. K. Roof, of Grafton, synodical president.

The annual convention of the synod, the synodical women's missionary society, and the synodical Lutheran League of young people's societies will hold their separate business sessions on Thursday, Friday and Saturday noon.

The Rev. H. Reed Shepherd, D. D. president of the Pittsburgh Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America, will present the general missionary and benevolent causes of the church to the delegates. He will also be the principal speaker at the synodical brotherhood convention Saturday evening.

"Missionary Night" on Thursday will include an address by Miss Catherine Stirewalt, missionary on furlough from China. "Young People's Night" on Friday will include an address by The Rev. A. R. Wentz, D. D., president of the Lutheran Theological Seminary, Gettysburg, Penna.

Harvey Hodges, of Philadelphia, executive secretary of the board of ministerial pensions and relief, will outline a new contributory pension plan Friday morning. The closing address will be delivered Sunday morning by The Rev. R. E. Tulloss, D. D. president of Wittenberg College, Springfield, Ohio.

The Rev. J. Wilson Harner, of Accident, will be the convention chaplain. Pastors and lay delegates from Lutheran churches in Garrett County will attend.

Workmen completed the remodeling of the lobby at the Garrett National Bank early this week. The improvement made affords more space to the bank officials as well as to the customers. In addition the work is artistic and presents a splendid appearance.

Post-War Problems Discussed by Lions At Monday's Meeting

A discussion of post-war problems was the feature of the regular meeting of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club on Monday evening at the Fike boarding house. Four phases of the discussion were led by members of the club: C. Riggs, on finance; Dempsey R. Fleming on debt accumulation; Neil C. Fraley on farms and soil erosion and Daniel P. Smouse on returned service men.

Raymond Stafford, chief warrant officer, U. S. Navy, of Delhi, N. Y., who has been in the service for twenty years, and who has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pritts, spoke to the club concerning some of his battle experiences on the Pacific area. Other guests of the club were Dr. L. W. Coburn, of Morgantown, W. Va.; Corporal Robert Stanton, Army Air force, Denver, Col.; and Pvt. Walter Hull, Army Air force, Camp Luna, New Mexico.

I. R. Rudy, club president for the ensuing year, announced the following committees:

Attendance and membership: Harold H. Harner, chairman; H. L. Bittinger, A. C. Stanton, George Coddington; program: S. T. Naylor, chairman, John Klare, Jay Davis, Grover Sneed; constitution and by-laws: N. C. Fraley, chairman, W. E. Spoerlein; finance: D. P. Smouse, chairman, C. V. Harvey, Ralph Pritts; community betterment: Edward A. Conroy, chairman, E. A. Shaffer, Joe Hinebaugh.

Officers were installed at the last regular meeting.

Must File Claims For Old-Age Benefits

Henry M. Millhouser, manager of the Cumberland office of the Social Security Board, called attention to the fact that there may be people in this section who are leaving payments of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance because they have not filed claim for benefits. Some of them are young widows of insured workers; some are the children of deceased workers and some are aged men and women. The Social Security Act requires that a claim must be filed before benefits are paid.

Mr. Millhouser explained that in addition to the monthly benefits, payable to the insured worker who retires at age 65, or after, the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance system provides monthly benefits for his wife, if she is 65 years or over and to his children under age 16 (18 if in school and unmarried). Monthly benefits are payable to the widow of an insured worker who dies, regardless of age, provided she has in her care, his children under 16 (18 if in school and unmarried). Old-Age and Survivors Insurance may be paid to an insured worker's widow if she is 65 or more, or when she reaches 65 or more, if she does not re-marry. The field manager said that he sometimes finds a case where a widow received a lump sum payment following the death of her husband three or four years ago, and although she has since reached age 65, she has not applied for the monthly benefits for which she is eligible.

J. C. Davis Elected Commander of Legion

Heads Local Post For Ensuing Term; Other Officers Named Monday Night

J. C. Davis was elected commander of Proctor Kidlow Post No. 71, American Legion, at a meeting held Monday evening, July 10, in the City Hall. He will succeed A. C. Stanton who held the office the preceding year.

Others elected included Harvey Gortner, first vice-commander; Elza Bray, 2nd vice-commander; H. C. Riggs, chaplain; Edward P. Kahl, adjutant; Earl Selders, sergeant at arms; J. M. Gonder, historian; F. H. Shaffer, finance officer.

The newly elected post commander will appoint one to serve as service officer. Delegates to the Maryland Department convention, to be held in Baltimore August 11, 12 and 13, were J. M. Gonder, A. C. Hansen, J. C. Davis and A. Claude Stanton. Alternate delegates named were Osborne Beckman, Harvey Gortner, Elza Bray and C. M. Sincell.

It was announced that the organization cleared about $100.00 as a result of the home talent play which was presented about two weeks ago.

Accident Soldier Killed in Action

Sgt. Reed S. Wilburn Killed Over Island Near New Guinea On June 8, According To Report

Sgt. Reed S. Wilburn, of Accident, has been reported killed in action over Waios island, near the New Guinea coast, on June 8.

He was a member of an army reconnaissance division, and received his silver wings as an aerial gunner on February 23, 1943, at Tyndall Field, Fla. He went overseas last January.

Sgt. Wilburn was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Wilburn, of near Accident. A sister, Mrs. Melvin Georg, Grantsville, also survives.

Wounded in Pacific

Sgt. Francis S. Crass, Blaine, W. Va., was wounded on Biak island, Southwest Pacific, on May 28. In a letter dated June 17 he wrote his mother, Mrs. Beulah R. Crass, that he was getting along fine. Sgt. Crass entered the service September 4, 1941. He had been overseas for thirty months.

Instead of being reported missing, as was stated last week of John W. Canan, private first class, husband of Mrs. Wilma A. Canan, of Crollin, he was officially reported wounded in action. Relatives say this action occurred several months ago and that he is again on duty after being discharged from a hospital.

Wounded in France

Friends here have also learned that Herman "C. L." Lewis, a warrant officer, U. S. Army, had been wounded in action in France, during the invasion. Lewis was formerly employed at the local office of the Craig Motor company, and is a native of Davis, W. Va. He is now in an army hospital, suffering with a broken arm and other injuries.

Conservation Soil Survey Is Started

Richard S. Long, Soil Surveyor, Has Been Assigned To This District

A conservation soil survey of Garrett county was started this week under the program of the Soil Conservation District. The work is being done by Richard S. Long, Soil Surveyor, who is now assigned to the district by the U. S. Soil Conservation Service.

In making the survey, Mr. Long will go over the land in detail, boring into the ground with a soil auger and measuring steepness of slopes with a hand level. He records his findings on aerial photograph sheets which, when finished, will indicate for each field or part of a field, the kind of soil, crops, pasture or woodland, and the degree of erosion that has already taken place.

The completed maps are used by farmers and soil conservationists in helping to determine what conservation practices are adapted to the individual fields. Mr. Long states that the different kinds of soil are all named, just as different plants or trees have names. Ungers, for instance, is a deep, well-drained soil derived from pale red shales and fine grained sandstones and is one of the more productive soils in the county. Areas of this soil are found in the vicinity of Accident. Nolo is a deep, poorly drained soil formed from gray sandstones and shale. It is found along hillsides and is usually in a wet seepy spot, requiring drainage practices of some kind.

When this survey is completed it will constitute an inventory of soil resources and soil conditions for the entire county. Soil maps of individual farms will be made available to farmers cooperating in the district program as part of the conservation plan for the farm.

ADVISORY GROUP NAMED TO AID IN REHABILITATION

Red Cross Disaster Workers Push Ahead With Plans For Assistance to Tornado Victims

While American Red Cross disaster relief workers pushed steadily ahead with plans for the rehabilitation of families affected by the recent tornado, Miss Janet M. Long, area director, speaking for the chapter, announced the appointment of a special advisory committee to provide information and guidance in the administration of assistance.

This committee, composed of representative men and women, faces a great responsibility, the Red Cross spokesmen said, in explaining that similar committees are set up in each stricken area as a regular part of every Red Cross disaster problem.

Being thoroughly familiar with local conditions and community problems, members of this committee, drawn from every phase of business and professional life of the county, will be able to offer invaluable help to the trained disaster workers who are planning with each family needing aid the steps necessary to "get back to normal."

In addition to their other duties, members of the committee will assist in interpreting the work of the Red Cross and its policies to the people of the community.

Committee Members

Members of the Disaster Advisory Committee include Lawrence M. Fraley, Mayor of Oakland, chairman; Dr. William W. Grant, Rotary president; Irvin R. Rudy, Lions president; Alva G. Gortner, member of Welfare board; Mrs. Ruth Barnes, president of professional Women's club; Mrs. Paul Naylor, chairman of War Fund committee; Rev. Minor Sprague, representing the Ministerial Association; Rev. J. C. Foster, representing Mountain Lake Park; Mrs. E. Z. Tower, Chapter chairman; Delbert Davis, chairman of Disaster Committee.

It is especially important that every person or family in this county who needs help with problems arising from the tornado understand what the Red Cross can do to help, whether it be the repair of rebuilding of homes, clothing, household furnishings, tools or medical care, the disaster representative said, and we rely on the advisory committee to help make this known.

The committee will meet frequently and at each session will be advised of the plan of aid proposed both from the standpoint of the family and the Red Cross and the type of assistance that is granted. No loans will be made by the Red Cross. Each award to a family or individual will be an outright gift from the American people.

Reconstruction and repair of tornado-damaged Maryland homes by the American Red Cross is well under way, it was learned this morning when the disaster headquarters of the Garrett County Chapter reported that the first group of emergency contracts for the repair of houses have been approved. Additional contracts in several of the affected counties will be approved during the week, it was said.

Red Cross workers have been visiting registered families all this week and are rushing the completion of plans for the assistance of these families for presentation at a meeting of the Garrett County Advisory Committee on Monday, July 17, at 7:30 o'clock p. m.

The most serious cases will be handled first. Red Cross representatives said, warning that because of the complex nature of the problems involved in giving the most effective aid to each family, the job could not be finished overnight.

The Disaster Relief office is open daily except Sundays from 9:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. At present there have been nineteen families register with the Red Cross for assistance.

The office rooms in the Broadwater building, which make an ideal set-up for the Red Cross workers, are being generously donated by Joseph Hinebaugh, owner of the property.

Elected Band President

Harry Wolfe, bass horn player in the Oakland band, was elected president of the organization on Tuesday evening. He will succeed Lloyd Liller, who resigned.

It was announced Tuesday that the Fire Department which sponsors the band, would give the band members a picnic at Bailey's on Deep Creek Lake on Sunday, July 23. The band gave another of its summer concerts Sunday evening before a good sized crowd.

FHA Facilities Are Now Available To Tornado Sufferers

Money Obtainable From Approved Lending Institutions; FHA Insures Against Loss

Families stricken by the recent tornadoes in Garrett county, Maryland, was today informed the facilities and cooperation of the Federal Housing Administration in financing the restoration of their homes and businesses and farm properties by State FHA Director E. Lester Muller.

Under the provisions of Title I of the National Housing Act, Mr. Muller said, owners or lessees of homes, farms, business or commercial structures damaged or destroyed by tornado, hurricane, cyclone or other catastrophe may get FHA-insured loans from approved lending institutions for the purpose of financing the restoration, rehabilitation, rebuilding or replacement of such structures.

This money is advanced by the institutions at its own discretion, it was pointed out. The FHA lends no money. However, it insures the institution against loss on such loans and thus enables the institution to make the loans on liberal terms.

The maximum amount for repair or restoration of a home or any other structure under the provisions of Title I is $2,500, repayable over a period of three years in regular installments. The lending institution can make its charges as low as it deems advisable, subject to the FHA maximum of 5% discount per $100 a year.

Families who have to build entirely new homes to replace the ones destroyed may apply for long-term loans under Title II of the National Housing Act, subject to wartime limitations of the National Housing and the War Production Board. Under these provisions, a loan for building a single-family home may be for as much as $5,000, repayable in 25 years, with a maximum interest rate of 4 1/2 per cent per year on the outstanding principal plus 1/2 per cent mortgage insurance premium.

The maximum amount for replacing or rebuilding (not repairing) farm structures, such as silos, barns, chicken houses and service buildings, is $3,000, repaid over a period of seven years if unsecured.

The maximum amount of replacing or rebuilding a business or commercial structure is also $3,000, but must be repaid in three years.

Special efforts will be made by the local FHA offices to expedite all applications for consent to repair or restore properties damaged or destroyed by the tornado, and for priorities for critical materials necessary for construction. The FHA as a constituent unit of the National Housing Agency acts as agent of the War Production Board in processing such applications. Under WPR regulations, special consideration is given to hardship cases such as these, both in granting permission to build and in granting priorities for materials used in such construction.

Briner's Voice Now Travels All Over The South Pacific Area

New Caledonia—The authority of Charles L. Briner, of Oakland, as an American Red Cross administrative executive, is limited to New Caledonia and New Hebrides—but his voice travels much farther! For "Chick," as the former field director of the 25th U. S. Army Division is known, works by day and croons by night.

Thousands of servicemen throughout the South Pacific within range of the American Expeditionary Radio Station at Noumea, New Caledonia, have heard his voice in both jazz and semi-classical numbers during his weekly Friday evening programs. Hundreds of requests for such sentimental favorites as "Shoo Shoo Baby" followed recent inauguration of the new radio feature. The intimate style in which his torch-songs are delivered won him an over-night following.

In addition to singing, Briner operates Quiz Shows and MC's the Spotlight Hour at the Red Cross Service Club. All of his vocal efforts, however, are not confined to radio, as he is also soloist at the Sunday services in the Protestant Temple in Noumea.

Singing is nothing new for the former Oakland resident who began this part of his career over WFBG in Altona, Pa., some thirteen years ago. Briner has been in Red Cross service since November of 1942, and came overseas attached to the 362nd Engineer of the U. S. Army. Four months later he was placed at the helm of the ARC unit with the 25th Division and was present when this army unit removed the last Japs from Guadalcanal.

Asked regarding the most exciting experience of his overseas service, the Marylander said he was undecided whether it was the thrill of watching nearly 9 Jap planes blasted out of the skies near Lunga Beach one afternoon, or when he went along on an actual night bombing mission over Bougainville as a guest observer in appreciation for services rendered to our army.

Briner is now Area Director of Red Cross for one of the four branches of the South Pacific Theatre. Previous to entering the ARC foreign service, he was claims examiner for the Maryland Unemployment Compensation Board for Baltimore, Cumberland and Oakland. His wife, Clara Bell Briner, lives on Green street, in Oakland.

DIARY OF THE WAR

FRIDAY—On Southern end of Russian front extending 400 miles, the Reds captured Kovel, 170 miles south-east of Warsaw. This threatened Brest Litovsk and Pinsk. Hitler changed his commander along Normandy front. Americans were putting a fine point on victory in the ensuing year. Canadians were in struggle around Caen with German armor and infantry. Mr. Churchill announced that Nazi rocket planes in three weeks had killed 2,752 and sent 8,000 to hospitals. A thousand heavy bombers attacked launching platforms of robot planes. President Roosevelt conferred with General DeGaulle. Nazi guns in Italy were holding up the Fifth Army drive. China marked the close of seven years of war with the Japs and predicted victory in the ensuing year. Americans took Manim island, off Noemfoor, near Dutch New Guinea. Nimitz announced box score in Pacific since June 10 as 58 Jap ships sunk, including an aircraft carrier; 94 sunk or damaged; 835 planes destroyed, 35 probably destroyed. U. S. had four warships damaged and 168 planes lost.

SATURDAY—Americans smashed across Vire river, south of Carentan, and drove forward along 35-mile front on Cherbourg peninsula. Rain curtailed air activity, but 5,000 heavy and light bombers over Germany from Britain and Italy. Red armies advanced along 400-mile front taking many towns and capturing two Hitler generals. Reds were ten miles from Wilno. Another Red army that captured Kovel approached Bug river. Allies were still stalled in Italy. More than 15,000 children were evacuated from London to escape the flying bombs. American bombs fell on the Jap homeland for the third time as superfortresses hit the Jap naval base at Saebao and industrial center at Yawata. Chinese broke siege of Henyang and reversed Jap advance in southeast China. A Jap attempt to flee from Saipan was foiled by U. S. artillery. Capture of Nambur airfield gave Yanks possession of all Noemfoor off Dutch New Guinea.

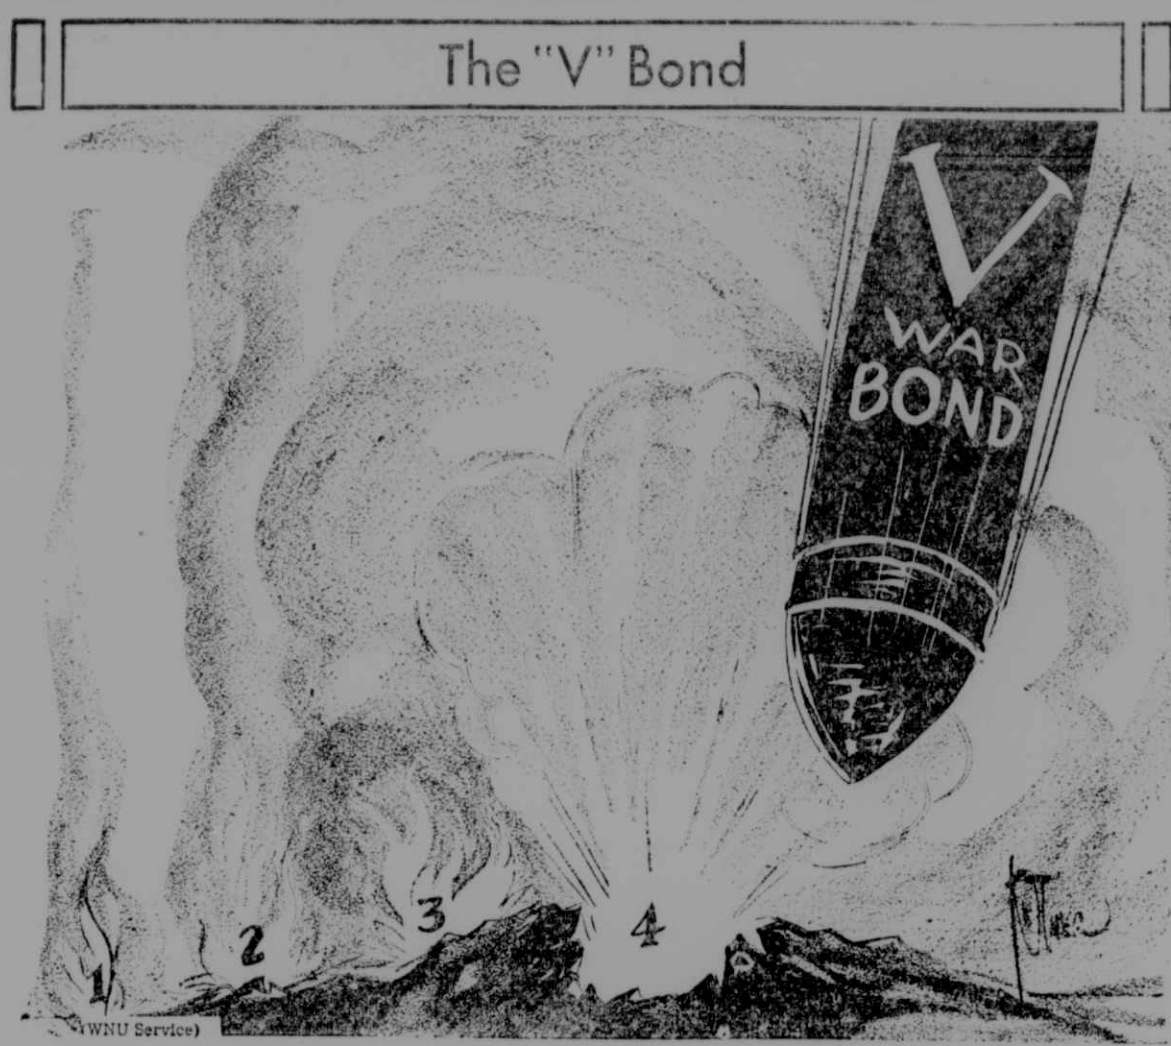

SUNDAY—British troops stormed into ruins of Caen in Normandy, retaking nine towns. Rommel began drawing on his stock of about 1,500 tanks massed about Caen. Two hill towns in Italy fell to Americans and Yanks were ten miles from Livorno. Red armies took Baranowice, on invasion route to Warsaw and fourth day of Wilno, cutting rail line of Nazis for defense of East Prussia, 100 miles away. Japs tried a desperate counter-attack on Saipan, pushing American line back 2,000 yards, but then had to retreat. Casualties were heavy with 1,500 Jap dead left on the field. Jap planes backed the attack. It was revealed the super-forts hit five targets in Japan. American army continued to assist Chinese as they drove Japs back from Henyang. Jap planes appeared on Salween river front for first time.

MONDAY—American and British armies struck both ends of Nazi Normandy defense line. British final assault on Caen met with little opposition. Americans took La Haye du Puits and drove southward to Lessay. They pushed through center line for four miles. Reds captured Lida and were battling disorganized resistance at Wilno. Soviets were 85 miles from Germany. Allies took Volterra in Italy, but going was tough in that area. Americans completed conquest of Saipan island just 1,200 miles to the southeast from Tokyo and 1,500 miles northeast of Manila. It was the bitterest and most costly in Central Pacific. Carrier task force also hit Japs on Guam and Rota.

TUESDAY—Reds drove beyond Wilno and were 60 miles from East Prussia, also driving into Lithuania. Three more German generals surrendered and Stalin announced that Soviets had captured Slanin and Lunin, communications and rail centers on direct route to Warsaw. Allies gained up to six miles in Normandy behind artillery barrage. Allied planes drive Germans off France's roads in daytime. RAF planes wreck 17 trains bringing total of 60 in four nights. Italy's 150-mile front was at standstill. Chinese troops and American planes smashed ahead in drive aimed at forestalling any Jap reinforcements being sent to Henyang. Mop-up squads were busy on Saipan as construction gangs were putting the island's two airbases into operation. Berlin was bombed by British in a night attack. It was revealed Hitler had planned invasion of the United States through Mexico after Britain had been brought to her knees.

THURSDAY—Reds struck new blow against Nazis along 90-mile front, advancing 22 miles. They were 22 miles from Latvia border. Gains on Normandy bridgehead were small but widespread. Americans were nine and a half from St. Lo and two and one-half miles from Lessay. More than 1,200 heavy bombers hit Munich and 500 from Italy hit rail targets in Southern France. Japs renewed their drive in Hunan province. Yanks captured a town in Italy only 8 miles from Livorno, big west coast port. U. S. casualties at Saipan were set at 15,053, with 2,359 killed.

WPA officially came to an end at midnight June 30. In eight years it spent over 10 billion dollars.

THE EARLY DAYS OF THE OLD NATIONAL ROAD

Scrapbook will devote a column or two to the great of the auto-bellion days who visited Cumberland, then a relay point on the old National Road. Great pioneers and statesmen of the West came through here enroute to Washington. After the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad was completed to this city, it was the jumping off point to catch stages for the west. Coming by stage from the west many transferred to "the cars" here.

"Stage Coach and Tavern Days," by Alice Morse Earle, is to me of all books touching on the subjects the most interesting. With snappy text and profusion of illustration, many of the items having been obtained only after persistent effort, it would seem as furnishing all that could be desired on the subject. She says: "All the statesmen of the South stopped at the taverns on the old National Road: Harrison, Houston, Taylor, Polk and Allen. Home-spun Davy Crockett, popular Andrew Jackson, stopped Henry Clay furnished a show to the country bystanders to gaze at."

"Over the National Road journeyed many Congressmen to and from Washington; and the mail contractors anxious to make a good impression on these senators and representatives, and thus gain fresh privileges and large appropriations, ever kept up a splendid stage line. It was on this line that the phrase, 'chalking the hat'—or the free pass system—originated. Mr. Residue, agent of the road, occasionally tendered a free ride to some member of Congress and devised a biographic which he marked in chalk on the representative's hat in order that none of the drivers should be imposed upon by forged passes."

"With such a magnificent highway as the National Road, it was natural there should be splendid coaching upon it. At one time there were four lines of stages coaches on the Cumberland Road: the National Line, Pioneer, Good Intent and June Bug. Curiously enough no one can find out—no one is left to tell—why or wherefore the latter absurd and undignified name was given."

SANTA ANA NARROWLY ESCAPED BEING SLAIN

Before the railroad the entire trip was made by stage. The Mexican General, Santa Ana, stopped here on his way to Washington. At Uniontown he lodged at the Walker House, later known as the Central Hotel. There was a story to the effect that Dr. Cummings, of Connellsville, hearing of the Mexican chieftain's presence in Uniontown, rode up to kill him in retaliation for the massacre of his brother at the Alamo. The doctor was detained for some reason or other and upon reaching Uniontown learned with indignation that his enemy had left early in the morning for Cumberland and was well up the mountains on his eastward journey.

When I was a youth Santa Ana's stopping in Hancock was often recalled. His presence was noised about the town, and the late Deval Stettinmeyer wanted to be impressed by a look. He opened the stage door and the fiery-eyed Mexican almost glared him out of countenance.

John Quincy Adams passed over the road in 1837 on his return from Cincinnati where he had gone to make an address.

According to a Uniontown writer, John C. Freeman, "The Pathfinder of the West," made a trip over the road, accompanied by Mrs. Benton, a private secretary and a colored servant. The party traveled in a coach of the old stage lines and experienced an "upset" in the mountains.

Gen. Zachary Taylor and party topped here enroute to Washington late in February, 1849, for his inaugural journey. He traveled in one of the coaches of the Good Intent line, accompanied by his family and an escort of distinguished citizens. The story has been told about Thomas Shriver and party from Cumberland going to Ohio to meet Taylor and about "Old Rough and Ready" alighting from his coach to view the Narrows, a bewildering picture of the great gorge sheathed in ice and glistening in the sunlight.

POLK HERE ON WAY TO HIS INAUGURATION

Like Taylor we had James Knox Polk stopping in Cumberland while on his way to Washington to be inaugurated president. This was in February, 1845, four years earlier. He traveled by Stockton's line of coaches from Wheeling to Cumberland. He was accompanied by his wife and family, General William O. Butler of Kentucky, and Judge Hubbard of Alabama, were also in the party. Polk comes back after he is president. He writes in his diary, August 5, 1848: "I informed the cabinet that I was fatigued and worn out, (had not been three miles from the White House in 12 months), and that I proposed to leave on a visit to Bedford Springs in (Pa.) for the benefit of my health."

August 18, he wrote: "This morning I set out from Washington for a visit to Bedford Springs. I took the morning train and proceeded to Cumberland, Md., where I arrived at 6 o'clock P. M. I was accompanied by my nephew, Samuel P. Walker, and by Dr. Politz, a surgeon in the Navy." On the following day he inscribed in his diary: "After breakfast this morning I left Cumberland for Bedford Springs in a special coach furnished for my accommodation by Mr. Johnson, the very obliging state contractor. We arrived at the springs about 1 o'clock P. M. I found about fifty visitors at the springs, among them my old friend, Hon. John LaPorte, with whom I served in Congress many years ago; Colonel Black, lately commanding the volunteers in Mexico, and his wife; Mr. McGraw, of Pittsburgh, and Mr. McKinley, editor of the leading Democratic paper in the country. We were among the number. In the course of the evening, General Bowman and a number of citizens of Bedford came to see me."

The president praised the beauty of the springs. "I slept under a blanket tonight and would have been uncomfortable without it," he wrote. He tells of attending "religious services August 20, in the large parlors of the hotel where an excellent sermon was preached by Rev. Parvience, of the Presbyterian church."

August 25: After breakfast this morning I set out by stage for Cumberland on my return to Washington. In the course of the evening, General Bowman and a number of citizens of Bedford came to see me."

GREELY SAW GREAT FUTURE FOR CUMBERLAND

Herace Greely, the great editor of the New York Tribune, was in Cumberland several times. Mention has been made of his hiring a special stage coach at Wheeling as he missed the railroad connection, coming in by boat from the west, reaching Cumberland in time to get a railroad connection to his particular resort for dinner.

In reference with another visit he wrote: "Cumberland is a large and bustling village, the center and depot of the Maryland coal and iron region." The Cumberland Alleganlian of June 2, 1849, says he wrote in the New York Tribune that "Cumberland was destined to become one of the largest inland towns of America, a rival of Pittsburgh and Lowell." He is also quoted as saying the Chesapeake and Ohio canal was expected to be completed this season.

Town Hill Tavern, east of Cumberland, conducted by Samuel Cessna, was a popular stopping place. Governor Thomas Corwin, of Ohio, then a member of Congress, was taken for a Negro by Cessna. Corwin was in company with Henry Clay and both of them entered into the frolic. After a good dinner, which Corwin ate at a side table, and some burnt brandy, Mr. Clay surprised the landlord by introducing the supposed Negro in his right name and title. Corwin was very dark and this led to the mistake.

HAGERSTOWN "DIRTY," CUMBERLAND "UGLY"

William Cullen Bryant did not think much of either Hagerstown or Cumberland. The former is "a dirty little town built in imitation of a city," and the latter "a little ugly town," he wrote.

These quotations are from private letters written to his wife. He, however, did say under date of May 24, 1832, that Hagerstown stands in a limestone country of irregular surface, rather fertile and pleasant, which is more than I can say for the greater part of Maryland, which I have seen."

Under Cumberland date, he tells of impressions gained between Hagerstown and Cumberland, referring to Clearspring, Indian Spring and Hancock. He writes: "A woman living in the mountains being in the stage with us, pointed out in a lonely hollow on a stream the spot where the Cottrells murdered an Englishman years since for the sake of his money."

"The Cottrells," said she, "were working 'hare' on this pike, and they came on with the Englishman a little ways on the pretense of chatting with him, and as if in friendship, they got him near 'whar' you driftwood lays and 'thar' they killed him in the 'back'."

"The place where the woman lives," Bryant wrote, "on the widest part of the road, between two of the highest ridges I have passed, with a rugged forest on each side, is called Belgrave. The village consists of log houses—that is, houses of hewn logs."

NARRATE IMPRESSIONS OF WALT WHITMAN

It is not generally known that among America's great who tarried here was Walt Whitman, who was enroute to New Orleans with his brother Jeff, where Walt was to become editor of the Crescent. His tenure in the Creole City was of short duration, but he soon found one who evidently took his heart, Frances Winwar, in her book, "American Giant, Walt Whitman and His Times," says:

"At Harper's Ferry, the train came to a stop. No sooner had it pulled in than the station became a pandemonium of shouts and the clanging of bells as an army of hotel clerks made every effort to lure the hungry passengers to their particular resort for dinner."

Little did Walt know on what ground he was standing or what tragedy would there be enacted! With the quiet enjoyment of the traveler he and Jeff five cents and leisure to look about them at the varied scenery, the abrupt mountains and the houses clambering one on top of the other to the summit.

"Toward sundown they arrived in Cumberland. A prosperous town, with its newspapers and thriving hotels, it offered a novel spectacle in the droves of covered wagons that filed in from hundreds of miles west with their freight for the eastern markets. The huge, lumbering caravans of canvas-covered vehicles, built high at each end and low in the middle, with the teams of four and six horses, brought something foreign to the American landscape. Walt had never met a caravan on the Steppes, but that was how such a procession must have looked, he reflected.

FAITH IN AMERICA CONFIRMED WHILE HERE

"A Chinese junk which he had seen exhibited in New York not so long ago had the strange scoop-in look of the Pennsylvania wagons. And all this in the United States which he had known only from the wide gateway of New York. Thrilling to the vastness and variety which he was now seeing with his own eyes, he was confirmed in his faith in America."

From Cumberland to Wheeling rolled the coaches over the Alleghenies, the nine passengers in each passing the time in conversation. Walt spoke, or rather listened to a garrulous patriarch, just returned from Washington, whether he had gone to claim a long-looked reward for capturing a British merchant brig during the war with England. He had yet received nothing from the sale of the prize.

The last stages, after a stop at Uniontown, in the gray dawn, brought the travelers to Wheeling late Sunday night. In the wharf, the St. Cloud, steam up and lamps aglow, lay ready for the voyage down the Ohio to New Orleans.

The National Road is one of Cumberland's (and Garrett county's)—Editor The Republican) cherished historical possessions, and from time to time Scrapbook will treat on other historical angles. Facts of the most interesting character still glow.

In this (Garrett county) there are more than thirty miles of the National Road, now known as U. S. Route 40. Every person mentioned in Mr. Carl's article here reproduced had to pass over the Garrett county portion of the highway to reach their destination east or west. Every mile of the road has its historical setting around which many articles have been written and published.—Editor The Republican.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW FOR SURE?

By BETH TAYLOR
Do you know it for sure? Remember that phrase from your childhood, and how important it was? It differentiated between the things we glibly said or repeated and those things which we knew from actual first-hand knowledge.

I wish we needn't have let politeness cause us to drop the phrase as we grew up. I wish it were still possible to say "Do you know it for sure?" to those people who are so prompt and definite about every and all situations.

Yes—I admit it—I've been listening to the radio again. But I've also been reading columnists and modern cranks—and I've been listening to people talk on trains, in buses, in restaurants and homes! And it's been all I could do to keep from saying "Do you know it for sure?"

There are the people who know all about when the war will be over, and what Eisenhower's plans are, and where the State Department is wrong and what is going to happen a week from next Tuesday. (The Gestapo smiles on them.)

There are the people who know all the motives back of everyone's actions, who tell you glibly just what self-interest prompts each act, who must have X-ray minds, for they see what goes on before it happens. (Gabe's friends they are.)

There are the people who know all the bad news, who can do talk of the cost of battles, the mistakes of commanders, the waste in lives, dollars and supplies, who can tell all the details of the chase to follow. (Geering finds them useful.)

There are the people who sow discontent, by setting groups against groups, exaggerating Labor's shortcomings, pointing out industry's misdeeds, accusing the farmer of selfishness, stirring up racial and religious hatreds by rank generalizations, judging the group by the sins of apostate members, preaching anti-Catholicism and anti-Semitism wholesale. (Here Hitler has a special decoration for these.)

There are the people who talk too freely, who boast of how they "got around" regulations, who try to outwit the censor, who brag of "inside knowledge," who tell of production, troop movements, ship sailings, betraying their own for the chance of appearing smart. (The bells ring in Berlin over the deaths they cause.) To all of them—to you—to myself—I say, "Do you know it for sure?"

Herbert Hoover, asserting New Deal in milder form has followed tactics of European revolutions, told Republican convention that "only by a change will our returning soldiers find freedom preserved at home."

Six camouflaged airfields built by Japanese farmers have been discovered by Mexican military authorities in Lower California. The discovery was made some time ago but just recently released.

Autographed photos of Mayor McKeelin of Baltimore, had gone over the 100,000 mark.

Textile experts see war-developed synthetic fibers and plastic materials as a means of expanding their production.

WINDSTORM INSURANCE

Is not a novelty. For more than 20 years this office has been paying claims for windstorm damage to property insured in the largest general insurance company in America. This form of protection long since passed the experimental stage and the recent disasters in our community show its necessity.

Rates are low and coverage broad. List of paid claims supplied on request.

Have a Coca-Cola = Let's relax a bit

...or a little minute long enough for a big rest

This year again, communities are growing vegetables. Hard-working gardeners grow tired and thirsty. Just three words, Have a "Coke", always sound like music at times like that. With ice-cold Coca-Cola in your refrigerator you are ready for the pause that refreshes at any time. Plan to have a supply on hand, ice-cold, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes,—has become a symbol of friendly refreshment to folks at work and at war.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT.

Washington, July 8

Apparently Mr. Wendell Willkie broods more bitterly at the weeks go by. Time seems not to heal his wounded spirit nor assuage his personal disappointments. Nor does it lessen the acute pain of the exceedingly unfortunate position into which he has worked himself. The question of how he is to get out with any credit to himself seems one to which he is as far from an answer as ever.

Friendly newspapermen and politicians who have seen Mr. Willkie since the Republican convention report him still wrestling with his conscience and his principles but not quite sure in which direction they are going to propel him. They also report him as resentful toward some of his best friends, now enthusiastically supporting Governor Dewey full of animosity toward writers who have ventured to regard his attitude as not admirable, and, in addition, to developing a strange persecution complex which makes him feel that some people are trying to "drag" him into support of the ticket, that he is being "threatened with punishment" that terrible pressure is being put on him, that "heaven and earth" are being moved to make him "fall in line."

JUST WHO are these persons who are trying to "drag" him, what kind of punishment is threatened, whence comes this awful pressure and who has moved "heaven and earth" is not in the least clear. It is all very anonymous and mysterious come straight from Mr. Willkie to quote him directly. Nor do they in their written accounts. One extremely well predisposed journalist came away the other day with a list of four "specific and fundamental" Willkie grievances against the Republican party, which it was declared it would be necessary for Mr. Dewey to clear up before he can hope for Willkie support.

THESE INCLUDE, of course, the foreign policy and post-war trade planks, concerning which one gathers Mr. Willkie used the word "monstrous" but also are included the wage and tax planks, and finally the Negro plank. Aside from the fact that Mr. Dewey already has clarified and interpreted in a forthright way the first two planks, it does seem as if it requires considerable straining for Mr. Willkie to find fault with the Negro plank, which is certainly stronger and more specific than the plank on which he, himself, ran in 1940. Also, it would appear fairer for Mr. Willkie to wait until he sees whether the Democrats go even as far as the Republicans in promising what he thinks should be promised to the Negroes.

HOWEVER, aside from that, it seems Mr. Willkie wants Mr. Dewey to "renounce" the support of whatever isolationists are now supporting him. Of course, this is slightly ridiculous. It ignores the fact that long before his nomination Mr. Dewey "renounced" or rather denounced the support of the noisiest isolationist in the country who claim the largest following, Gerald H.K. Smith. It ignores the fact that Mr. Dewey has come out as strongly against isolationism as Mr. Willkie. It ignores the fact that the foreign-policy plank has been interpreted by Mr. Dewey in terms of the Mackinac declaration, from which Mr. Willkie did not dissent. It ignores Mr. Dewey's pre-convention speeches. It ignores so much, in fact, that there seems no sense at all in the call upon Mr. Dewey to "renounce" individuals. Certainly, there is no more sense in that than to call on Mr. Browder, the Communist leader, original sponsor of the fourth term and one of his most conspicuous supporters. Or, he might as well be asked to "renounce" the Communist Mr. Hillman, who is running his campaign for the CIO and is the boss of the Communist American Labor party.

YET, on top of all this Mr. Willkie's journalistic friend, fresh from a long talk with him, says that "it can be stated without reservation" that Mr. Willkie would like to support the Dewey-Bricker ticket "because he knows if he bolts this time there is nowhere to go." It isn't exactly easy to take this seriously when linked with Mr. Willkie's "conditions" and conversation, but it does not sound much like principles. An effort to explain is made by saying that his choice now is between support of Dewey or "taking a walk," but that there is no chance that he will support Mr. Roosevelt, whose retirement he has publicly insisted is a vital need of the nation.

Willkie business is fast reaching a pathetic stage. Unable to make a clear cut case by which he can bolt the party as a matter of "conscience"

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Durst and family, of "principle" and yet unable to support the other ticket because of his aversion to the New Deal, Mr. Willkie has let go past the time when he can give sufficiently effective support to his own party to make anyone very grateful. And he is fast approaching the time when what he does will not make a great deal of difference anyhow. Up to date his carping comments and aloof attitude have done about all the damage he could. To "take a walk" now won't add to it much. In effect, he already has walked. Incidentally, Mr. Willkie let it be known through his journalistic confidant that he does not think the rules of good sportsmanship apply to his situation. He need not worry. No one would suspect him of thinking so.

DRY CLEANING DON'TS

The wartime shortage of dry cleaning and laundering services has caused many a housewife to try to do her own dry cleaning at home. Due to the fact that many persons have been fatally burned or disfigured while engaged in cleaning garments at home, the first and best advice is: "Don't do it." Garments may still be cleaned cheaply and far more efficiently and safely by dry cleaning establishments. Those who still insist on attempting this work at home should keep six rules in mind:

1. Use only non-flammable fluid. (A water, Calvin Wilson and Mrs. Orville Gaster.

can of cleaning fluid may be marked "non-explosive" and still be inflammable.

2. Keep the hands out of the fluid by using a suction washer.

3. Do the cleaning outside of the house where all toxic and other vapors will be carried off in the open air.

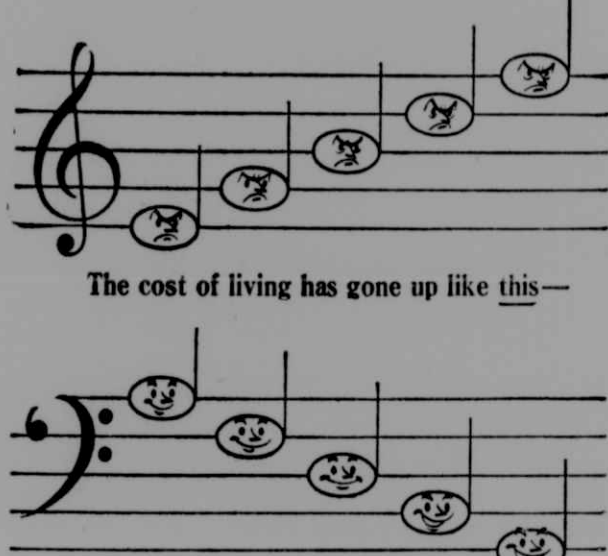

4. Dry garments outdoors.

5. Keep children and pets away.

6. Never, under any circumstances, use gasoline, naphtha or kerosene for garment cleaning purposes.

Many housewives have discovered since the war, that they can wash successfully many garments formerly sent out for dry cleaning. In general, use mild soapsuds and lukewarm water for both washing and rinsing. Squeeze instead of rubbing and wringing. Roll in a thick bath towel to remove excess moisture rapidly. Press with a warm, but not hot, iron when almost dry.

Swing low Sweet Kilowatt!

BUT the price of electricity has come down like this!

Nobody needs to tell you that the cost of living has been soaring toward high C.

But maybe you do need a reminder that the cost of electricity has been sliding down.

If yours is an average household, you're getting about twice as much electricity for your money today as you did 15 years ago. And 1944 government figures show that the average price has continued to ease off a little—even since war began. That fact ought to be music to your ears!

Getting prices down and keeping them down is one of the electric industry's greatest achievements.

It took a lot of planning, perspiration and practical business management to do this job in wartime. All our people helped.

DON'T WASTE ELECTRICITY JUST BECAUSE IT'S CHEAP AND ISN'T RATIONED!

What? No Telephones!

New Service

WE HAVE today on the waiting list for Maryland about 25,000 applications for home telephone service. Some of these are many months old.

The reason for this is a wartime shortage of telephone equipment, the manufacture of which, for civilian use, was practically suspended late in 1942.*

Plainly stated, the chances of filling an order depend on (1) the disconnections of present services which release facilities that are promptly reused; (2) the demands for war and essential civilian services which cannot wait.

While a considerable number of older applications will be filled during the year, it is not possible to predict when any given service can be installed. Until conditions change, the waiting period for those who apply now will be long.

But we promise this: No application will be forgotten and all will be filled in their proper turn as facilities permit.

If You Are Planning to Move

So far, it has been possible to move many services from one address to another within the same town, but it does not follow that we can do it in all cases, so we suggest you call our business office if you are planning to move and if your need for a telephone might affect your plans.

Extension Telephones

SOME, for whom we have moved service, have learned that we could not give them the extension telephone they had at their old address. This is because of the Government order—a fair one under the circumstances—that only one instrument may be connected in a home. The purpose is to spread the use of existing instruments at a time when new ones are not being made for civilian use.

SPEAKING for all telephone people, we don't like to say "No" or "We don't know when." We think we understand your disappointment when, moving into a new place, you find the previous tenant's instrument must be put back into the "pool" to fill an order ahead of yours, or when you ask how long you may have to wait, we are unable to tell you.

But, so long as fighting men have first claim on telephone equipment and until the manufacture of it for civilian use can be resumed, we will have to keep on as best we can.

Meanwhile, we genuinely appreciate the cooperation and understanding you have given us.

* The War Production Board has announced proposals for the manufacture of a limited number of telephones. However, it will be necessary to repair and install machinery for this purpose, so it will be quite some time before deliveries of new telephones can start, and shortages of switchboard and outside wire capacity will still exist.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Of The Moody Bible Institute, Chicago
Revised by Western Newspaper Union

Lesson for July 16

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts are included and complete use of it. Countless religious educators used by permission.

SUCCESS AND FAILURES OF ISRAEL

LESSON TEXT—Judges 2:1-6.
GOLDEN TEXT—Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people.—Proverbs 14:34.

The success or failure of both nations and individuals is ultimately determined by their attitude toward the law of God. He is always right and true. The constant factor in a world order that swings wildly from one extreme to another, is His law, which is perfect and eternal.

God is no respecter of persons. Even Israel, His own chosen nation, found that observing God's law meant blessing, and failure to do so brought judgment and sorrow. No man is great and powerful enough to ignore this rule—and none is exempt from its operation.

I. Remembering God Brings Blessing (vs. 1-6)

Although Israel had not fully obeyed God's command, and had been rebuked by an angel of the Lord for their failure (Judg. 2:1-5), they had come into a measure of their inheritance under Joshua.

They now possessed that inheritance and entered into enjoyment of it (vs. 6). It is one thing to have an inheritance, but another thing to claim it and make use of it. Countless Christians have never taken out their inheritance in Christ. All they have is the earnest (Eph. 1:14) or "down payment."

God never meant that any child of His should live a poverty-stricken spiritual life, or should go halting on first one side and then the other. He has made provision for a full-orbed, strong and joyful life. He will not enter upon your full inheritance in Christ now.

As the people of Israel took possession of the land, they went forward in the way of blessing and long as Joshua, and the elders who remembered God, kept them steady and true. We have here an excellent illustration of the power of a godly example. It is far stronger than we think.

II. Forgetting God Brings Backsliding (vs. 10-13)

The fact that a people has been highly privileged and has been exalted to a place of power and honor will not save it in the day when God is forgotten. The elders who remembered God, kept them steady and true.

Red Cross Will Meet All Actual
Needs of Families

The American Red Cross through a letter from Robert A. Sandberg, assistant director of disaster relief operations, to Mrs. E. Z. Tower, county chairman, explains its position in time of disaster.

The letter states: "In this time of disaster in your County, The American National Red Cross extends its sympathy to all who have been affected. We appreciate the efforts and assistance which have been so freely given by your Chapter and by others in your community."

"As you know, The American National Red Cross, by virtue of Congressional Charter is the one agency responsible for meeting all needs of families affected by the disaster. Through the cooperation of other agencies, private and governmental; and by the utilization of all resources, private and public, the Red Cross will serve as the coordinating agency in meeting all disaster-caused needs. Where other resources are not available to meet the needs the Red Cross will assume responsibility in full accordance with its Congressional Charter."

"Trained disaster workers are in your County investigating those cases affected in order to see that all disaster caused needs are met. I suggest that any funds received by organizations, individuals, or by the Red Cross Disaster Committee be turned over to the American National Red Cross, W. Va., and Pennsylvania Tornado—Disaster Relief, Professional Bldg., Clarkburg, W. Va., for use by the Red Cross Disaster Office in Oakland."

"Your Committee, and the donors, may be assured that such funds turned over to the Red Cross will be used in Garrett County, and that they will be wisely and effectively expended in the rehabilitation of all affected families."

Sincerely,
ROBERT A. SANDBERG

BE FRIENDLY

When I was growing up, there was a popular bit of verse which seemed to appear everywhere, from greeting cards to newly framed illuminated texts of all sizes.

"If I know you and you know me, If both of us could plainly see—"

Remember it! I think Edgar Guest wrote it, but being addicted to what Henry Van Dyke called intellectual ingratitude, I am not quite sure.

I suppose the present generation would say "It drips." According to my most modern young assistant, that is the great crime in writing—particularly in mine. But drippy or not, this verse contains a practical solution for some of the troubles which too realistic—or selfish—thinking has brought upon the world.

There would be no race problems if the races took time to get acquainted. There would be no industrial problem if the workers from both sides of the office door knew each other. There would be no class problem if there were a mingling of the citizens of a community.

There would be no religious problem if worshippers gave to each other's faith the respect they want for their own.

What we need is understanding and the willingness to start from scratch—without preconceived prejudices and concepts. We know facts and statistics, but not people. We study all sorts of abstract subjects. We discuss motivations and talk glibly of what is back of people's actions. But we don't take the time to learn something of the people with whom we have to deal. We are educated in all but friendlyness.

I learned my lesson at the time of my mother's death when people I never even knew came to see me. I remember after the last days of her illness, a knock came on the door one night. I opened to find a woman I didn't remember. I found she was the maid at the hair dressers. She said, "Please, I didn't have any money for flowers. Couldn't I do some cleaning or washing for you? Your mother was so friendly. She always stopped to speak to me and she even called up when my little girl was ill. I do want to do something." That is a simple story, but it struck home to me. I had never even known the woman existed. But mother saw each person as an individual with whom to be friendly.

If we could adopt a friendly attitude in our relationships with those around us, we could solve our bigger problems because we would acquire the habit of understanding, the gift of friendly. She always stopped to speak to me and she even called up when my little girl was ill. I do want to do something." That is a simple story, but it struck home to me. 1ST in a series of ads on
post-war opportunities

The question of post-war jobs—especially for returning veterans—is a big one and a live one. It will get more so as the war comes nearer its end.

Our own job security plan for Esso Marketers' employees now in uniform went into operation the day after Pearl Harbor. It has worked so well for so long that we want to pass our experience along.

In general, it is based on the idea that we are saving his place for our fighting man while he's away, whether he volunteered, was drafted, or was called up as a reservist. Chief features of the plan are these . . .

1. Each employee who has been with us a year or longer is given two months' salary as he enters the armed forces.

2. His dependents receive monthly payments from the company while he is away—up to half of his former company pay.

3. Each employee has been assured by letter from our company president that his old job—or another as good or better—will be waiting for him. Experience gained in the Armed Forces may result in his immediate advancement.

4. His rights in company retirement and benefit plans are protected while he is away.

DETAILS of the plan, have been put into a booklet which we shall be glad to send you.*

Soon we will announce in this newspaper further plans for making some good new jobs in the oil business after the war.

As we see it today, next to winning the war itself, nothing is more important than the matter of post-war jobs.

Unity With Freedom . . .

If there is any doubt in anyone's mind as to which political party is more likely to bring unity to this strife-torn country, he should contrast the harmony which exists among the Republicans and the situation in that outfit known as the New Deal.

For the first time in history the electors of three states—Texas, South Carolina and Mississippi—have threatened to use their freedom of choice in the Electoral college. Mr. Roosevelt will achieve his ambition to be a fourth term nominee and he will probably get his way on the vice-presidential nominee.

There was healthy rivalry at Chicago between supporters of Governor Dewey and Governor Bricker of Ohio, but they were all Americans, schooled in American traditions and wanting solely an American government at Washington. No more patriotic or gracious gesture has ever been witnessed than when the Ohio governor took the platform to ask that his name not be placed in nomination for the Presidency. Ridding the country of the New Deal, he said, is far more important than the political fortunes of one man.

In contrast this week we have President Roosevelt, dictating his renomination, his choice for vice-president, and delivering his ultimatum as Hitler and Mussolini were accustomed to do as dictators. He has granted a special concession this time to the once great and independent Democratic party, he has agreed to the choice of a vice-presidential nominee other than Wallace—providing that the successor to Mr. Wallace is acceptable to Mr. Roosevelt. As the Saturday Evening Post puts it, "Here is the indispensable man in his most benevolent role, permitting the exercise of a free choice by his party—if it does not conflict with his own choice." Is this the "freedom" for which we have been fighting?

The Republicans have given the country an example of how unity may be attained, while at the same time preserving freedom.

Lieut. Strachan, Kitzmiller, Encounters Difficulty In Landing On D-Day

Lieut. Lincoln S. Strachan, of Kitzmiller, piloted one of the first American gliders to land men and supplies in the front lines of Normandy before dawn of "D-Day," an official Army release from the European Theatre of Operations states.

A member of the Ninth Troop Carrier Command, which was commended by ground force headquarters for skill and daring in delivering the airborne units ready to fight, Lieut. Strachan, following on the heels of paratroopers that had bailed out behind German lines on invasion day, brought his heavily loaded glider over 50-foot trees into a narrow field bordered by ditches, without harming either men or munitions.

"I was carrying bazooka shells, mortars and land mines," the former Kitzmiller High School athlete explained, "and I didn't want to bounce." Although the gliders of Lieut. Strachan's squadron landed in an area still being punished by machine gun fire, according to observers, the Kitzmiller man described it as "a few snipers and some mortars, but nobody got hurt or why mention it?" At present he is at his base in England.

Lieut. Strachan is the brother of Hugh D. Strachan, 399 Piedmont avenue, Cumberland. A graduate of West Virginia University in 1941, he volunteered for Army service a week after Pearl Harbor, and after instruction in basic training, received his glider pilot wings at Dalhart, Texas in January, 1943.

No Special Drive For Funds By Red Cross Is Contemplated

Aid To Be Provided Out of War Fund Without Further Solicitation; Gifts May Be Made, However

In response to inquiries from organizations and individuals about the possibility of a Red Cross campaign for disaster relief funds in the areas recently affected by the tornado, Mrs. E. Z. Tower, Chapter Chairman of the Garrett County Chapter, has issued the following information:

"The Red Cross will provide for aid to families in this area out of its War Fund of last March without further solicitation, but any person or organization wishing to make a voluntary contribution to disaster relief should forward it to the local Red Cross officials.

"As the recognized disaster relief agency in this country, the Red Cross naturally has prepared for such disaster emergencies as this, and the successful 1944 War Fund will take care of domestic relief as well as carry the tremendous program of services to the armed forces for which it has responsibility. However, many persons here, and organizations, too, anxious to help friends and neighbors less fortunate, have inquired if funds are needed. To these requests the Red Cross has replied that any funds offered will be gladly received and administered for relief of local families affected."

Donations to be used in Garrett county should be given to Mrs. Tower, Chapter Chairman for Oakland, who resides on Oak street. Red Cross treasurer is J. M. Jarboe, assistant cashier of the Garrett National Bank in Oakland.

CITIZENS ARGUE PRO AND CON ON WAR PRISONERS

Possibility Of Having Several Hundred Here In Two Camps Is Seriously Discussed

The possibility of having war prisoners in Garrett county came up for serious discussion during the past few days, with some citizens becoming emphatic in their opinions.

The County Commissioners definitely decided at their meeting this week that they were not interested because of the expense involved and because of the possible dangers arising therefrom. They declared also that a number of protests had been lodged with them by citizens.

The Pennsylvania Electric company, represented by C. E. MacMurray and other company officials, were definitely against the plan because of possible danger resulting to the hydro-electric dam and power house.

The State Forestry department was definitely interested in the plan because officials stated it was the purpose to have the men work at clearing out and salvaging timber which was damaged by the recent tornado, and also to produce pulp wood in the New Germany forest area, now badly needed by paper mills of the country, for which a good price would be paid. The discussion came up this week at the request of a survey by the War Manpower commission as to sentiment here. The Forestry department officials applied to the Commission for several hundred prisoners to work here in the forests, with the plan in mind of using the Swallow Falls and Meadow Mountain camps, formerly used by the CCC. The Commission in turn asked for the survey from its representative here in Oakland, Milburn W. Mann. Business men, mine owners, county officials and others were asked their opinion. The opinions were not long in being expressed, Mr. Mann said.

As to the expense involved, the County Commissioners explained that if the County needed any prisoners to work on the roads or do other work, the Commissioners would have had to pay the prevailing wage of regular workmen, provide transportation for which the government would allow one cent per mile, and pay the proportionate share of putting the CCC camps in shape for occupancy. The State was to bear the cost of all work in State forests, but under the same conditions. Prisoners themselves would be paid 80 cents a day, the balance of the amount going to the government for expense of maintaining the camps.

It was estimated that $4,000 would put the Swallow Falls camp in shape while about $6,000 would be needed for the Meadow Mountain camp.

There has been no announcement as to whether or not the Forestry department still plans to use any prisoners of war. At present there is a prisoner of war camp at Caddell, near Kingwood, W. Va., but it is thought these are Italians. Senator B. I. Gunder, member of the Board of State Forests and Parks, said that prisoners were being used satisfactorily in Allegany county.

DON'T LET THEM GET YOU DOWN

Your knees may buckle and your brow become furrowed with deep wrinkles as you try to meet bills that get heavier with each passing month. There's one bill, though, that doesn't give you new worries. . . that's the bill for your electric service. The price of electricity is actually lower now than in the days before Herr Hitler was known outside Germany.

Despite all the added power needed to prepare for smashing blows toward Berlin and Tokio, greatly increased taxes and other costs, electric service for your lights, radio, washer and a dozen other uses costs you only a few cents a day. No, your electric bill doesn't call for more dollars. It doesn't weigh you down.

WHEN THE CAPTAIN COMMANDS
A COMBAT TEAM OF Salesmen

★ Today, Captain Lee's orders hurl tons of high explosives at the enemy. Tomorrow, when the last "cease firing" order has been given, the Captain will resume his peacetime command as sales manager... guiding his team of salesmen.

War has taught the Captain many things... leadership, comradeship and reliance on others. As a fighter, he depends on the Service Forces for food, ammunition... all the supplies needed to keep his unit going. As a leader of salesmen, he will look to another service force—the railroads—as a major means of peacetime supply.

Today, the Baltimore & Ohio is serving the Captain and his men in their fight for freedom. Tomorrow, we shall be prepared to serve him in business. In the B&O he will find an able organization with vast facilities—70,000 workers and 11,000 miles of track—prepared to give rail service fitted to his post-war desires for speed, convenience and safety.

Members of the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society are proud that the assets of their society, exceeding $141,000,000, and its certificate reserves of more than $127,000,000 make it the strongest fraternal insurance organization in the world.

Their Society has a reserve of $365 for every $1,000 of insurance protection held by its members... the largest ratio of assets to reserve and other liabilities of any fraternal insurance organization in the world.

The Woodmen Society's strong financial position is important in providing its members safe, sound, legal reserve life insurance protection. Yet scores of thousands of Woodmen equally value the fraternal privileges they enjoy. These are the "protection plus" values of Woodcraft—the opportunities for self-development, social benefits, strong friendships—that members receive in taking part in the fraternal and social activities of their Woodmen Camps.

If you are a white male of good character, aged from birth to 60, these "protection plus" benefits are open to you. Ask the local Woodmen representative to explain how you can provide safe, sound, legal reserve life insurance protection for yourself and your family, and enjoy the fraternal and social benefits of Woodcraft.

Dictator Methods

If there was ever any doubt as to how those in power feel about violating Constitutional government whenever it suits their fancies, the dictatorial methods used in the recent Democratic National Convention, should dispel any doubt. The desire for power is above everything else and the voters had better prepare to "change horses" before the present team goes entirely past the shore of democracy, down a sidestream of dictatorship.

One particular incident is pointed out, although there were many. Texas had held its regular Democratic convention and the majority of its delegates named to the National Convention were against a fourth term. An insurgent group of New Dealers tried a convention of their own, and in the ensuing arguments the issue went to the Texas Supreme Court which ruled that the regular delegates were the ones entitled to go to the Chicago Convention. The rights of States and supreme courts apparently have no weight with New Dealers when the latter disagree with their findings.

A "credentials" committee in the Convention decided that the regular delegation from Texas should be entitled only to half the State's votes in convention, while the group which was outlawed in its own State was given the other half.

When President Roosevelt was governor of New York, he remarked: "To bring about government by oligarchy, masquerading as democracy, it is fundamentally essential that practically all authority and control be centralized in our Federal Government . . . The individual sovereignty of our states must first be destroyed."

Constitutional rights and powers of 48 states are being centralized in Washington too fast for any good. There are now, on the average, six Federal employees to one State employee in every State in the Union, a threat to State sovereignty if there ever was one.

Although no expert on the theory of State's rights, it is very apparent in a democracy that municipalities should have the say about their own affairs, and likewise the States. Federal laws, according to the Constitution, are to regulate affairs not specifically covered by States. Individual rights decrease in proportion to the growth of centralized government in Washington, and it should be easy for every voter to see in what direction we are headed.

We need no star gazer to tell us how much farther this lust for power will go if Roosevelt is elected for another four years. He can be stopped in November of the people are determined enough in spite of the Federal Treasury and the CIO campaign fund.

ROOSEVELT AND TRUMAN DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES

President Nominated For Fourth Term On First Ballot, But Byrd Gets 89 Votes; Truman Beats Wallace

Franklin D. Roosevelt was nominated for a fourth term last Thursday night at the Democratic national convention in Chicago, the vote on the first ballot being 1,086 for Roosevelt, 89 for Senator Harry F. Byrd, of Virginia, and one for James A. Farley of New York.

The following day the delegates nominated Senator Harry Truman, of Missouri, for vice-president on the second ballot. He overcame vice-president Henry Wallace, who led on the first ballot, as state after state, beginning with Oklahoma, swapped from favorite sons or from Wallace to the Missourian.

Maryland's delegates voted for Mr. Roosevelt for president and on the first ballot voted for Governor Herbert R. O'Connor of Maryland, for vice-president, but switched its eighteen votes and voted for Truman on the second ballot.

President Roosevelt accepted his nomination for president with a prediction that another four years would find the world at permanent peace and declared: "New hands will then have an opportunity to realize the ideals which we seek." He spoke from a presidential train stationed inside a Pacific naval base.

Anti-federalism Southern Democrats joined by one-half vote from the president's native New York, polled eighty-nine "protest" votes for Senator Byrd, of Virginia. The half-vote from New York was that of James A. Farley, the Virginia Senator, critic of administration domestic policies received complete votes of Virginia, Louisiana and Mississippi delegates plus some from Alabama, Florida, South Carolina, Texas and West Virginia. Southern delegates later were in open revolt against the New Deal and were smarting under national convention rebuffs at every turn resulting in a threat of a "third party."

Lands Plane at Gortner

Earl Brillhart, Scottsdale, Pa., a member of a C. O. camp at Gortner, Va., enroute to his home, landed his plane last Sunday afternoon at the home of Simon Swartzentruber, at Gortner, for a brief visit.

A crowd of neighbors gathered on the field for this unusual visit and according to the Gortner correspondent, "the swimming hole was empty of boys in two jumps."

It was learned that Brillhart, a pilot, was getting in a required number of hours in the air, required by the government, to retain his pilot's license.

"Careful driving never cost a man his job."

Is Burned and Bruised by Bomb Explosion In Plot To Kill Him

Adolf Hitler, burned and bruised by a bomb explosion, told the world last Friday that a group of German army officers attempted to assassinate him the day previous to prepare for surrender "as in 1918," but asserted the conspiracy had been nipped by speedy ruthless action.

It was announced shortly afterward that "the ringleaders either have been shot or committed suicide." He named Col. Count von Stauffenberg as the one who planted the bomb.

The following day more than 1,000 persons were arrested in Berlin in wide-spread raids by the Gestapo, and within a few days it was announced that the revolt was well under control and that Hitler's men were in complete command. There were advances from the Reich frontier that only a few of the leaders among the army conspirators had been wiped out and that the others were determined to liquidate Hitler and all his regime.

Makes Statement Against The Use Of Black Market Fuel

Realizing the seriousness of the black market in gasoline rationing as a contributing cause to the general shortage, Governor O'Connor has issued a statement in support of the Petroleum Industry Committee on Rationing which is trying to make people realize that their activities nullify the attempts to conserve the fuel.

"One of the cardinal principles of Democracy is that all citizens share equally in opportunities. To assure proper distribution of available supplies all citizens have been asked to cooperate by conservation of gasoline in accordance with wartime regulations," the governor stated.

"In justice to our men overseas and in justice to many millions of other good Americans who are abiding by wartime regulations, it is the duty of every good citizen to refrain from participation in 'black market' activities. If citizens will refuse to purchase and use illegally gotten gasoline rationing coupons, the traffic will soon be reduced to a negligible point. Everyone who patronizes the 'black market' in gasoline is helping the enemies of our country," he concluded.

E. A. Conroy, of Oak Street, associated with the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, is county chairman of the Petroleum Industry committee on rationing.

Methodist Church to Show Moving Pictures

A talking moving picture, "The Eternal Flame," will be shown at the Methodist church on Sunday evening at 7:30. It is announced by the pastor, Rev. Minor Sprague, that this has been brought here not only for the congregation but for the general public. It is, he says, a dramatic presentation of the heroism of the early Christians in Rome in the early Fourth Century, the story taking up the events depicted in the book of Acts have taken place, with a message that should bring interest and courage to all Christians.

The church extends an invitation to all to see this picture. There will also be another short picture, the title of which has not been announced. A special invitation is extended to country friends, who have usually enjoyed such picture presentations as the church has offered. There is no charge, although an offering will be taken for expenses.

Quarantine on Dogs Effective in North Section of County

Move Made To Prevent Spread of Rabies; Several Cattle Have Died of Disease in That Area

The Maryland State Board of Agriculture and the Livestock Sanitary Service have announced a quarantine on dogs in the northern end of the county, which will remain effective until October 4.

The quarantine has been put into effect to prevent the spread of rabies (hydrophobia) which has been found to exist in Garrett county and to protect human life and property in that area, it was stated.

The area under quarantine starts at the intersection of route 40 and the Pennsylvania Line, thence south to the intersection of route 219 and the Lake Lynn Cumberland power transmission line; thence east along the transmission line to the Garrett County-Allegany county line, thence north to the Pennsylvania State Line, and west to the point of origin.

Posters have been distributed notifying all persons that dogs must be tied, securely confined, or on leash with a responsible person at all times and that those found loose within the quarantined area will be destroyed.

The posters also state that all dogs suspected of rabies and all violators of the quarantine should be reported to Dr. T. R. Shrop, county health officer, Oakland; Sheriff George W. Coddington; or Dr. W. M. Reynolds, Oakland, veterinarian of the Livestock Sanitary Service.

John H. Carter, county agent, said that "Practically all of the dogs called will be under 26, I certainly couldn't say that all of them will be. It wouldn't be fair to the men."

Sheep, Trapped During Recent Tornado, Still Lives

A sheep, on the farm of William Schold, where the tornado destroyed the house, barn and all outbuildings, was found among the debris of the barn last Wednesday evening, having been penned up for four weeks less two days.

The account of finding the animal was told by Carol Miller, son-in-law of Mr. Schold, who said the animal, although appearing badly stowed up, was able to stand. The sheep was found as workers were clearing up the property.

Mr. Miller said also the family had received a letter from a man residing at Stevens City, Va., 10 miles south of Winchester, stating he had found a note made out to James Schold and wife, which evidently had been blown there by the tornado. Mr. and Mrs. Schold were killed in the storm.

Persons near Grantsville also found a war bond that had been blown there from a point in the storm area in Pennsylvania, according to Stewart Stahl.

Red Cross Display

A Red Cross display of how surgical dressings are used in Iraq, has been placed in a window of the Rudy Department store, Second street. The display was arranged by Miss Eleanor Baker and Mrs. Ruth Barnes, and was completed yesterday evening. Included in the display are also some of the dressings completed during the surgical dressing class periods held in Oakland from day to day under the direction of Mrs. Mary Elliott, supervisor.

Welfare Bill Is $15,017.88

Garrett county's public assistance bill for the month of June was $15,017.88, according to a report released by J. Milton Patterson, director of the Maryland State Department of Public Welfare.

The cost in Allegany county was $49,519.24.

Fifty Participate In "Barn Raising" On DeBerry Farm

One of these neighborly events still practiced in this community, that of a barn raising, took place yesterday at the farm of Walter DeBerry, about two miles north of Oakland.

Mr. DeBerry's three barns were destroyed in the tornado of June 23, and his farm property was damaged to the extent of $15,000 or $20,000. Yesterday's activity was the expression of helpfulness of about fifty individuals for several miles round about. All gathered from the Underwood, Pleasant Valley, Gortner and other areas, and before the day was over they had erected the frame work and the barn was well on its way to completion.

Some preliminary work had been done previously by several Amish farmers of the Gortner community, skilled in barn building.

Lumber salvaged from the wrecked structures was used. One Amishman remarked yesterday evening, "We would have been farther along but all the young people are gone and some of us are getting up in years, I used to climb to the comb of the roof, but I can't do it any more."

At the noon hour the entire group of workmen were brought to the Methodist church in Oakland where Circle Four of the Woman's Society of Christian Service served dinner. A barn raising, at which neighbors come to contribute a day's labor is still quite a common event in Garrett county.

Men Up To 38 Will Still Be Drafted

State Selective Director Col. Henry C. Stanwood declared this week that despite a report by the House Military Affairs committee that most Selective Service men likely can be met by men under 26, men up to 38 years will continue to be inducted.

"I don't want to give the impression that men over 26 won't be called," Col. Stanwood stated. "If they are not otherwise deferable they will be called."

The report prepared by Col. Francis V. Kessling, Jr., for the House committee, said "since the armed forces have already reached their authorized strength, calls upon Selective Service are for maintaining this new strength."

"Contingent upon the progress of the war, there is reasonable expectancy that forthcoming calls can be met in a large part from registrants under 26."

Col. Stanwood said the House committee report was "very much along the line of what I've said in the past."

Certainly the majority of those called will be under 26, I certainly couldn't say that all of them will be. It wouldn't be fair to the men."

Schools Get NYA Shops

Actual title to shops and equipment operated in Maryland by the National Youth Administration until the agency was dissolved last year, has been transferred to the State for use of schools and educational institutions, it has been announced.

There was one shop in Garrett county, located on 8th street, in charge of George Kerins, and has been operated by the Board of Education for some time.

Named Price Clerk, OPA

Mrs. Edwina Rook, clerk in the War Price and Rationing Board, has been appointed price clerk, effective August 1, to succeed Miss Cora McRobie, who has resigned to resume her former position in the office of Walter W. Dawson, attorney.

Says There Is Chance of Veterans' Hospital in Garrett County

The possibility of having a veterans' hospital constructed in Garrett county was brought up at a meeting of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Lions club on Monday evening.

Congressman J. Glenn Beall, of the Sixth district, who was a guest at the meeting, made the suggestion and asked for the support of not only the Lions club but other organizations in getting interest aroused in such a project. Mr. Beall declared that there was a great opportunity for such a building at the present time and said he had already made preliminary contacts with the Veterans' administration.

Actually obtaining such a hospital would depend, he said, upon the interest of the residents of this section.

Lumber Restrictions To Affect Everybody Who Wants A Board

Government Agencies Tightening Up On Restrictions Relative To Sales

Government agencies are tightening up on restrictions relative to the sale of lumber, which will affect every person who wants to purchase a dozen or more boards, it was pointed out this week by lumber dealers and the triple-A committee.

The plan of the government apparently is for the purpose of balancing on a national scale of deliveries on approved orders against the production of lumber. Going into effect the first of the month, any person who needs lumber for any repairs or improvements must go through either the War Production Board, or the Agricultural Adjustment Agency, unless it is for very small amounts, and even then it may be necessary.

The three-A committee headquarters are located in the County Agent's office, Postoffice building, Oakland, where all farmers must make application. The War Production Board for this area, through which applications of other individuals must be made, is located at Clarksburg, West Virginia.

Lumber dealers will not be able to replenish their stocks unless they have approved orders for practically every board they sell. One dealer stated yesterday morning they would be allowed a limited amount per quarter to do emergency repair work and to provide material to keep the shop open, but that the amount was very limited.

Playground Leader Plans Tennis Tourney Next Week

Plans for a tennis tournament and other competitive games have been planned for next week by Miss Ruth Field, who is in charge of the Municipal playground this summer.

Over one hundred have registered at the playground. Miss Field urged more to come. The tournament for all young players in town will be held one day next week and all who are interested are asked to give their names to Miss Field at the playground before Monday, July 31, or to Mary Claudis Fraley or Harriet Pollock. A prize will be awarded to the town champion.

There will be a horseshoe tournament Friday morning beginning at 10 o'clock. Arrangements are being made for a basketball game with the girls of Camp Minnetoska. Oakland girls interested are asked to see Miss Field.

Two small tournaments in croquet and ping pong have been played with William Wolfe winning the croquet and Andrew Wolfe the ping pong. These tournaments will be held every week and at the end of the season the boy or girl having the most wins will receive an award, Miss Field said.

Armed Forces Need Pods of Milk Weed For Life Jackets

Collection In County This Fall May Be Means Of Saving 2,000 Lives of Service Men

Garrett Countians, through the collection of milk weed pods this fall, are given the opportunity of saving possibly 2,000 lives of men in the armed forces.

The collection of milkweed floss is now vital to the war effort to replace Kapok, a silky, seed-pod fiber for filler in life jackets, the supply of which was cut off when Japan captured the East Indies.

Milkweed floss has been found to be the best material sufficiently waterproof and buoyant to use in life vests, and it is estimated that the floss from two bushels of pods will fill a life jacket.

The task of collecting these pods is placed in the hands of members of the County Agricultural War Board. Heading the project here will be John H. Carter, county agent, and William W. Nace, soil conservationist. Mr. Carter said the campaign would be conducted through the schools, 4-H clubs and individuals.

Although people are urged to do this work because of the fact that American lives may be saved, yet the government will provide 20 cents per bushel for all pods picked. Farmers are asked not to cut the milkweed on their farms until after pods have been gathered. Mr. Carter said there were over 2,000 farms in the county, and each farm should provide at least two bushels of pods, or enough to save the life of one individual.

Bags to be used are the open mesh kind, similar to onion sacks, and will be provided.

Picking may be done any time after seeds begin to turn brown and until pods have opened. This will not be until early September. Bags of pods should be hung in the open to dry as floss will mold quickly and spoil the floss if packed in tight box or thrown in a heap in the barn or on the ground. Bags can be tied to tops of fences where dew, rain or snow will not harm the pods. Booklets with complete details will be distributed in the near future.

Cooperative Meets at Grantsville

Members of Southern States Cooperative in the Grantsville section of the county are holding their annual membership meeting this evening in the school auditorium, beginning at 8 o'clock. J. A. Beachy, Grantsville, will preside. Similar meetings were held Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at Accident and Friendsville where there was election of board members, voting on matters of policy, contests and prizes, group singing and refreshments. The same plan will be carried out tonight at Grantsville.

With Our Men In The Service

Corp. Arthur C. Nethken was at his home recently after having spent 28 months in the South Pacific war area. He was here on a 21-day furlough with his wife and parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Nethken, leaving on Saturday for Camp Butler, N. C., for a reassignment. Since his return to the States Corp. Nethken suffered a slight attack of malaria. Mr. and Mrs. Nethken have another son, Howard, in the service who is stationed in England.

Receives Promotion

Second Lieutenant Irvin Feld, who has been with a quartermaster unit of the U. S. Army in New Guinea for several months, was recently advanced to the rank of first lieutenant. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Feld, Second street. Just the other day his parents received from him a copy of the "Guinea American," a small newspaper published there by the army. Under the date of July 3, the paper contains the following: "Search for tornado victims in southwest Pa., and West Va., last week brought to light additional deaths, running the total loss of life to 139 persons. Reports showed 98 killed in West Va., 38 in Pennsylvania, and three in Garrett county, Maryland, across the line from West Virginia."

C. E. Sharps, of Oakland, recently received news of the death of his cousin, Edward William Horchler, seaman first class, who died in New Caledonia, of a heart condition. He was a native of Newburg, W. Va. Mr. Sharps said his son, William Sharps, quartermaster second class, U. S. Navy, who is in the Southwest Pacific area, had recently visited Horchler.

A V-mail letter was received at the Republican office from Pvt. Roy L. Lish, who is with a medical detachment somewhere in Italy. Pvt. Lish said that "after learning that my nephew Burt Hardesty was over here I made it my business to look him up and I finally found him underneath a battle-scarred vehicle and he sure recognized my voice in a hurry. This is our first meeting since 1942. It happened to be the day that he was decorated with the expert combat infantry award. We are both feeling fine and enjoying sunny Italy as best we can. I hope this -- mess will soon be over so that Burt and I can get some pleasant this fall and count on in on a good old-fashioned supper. Hope you and all my friends back home are feeling fine."

When Pvt. William Stemple with the 8th air command, located in England, walked into USO (United Service Organizations) headquarters in Cambridge he saw Sgt. Robert W. "Bud" Lohr, reclining in one of the chairs. "Bud" had ridden into town on his bicycle. Upon comparing addresses it was discovered they were located within just a few miles of each other. Lohr is the husband of the former Virginia Fraley. Stemple is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover C. Stemple.

Word has been received recently by parents in Sang Run, that Paul McCrobie, Corp. Wilmer Rodcheaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Rodcheaver; Pfc. Carlton Friend, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Friend; T-5 Homer Friend, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Friend, were now serving in France.

With the rotation plan of the army now in operation, three soldiers who have been in the Alouette Islands are being given furloughs. Information has been received in regard to Orval N. Brennenman, private first class, with the coast artillery, who has been 24 months in that theatre of operations, who was expected to arrive at Camp Haan, California about July 20, prior to reaching his home at Friendsville. Scoop's Column

Scoop Himself

Upon renewing her subscription the other day a lady asked: "What has become of Scoop? I miss him greatly and want to hear what he has to say on the fourth term president. Are we to have an Emperor or King in America to rule this Nation. I am distressed."

Scoop has been present each week but somewhat smothered under manpower shortage and the necessary mechanics of getting out a paper each week, plus job printing activities, which doesn't leave much time for active expression through a column.

The same can be said on the fourth term president question as on the third term question, except with more emphasis. The president's quest for power rivals the dictators of Europe and is completely wrecking the Democratic party. Democrats are squeezed out by communists and New Dealers. It makes the Democratic pledge something like this:

"I pledge allegiance to the Democratic party and to the Roosevelt for which it stands; one family, indispensable, with commissions and divorces for all."

I believe the pledge is somewhat unfair in the matter of commissions, as the Roosevelt sons apparently have well earned the commissions they hold.

Surely to goodness, the majority of the people can see plainly the trend in government, toward centralization and power in one human being. And if it is to be stopped, it must be stopped this fall.

On November 2, 1940, President Roosevelt, then a candidate for a third term, made this statement: "there is a great storm raging now. It makes things harder for the world. And that storm, which did not start in this land of ours, is the true reason that I would like to stick by these people of ours until we reach the clear surefooting ahead. We will make it make it before the next term is over. When that term is over there will be another President."

Will the President always try to be like my nose in winter--and always keep on running? We hope he was right when he said there would be another president in 1944. We need a man in the highest office whom the American people can believe after he is elected as well as before. A man who will add the fifth freedom to the Atlantic Charter, the freedom of opportunity.

Thus far the Atlantic charter pledges the right of self-government to all peoples except the little Balts, the Poles, Montgomery Ward, the people of Texas, and anyone else who tries to keep America free from bureaucrats.

On Changing Horses

The slogan "Don't change horses in the middle of the stream" gives rise to the question "Why are we still in the middle of the stream after twelve years?"

A horse that has been trained sufficiently to carry out the wishes of his masters (the voters) will lead against the current of dictatorship better than the "experienced" horse who is heading in the wrong direction and pays no attention to the way he has been taught.

Why not change horses if there is a better chance to get to the other side and save ourselves and our original form of government.

The Democratic party ditched one horse of its team without any remorse.

KEMPTON

Woman's Society of Christian Service
Mrs. Robert Martin was hostess to the WSCS at her home on Thursday evening for the July meeting. The worship service was in charge of the president, Mrs. L. K. Duling. The subject, "He Healed the Sick," was used. Mrs. Paul Carr gave the meditation, and Mrs. S. A. Wallwork read "Let Us Remember Beauty," which was followed by a short discussion. Prayers were offered by Mrs. George C. Stratton and Mrs. Sarah Nestor.

Mrs. Stratton gave an interesting report of her attendance at the Christian Workers' conference at Buckhannon; she also gave a summary of the study book, "West of the Date Line." This is the book the class chose to use for the next several meetings.

Mrs. Jennie Ryan and Mrs. Stratton jointly had charge of the social hour, which was a clever contest on birds, cars, trees and flowers. Mrs. Duling had the highest number of points.

The group decided to meet at the school building for the next meeting and planned for a covered dish supper. A fifty-cent gift exchange was conducted by Mrs. Harry Buckley. The

Suggestions Given For Blight Control On Tomato Plants

There has been considerable loss of tomatoes in Garrett County in the past three years caused by tomato blight, according to John H. Carter, County Agent. Those who have had trouble with tomato blight will find that if they spray their tomatoes with a bordeaux mixture, keeping the vines and fruit thoroughly covered, it will be very helpful in controlling the blight well enough to harvest a good crop of tomatoes. If they are not able to spray with a bordeaux mixture, they will find that a 20-80 dust—that is, 20 pounds of monohydrated copper and 80 pounds of lime will be very helpful in the control of blight. If dust is used, it can be purchased from dealers and mixed when it is used. Those desiring to spray with a bordeaux mixture will find the following helpful in preparing their spray: To mix small quantities for hand sprayers—Mix a stock solution of lime and bluestone (A stock solution may be made by dissolving the bluestone at the rate of one pound to one gallon of water. Slake lime and dilute at the rate of one pound to one gallon of water. Keep in separate, covered containers until ready to make bordeaux according to formula. Stir well before using.)

One lb. lime, 1 gal. water; 1 lb. bluestone, 1 gal. water. (Be sure these stock solutions are kept separate.) To mix 3 gallons of spray material for a hand spray use, 1 quart bluestone solution, 1 quart lime stock solution, 2 1/2 gal. water. It is important that no poisons such as calcium or magnesium arsenates are mixed with either the spray or dust when used. The tomatoes when harvested should be thoroughly washed or peeled before using. Mr. Carter warned.

The proudest title in the Army

IT CONSISTS of two simple words.
Yet every soldier who's worth his salt covets it.
This title is simply:
"Good Soldier."

It isn't just happenstance that so many women in the WAC have earned this title—the proudest in the Army.

For wherever Wacs are working, both here and overseas, there you find a job well done. And done with a spirit so gallant and fine that high Army officers everywhere say of the WAC...

"They're soldiers. Good soldiers!"

DIARY OF THE WAR

FRIDAY—Soviet troops in three days had smashed 32 miles through German defenses west of Kowel or 100-mile front, reaching Bug river. The rail junction of Lwow was bypassed. Reds captured a place 200 miles from German Silesia. British and Canadian tanks slugged ahead on plain beyond Caen, seizing town eight miles east of city, and 115 miles from Paris. Germans in Italy were pulling back across Arno River. About 3,000 planes from Britain and Italy smashed at plane and oil plants over wide area in Germany. Navy made a land-based air attack on Bonin islands, 630 miles from Tokyo, sinking a Japanese ship, leaving four others in flames; planes apparently from Saipan. A general and an admiral were named to form a new government in Japan, to succeed Premier Tojo.

SATURDAY—Revoluting German officers tried to seize government buildings in Berlin on pretext that Adolf Hitler was dead from bomb injuries but it was thwarted and there were indications of a blood purge rivaling that of 1934. Four Red army spearheads thrust deeper into Poland toward Warsaw. Another army approached East Prussia. Weather bogged down British-Canadian offensive east of Caen. American patrols in Italy thrust across Arno river between Pisa and Florence. Over 1,600 heavy for 6th day blasted targets near Germany. American foot soldiers returned to Guam after devastating bombardment of island by U. S. Navy, and drove inland on several beachheads around Apra harbor, one of finest in western Pacific. Guam was thought to be defended about as strongly as Saipan. Japs were using 150,000 men in Hunan province of China. Chinese in southwest were encircling Nipponese Burma road bases. Americans held New Guinea positions against Jap attacks.

SUNDAY—Hitler called on his army to remain loyal, following the attempt on his life. Reds drove 45 miles into Lithuania in effort to trap 30 German divisions anchored among Baltic coast, captured Panevezys, 85 miles south of Latvian capital of Riga on Baltic sea. British ambushed Germans below Caen, machine gunning infantry after letting tanks through. Rain turned Normandy into quagmire. Two U. S. subs were listed as missing. Naval fleets were operating on "convoy belt" principle of continuous replacement and supply, keeping ships in almost continuous action. Bombers hit Ploesti oil fields again. Robot bombs continued to streak across channel to England. Allied columns in Italy neared Florence and were only four miles from Pisa. Yanks were already threatening to pinch off port of Apra on Guam.

MONDAY—Reds battered out new gains, breaking into Lublin, 35 miles southeast of Warsaw, and advancing in other areas; capturing Pskov, last major Russian city in German hands. Fifth army in Italy swept into Pisa while Eighth army were 15 miles from Florence. Allies lunged eastward in Normandy toward Paris. Guam's harbor was within grasp of Americans after three days of fighting costing 1,958 casualties, including 348 killed. Marines had cut off Orate peninsula containing one of the finest fortresses of the world. Japanese announced resignation of four more Jap officials with Tojo. U. S. planes over China damaged 225 Jap river supply boats. Nazi invasion loss was 156,000. The German purge was reported reaching war fronts. British and Greek commandos cleared a German garrison on Sini island, off Turkey in surprise raid.

TUESDAY—Russian forces continued on through Poland and were 50 miles from Warsaw after crossing River San. Reds claimed 381,410 Nazis killed and 158,480 captured June 23 through July 23. Capture of Lublin put Reds 365 airline miles from Berlin. Hitler continued to veed out Prussian commanders. Allied and German armies were deadlocked in Normandy mud but Allies began limited offensive. American troops in Italy held Pisa and Allies were within 12 miles of Florence. Japan's hold on Marianas islands was slipping as American invasions of Guam and Tinian developed successfully. Bombers are operating in southern Philippines sector. Japs and Chinese both lost heavily in fighting around Hengyang. Bombers from Britain and Italy were busy on enemy targets.

WEDNESDAY—Hitler completed plans for Germany's fight to the death, decreeing total mobilization and naming Goering, Goebbels and Himmler to high positions. Soviet columns pushed westward and were 50 miles from Warsaw. Below Warsaw they were 13 miles from Wisla river. Russia announced it intended to retain parts of eastern Poland taken in squeeze of 1939 and would compensate Poland with German territory. Allies pushed forward on Normandy front behind aerial barrage from 4,000 planes. There was heavy German resistance and numerous counter-attacks. In Italy the Allies were less than ten miles from Florence. American forces on Guam and Tinian gained ground and Japs were cut off from outside help by U. S. sea and air power. Japs were gaining in fight for Hengyang in China.

THURSDAY—Russian forces reached Vistula River on 30-mile front

Another Declaration Of Independence

To The Editor of The Republican:

On July 4, 1776, the Continental Congress, meeting in Philadelphia, adopted the Declaration of Independence. It was an act which formally separated the thirteen colonies of America, from the tyranny of a dull and foolish king.

We are justly proud of this historic event, but there is another tyrant from which the farmers of this county must declare their independence.

This tyrant is erosion. The I realize that the loss of property in the recent tornado was tremendous, and indeed feel a deep sense of sympathy for the hose affected. It is my honest conviction that the total loss to all farmers in this county, in the form of erosion, was nearly as great as the financial loss caused by the tornado. Only those persons who have become acquainted with the devastating effects of sheet erosion, who have tried to cultivate corn and potatoes across the ridges, or attempted to retain a fertile soil by plowing up boulders and rock ledges, can fully realize the seriousness of this problem.

This is a problem of serious concern to the town folk as well as country folk, in both cases their economic welfare is closely related to the fertility of the soil.

We must not excuse ourselves as a very good friend of mine did a few days ago by saying, "Well, when the Lord sends us a gully-washer like that there isn't much we can do about it." Yes, most emphatically, something can be done, and something must be done to safeguard our heritage, the soil, from the ravages of this tyrant! If this heritage is not safeguarded, our sons will say, "Well, Dad, there's the farm, but where's the soil?"

When we, the people of Garrett Co., organized a Soil Conservation District last year a long step was taken in the right direction. The next step to take is to make use of the help which is to be had from this source.

Let's take some action soon. Let's get control of that rascal called "Erosion," coop him up with proper selection of crops, contour strips, and terraces, and declare our independence from one of the most deadly enemies that can threaten the future of farming.

Respectfully yours,
G. EMEISON BISHOFF,
Member Board of Supervisors
Garrett Co. Soil Conservation Dist.

Pupils Urged To Be Ready For School

Health Officer Points Out Necessity of Smallpox Vaccination

"Pre-school children who are going to school for the first time this September should be made ready for their new adventure as early in the summer as possible," according to Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Department of Health. "Parents who have not already done so are urged to take their youngsters to the family physician or to the nearest clinic now.

"Vaccination against smallpox, it is generally known, is required by law in this State. All public schools in Maryland require evidence of successful vaccination before admitting a child, and the majority of private and parochial schools have similar rules. The State law charges parents and physicians with the duty of seeing that children are vaccinated during the first year of life and the matter is left in their hands until school age. At that time vaccination becomes absolutely necessary, because the school law prohibits the enrollment of those not protected against smallpox. Any child who has not been protected against smallpox should have it done immediately to allow the scar time to heal well before the school bell rings.

"Although not a legal requirement, immunization against diphtheria is strongly recommended," Dr. Riley advises parents. "Toxoid is a good safeguard against this disease which very often causes serious illness and death among children. Those who have never received toxoid should certainly be given the protection it affords. Children who were immunized as babies should be given a supplementary dose to strengthen immunity before they go to school.

"A general physical check-up is also advised. Such an examination will indicate whether or not the child is up to par physically and is able to carry the additional burdens imposed by school life. If the check-up reveals any remediable defect or handicap, correction or treatment is in order. It is not fair to a child to let him enter school with handicaps that can be avoided."

Basil O'Connor, New York attorney, has been appointed chairman of the American Red Cross to succeed Norman H. Davis, whose death occurred recently.

South of Warsaw, capturing Delin 57 miles from Polish capital and 14 miles from German border. In north they captured Narva. Americans in Normandy gained five miles through Germans around St. Lo, taking 1 towns. Northern fourth of Tinian is land was taken by Yanks while situation on Guam was not much changed

For The Home Dressmaker

If you are making your own dress this summer, you might like to ask yourself the following questions:

1. Are the trimmings or tailoring touches right for the dress style?
2. Decide on decorative finishes and have appearance of dress in mind before starting to sew. Whether to use tailoring touches or trimmings will depend on the style of dress and the kind of material. In general, such finishes as double rows of stitching are best on plain styles and fabrics where they will show to advantage. Select a trimming that is as sturdy as the material. It will look better and will not fray or get seamy before the dress is worn out.
3. Does dress lie smooth and flat with no lumpy seams or clumsy finishes?
4. Is dress constructed sturdily, so it will not pull apart? Whatever the style of dress, to be outwardly smart it must have a smooth look with seams and hems scarcely showing on the right side unless they are part of the decorative design. Flat finishes and sturdy construction must be considered together. A dress might be finished so it is strong, yet bulky and clumsy, or finished flat and not hold together.

Important to flat, sturdy construction is the way the seams are made. On firm materials, seams can be pressed open and raw edges overcast or pinked. Medium weight cottons and rayons may have seams pressed to one side and raw edges stitched together about 1/4-inch from seam line. Most thin fabrics are better with French seams—a seam inside a seam.

Hems on washable dresses are usually satisfactory when turned under at the top, stitched, and then hemmed to the dress.

Trimming off excess material is another aid to flat finish. Wherever seams are hidden inside a facing or collar they can be cut to 1/4-inch width. Cut off seam allowance at collar and pocket corners so they'll be sharp and smooth when turned to the right side. On rounded sections as necklines, clipping seam allowance every half-inch from edge of seam just to stitching helps the curve lie flat.

Pressing darts, tucks, pleats, seams before they're joined to another part of dress is indispensable to a smooth appearance. Otherwise, there'll be bumping where a horizontal seam crosses a lengthwise one.

AND WE'VE SET ASIDE $1,500,000 TO HELP BRING THEM TRUE

$1,500,000 is a lot of money in West Virginia. That's the amount the Monongahela System has definitely earmarked for building new rural lines in just the first year after World War II is won.

Plans are ready. Construction will begin as soon as WPB releases necessary materials and manpower becomes available.

For years Monongahela System has followed a comprehensive plan for rural electrification, believing that stable progress for the state and for this company depends substantially upon our agricultural industry.

The $1,500,000 expansion program is just a part of that plan... our newly enlarged Agricultural Department is another.

Have a Coca-Cola = Viva!
(YEAH MAN!)

...or being the good neighbor in Brazil

Your American's good-natured invitation Have a "Coke" is a good-neighbor policy in three short words. It marks that brand of friendliness which our fighting men carry with them everywhere among our Allies. In many lands from Alaska to South Africa, Coca-Cola is spreading the custom of the pause that refreshes,—that refreshing moment devoted to just being friendly. Enjoy it at home, too, with frosty Coca-Cola from your own refrigerator.

A Post-war Plan to Help "Small Business"...

in a series of ads on
post-war opportunities

Every business starts small. No business, however large, can function without good smaller businesses working with it day by day. The oil wells and refineries of Esso Marketers could not sell their output without the vast army of local, independent dealers and distributors who bring the bulk of our products to you.

At war, we have seen these businessmen do a magnificent job.

They have worked under most difficult rationing restrictions. Their manpower shortage has grown worse and worse. They have had to push old equipment to the limit.

And still they have done an outstanding job in helping to hold the nation's transportation together.

After the war they will have new tough problems to face—in modernizing facilities, replacing old equipment, expanding their businesses.

To help them do this we announce the Esso Marketers Business Assistance Plan.

THE PLAN, which will be revised from time to time to keep pace with new developments, includes:

1. Suggestions for post-war service station designs.
2. A list of recommended equipment now generally available, to which will be added new equipment from time to time.
3. Modernization of existing service stations to meet post-war needs for petroleum products and the handling of other services for automobiles, trucks and air travel.

4. This plan faces the fact that many of these smaller businessmen will not come through the war with financial reserves equal to their sound business expansion needs. This plan will supplement the service of local commercial banks in lending money to see these men "over the hump" of post-war needs.

Anyone interested in the plan, and qualified for its help, may write:

Printer's Ink, a weekly magazine devoted to advertising, management and sales, started something way back in March when they published a letter from Leonard Dreyfuss, President of United Advertising Corporation, in which he proposed that "some sound, clear thinkers get together and agree upon a definition of 'free enterprise' that 'John Q. Public' can absorb."

Letters in answer to Mr. Dreyfuss still continue to pour in. They come from soldiers and employees as well as from top executives. All seem to qualify as "clear thinkers" and all have shown unusual zeal and interest in describing free enterprise. There is general agreement on one important point: free enterprise is a symbol for liberty, democracy and independence, it was for this that America was founded and it is for this that we have fought and are fighting today.

This is an encouraging sign of the times. Here are Americans from all classes speaking out for themselves. Each individual definition may not be important by itself, but the widespread, continued interest for all these months is of utmost importance.

These correspondents have not indicated in any way that free enterprise is outmoded. They do not seem to feel that a streamlined form of benevolent government supported by high taxes, promising security for all, is a desirable substitute. They have written from camps and battlefields as well as from office desks to affirm stoutly their interest in maintaining free enterprise. Although they have offered many individual definitions, there has been unanimous appraisal of free enterprise as one of the first essentials of American democracy.

Perhaps the simplest definition of all and one which may express the objectives of the great majority, is one offered recently by Dr. Harley L. Lutz, of Princeton University: "If you want to make a dollar by any honest means you are free to try it, and if you succeed, you may keep it."

Kaylor Regrets That Some Do Not Favor Prisoner Camps Here

Expresses His Reasons In Letter To The Republican

Joseph F. Kaylor, state forester, in a letter to the editor of The Republican, points out the advantages of having war prisoners in this area to help clean up the forests and other areas damaged by the tornado of June 25, and expresses his regret that the County Commissioners did not approve the plan.

His letter which also mentions the hazard of a running fire in the timber blown down by the storm, is as follows:

"I am sorry to learn, from your issue of July 20, that the Garrett County Commissioners have disapproved the use of war prisoners in a clean-up of the tornado area. The Department of State Forests and Parks asked for these men to work primarily on State land because down timber not only offers a very serious fire hazard, but deteriorates rapidly in salvage value. At the same time, it is believed that those private landowners who suffered from the tornado should be accorded the same opportunity as the State to restore their properties and secure from them the maximum money returns possible in the circumstances. Only prompt action will ensure this.

"For such a project as I have just described, the cost of putting the CCC camps in shape for occupancy would be borne by the State. Neither the county nor any private landowners would be called upon for funds. At present, we have a war prisoner camp on the Green Ridge State Forest, for pulpwood production, the operation of which has been entirely satisfactory.

"In conclusion, let me say that should a running fire get into this tornado-stricken timber and slash before we are able to cut adequate firebreaks throughout the area, the resulting damage to public and private property would, in all probability, be considerably greater than any likely to be wrought by escaped prisoners. It is the responsibility of this Department to anticipate such contingencies. That is what it has done in the present case, and it is a matter for regret that Garrett County authorities are disinclined to cooperate in a project so much in the public interest.

The Commissioners, at their meeting two weeks ago, expressed their non-interest and said that a number of citizens had lodged protests with them. The discussion pre and con became widespread when the War Manpower commission asked for a survey of sentiment in this area.

Mr. Kaylor, while here in the county last Friday, was anxious that business men of this area discover first hand how satisfactory conditions had been with war prisoners in Allegheny county in not only the forests but among orchard growers.

Steady Rain Needed To Stop Crop Loss

Although some sections of Garrett county received a plentiful supply of rain yesterday, other sections were not so fortunate, and a steady rain is badly needed to prevent a heavy loss of farm crops and victory gardens. Crops are already parched from lack of rain and continued heat.

Mayor L. M. Fraley said this morning that both town reservoirs were full and one well was not even being used.

Buyers Registered Jersey

A registered Jersey was recently purchased by Herbert B. Buckle, of Bittling, according to information received by The Republican from the American Jersey Cattle Club.

Dwelling Destroyed By Fire Near Altamont Sunday Evening

A large house, occupied by two families, was completely destroyed by fire last Sunday night, near Altamont, on the south side of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad tracks. The place was formerly known as Wilson Station.

The house, owned by Layman Upde, was occupied by Richard Sollars and Marvin Rohrbach and their families. The two families lost all their furniture and other goods.

The Oakland firemen were called and made an immediate response, but by the time they had made the ten-mile run the house was a mass of flames. They prevented the spread to other buildings, however.

The house, owned by Layman Upde, was occupied by Richard Sollars and Marvin Rohrbach and their families. The two families lost all their furniture and other goods.

Pvt. Charles Lee Is Awarded Purple Heart In Italy Battle Zone

Gormanian Soldier Now With A Hospital Unit

Private Charles Lee, son of Mrs. Mary Lee, of Gormanian, West Virginia, has been decorated with the Order of the Purple Heart and is now a ward attendant with General Hospital Unit from Northwestern University, stationed with the Allied Headquarters in Italy. Men of the unit have been overseas 19 months and are members of the Peninsular Base Section.

Since the hospital's opening in Africa it has lost less than one percent of its patients through death. The men, all Army trained technicians, work long hours on wards and in surgery keeping a constant vigil over sick and wounded soldiers brought in from the fighting front. Six of these men have been awarded the Legion of Merit.

Over 50 percent of the enlisted personnel are ex-combat soldiers who have been reclassified because of wounds received at the front. All the men have served in combat areas on detached service during the Italian campaign. Many were on the Anzio Beachhead while others were spread among hospitals across the entire Fifth Army front.

Garrett County Oil Men Meet Tuesday

The Garrett County Petroleum Industries Committee met Tuesday night to elect officers for the coming year and to discuss problems facing the industry and the highway users of the county. State Secretary J. C. Darrell, Baltimore, met with the local organization.

"Because of the War, the importance of highway transportation has been emphatically brought to the attention of the American people," stated Ray Toets, Chairman of the Committee. "The present War could not be carried on successfully without our highway system."

"We are vitally interested in our highway user customers who pay the taxes which make our roads possible. Post-War plans call for tremendous expenditures for road building. We want to be sure that these roads will be financed on a sound economic basis which will primarily consider the ability to pay."

"In order for the State to have the needed roads, all Motor Vehicle revenue must be dedicated exclusively for the maintenance and construction of roads. To guarantee this, an Anti-Diversion Amendment to the Constitution must be accomplished. Fourteen forward looking States have such Amendments and in fairness to those who pay for roads, we need an amendment here."

The following officers were elected for 1944-45: Ray Toets, Chairman; C. C. Reckard, Vice-Chairman; and F. B. Leighton, Secretary.

Forestry Service May Install Radio System In County

A radio system for use in communication in forest fire control in Garrett county may be installed soon, if equipment can be made available. William H. Johnson, district forester, disclosed.

Under present plans a portable unit and two mobile units will be installed in Garrett county, a similar number in Allegheny county, and one portable and one mobile unit in Frederick county.

By use of the radio system it will be possible to keep patrolmen in critical fire areas and at the same time summon them with little loss of time when they are needed in other sections, it was explained. He said the system should not only save time and automobile mileage but should eliminate waiting for service when party line telephones now used at the towers are busy. In event of a critical fire period Johnson said the radio can be used to have additional equipment rushed to the scene from various parts of the state.

Tests of the radio were made last week in the county by H. C. Buckenham, assistant forester in charge of fire control, and Douglas Parr, radio technician for the department of forests and parks, and proved satisfactory.

The Avilton Community

Three men, including a Frostburg policeman, a Frostburg grill proprietor and a Garrett county farmer were arrested by federal investigators of the Alcohol tax unit when they raided a seventy-five-gallon still on the farmer's property about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The investigators identified the men as George Tipping, the policeman; George K. Katsanis, the grill proprietor, and James Green, the farmer, of near Avilton.

Confiscated by the officers along with the still were seventy-five gallons of mash and four and one-half gallons of whiskey.

Both Tipping and Katsanis, they added, will be tried before a trial magistrate at Oakland on Friday on charges of having whiskey in their possession on which the tax had not been paid.

Katsanis was caught with two one-gallon jugs of whiskey, according to the officers, and as they took him into custody, the officers said Green and Tipping approached to inquire what was going on and they were arrested.

WHEN THE SERGEANT TRADES HIS TANK FOR A Tractor

★ One day soon, the Sergeant will "turn-in" his 30-ton giant, the "Sluggin' Sue", and return to his farm.

For years, he'll remember the sweltering jungles and numbered hills. He'll recall the excitement that swept the base when a ship from home came in. He'll never forget that his actual existence depended on the regular arrival of those ships... on the food, medicines and supplies they carried.

At home again, he'll find transportation nearly of equal importance. In business and pleasure, the railroads will be a vital part of his everyday life... bringing seed, fertilizer and equipment to his farm, taking his grain, livestock and produce to markets.

Today, the Baltimore & Ohio is busy moving goods toward the Sergeant and his comrades. Tomorrow, with final victory, our 70,000 workers and 11,000 miles of track will be ready to give all B&O users even greater speed, comfort and convenience than they enjoy today... B&O service that will fit America's peacetime needs.

Miss Beulah Engle Is Only Woman To Serve On Triple-A Units

Miss Beulah Engle of near Grantsville, received a share of publicity in the Baltimore Sun of last Friday morning, as being one of three women in the state who were aiding on the triple-A committees, and the only one actually serving on a county committee.

The article said of Miss Engle: "Miss Engle, who is the only woman member of an AAA county committee in the state, was elected to her position by fellow-Garrett county farmers because of the production record of her farm. The 1944 production program of Englewood Farm includes 20 acres of hay, 22 acres of oats, 17 acres of corn, 8 acres of peas, 3 acres of potatoes, 6 acres of wheat, 3 acres of buckwheat and a herd of beef cattle."

"As a member of the county AAA committee, Miss Engle assists in the administration of the AAA war foods production and soil conservation programs, in rationing farm machinery, in organizing the 2000 Garrett county farmers to meet war food goals and in various other AAA projects."

"Despite these duties, visitors usually will find Miss Engle out in her fields operating a tractor or a team of horses, or counseling a farmer in the solution of production or conservation problems." A photograph accompanying the article showed Miss Engle shaking hands with Jos. F. Blandford, State AAA chairman.

FOUR MORE YEARS? FORBID IT!

People who would like to get the war over and have the boys back home will not fail to take note of the most significant statement in President Roosevelt's acceptance speech.

He "predicted" that in another four years the world will be at peace and "new hands will then have an opportunity to realize the ideals which we seek."

If the parents whose sons are fighting overseas are willing to have this war and its aftermath strung out for another four years just in order to have Roosevelt remain the dictator, all they have to do is to cast their vote for the New Deal ticket. That will surely mean another four years of national and international crisis.

Surely no one will deny that the main purpose of the New Deal thru-out the past eleven and a half years has been to keep the country in a state of "emergency." The New Deal kept itself in office by fomenting and perpetuating emergency.

The time has come for some plain, hard thinking on the part of the people of the country. Another four years of the same kind as the past four years will see this nation on crutches, to say the least.

If you listened to the proceedings of the Roosevelt convention, you did not fail to notice that the main theme of the assembled fanatics was to detract attention from the awful, bloody record of the New Deal by invading the graves of Harding and Coolidge and slandering Hoover and all others who have opposed the present administration.

They know that if the people keep their minds on the false promises of the New Deal and on its record of bungling they will have no chance of keeping themselves in office. Hence they try to belittle the Republican candidates who stand for returning the nation to a safe peace-time condition.

The New Dealers devoted all their time (when they were not praising Roosevelt or slandering the Republican party) to telling what they are going to do for the WORLD—THE WHOLE WORLD.

IT WAS NOT A NATIONAL CONVENTION—IT WAS A CONVENTION OF WORLD POLITICIANS!

They propose to take care of the WORLD AT LARGE and let this country FOOT THE BILL.

The President commandeered a special train and traveled with his personal police force, his wife and other politicians across the continent in order to radio his speech of "acceptance" to the convention. He said he was out there in the performance of his duty under the Constitution!

Can anyone find in the Constitution any clause authorizing the President to ride in a special train across the continent in order to tell his own convention that he will run for a fourth term?

And yet, who will deny that this silly excursion was a fitting climax to the four-day pagan worship at Chicago? Only those who want to will believe the trip was anything but a spectacular attempt to make the people believe he was on a "war mission." His train moved West over the northern route—the longest route—so he could stop at Chicago and give his orders to his convention bosses and thus make sure that everything was going to plan, including the bungled job of killing off Wallace.

It was evident from the tone of the President's speech that he realizes he is in the tightest spot of his checkered career. He seemed to sense that all the phlegm-throated abuse of the Republicans by his hand-picked convention manipulators and all the screeching of hysterical women about what a great man he is was not having the desired effect of causing the mothers and fathers to forget his solemn promise in 1940 not to send their boys overseas.

That promise—the crowning broken promise of his official life—is the one on which he is now judged and the one on which he will stand or fall.

DIARY OF THE WAR

FRIDAY—Russians captured six major bases of Nazis and stormed across Vistula river near Warsaw, last big barrier east of German border only 140 miles away. Fall of two other strongholds appeared near. In Normandy, American tanks ripped German lines wide open from St. Lo to the sea, causing chaotic retreat of enemy. Losses and Porters were in American hands and Comanches was in grasp of Allies. Lieut. Gen. McNair was killed by enemy fire in Normandy. He was known as "brains of the army." Polish troops in Italy drove 17 miles on Adriatic side. Bombers blasted steel works in Hungary. U. S. planes were using an airfield on Tinian island. Four hundred Japs in attempt to break out of Orate peninsula on Guam were killed. An Allied tank force damaged Salang, Sumatra 250 miles from Singapore. Robot bombs were causing alarm in London.

SATURDAY—Reds swept through three more German strongholds and were closing in on Warsaw. Another column was 128 miles from German Silesia. Six American armored columns were spearheading in U. S. breakthrough west of St. Lo. Normandy fields were strewn with wreckage of Rommel's army and many prisoners were being taken. Leaning tower of Pisa appeared about to be blasted as Germans were using it for observation. British were 7 miles from Florence. 3,000 planes struck at synthetic fuel plants in heart of Germany and Rumania. American troops stalled on Guam, annihilated 2,000 counterattacking enemy. Carrier aircraft swept over Rota island, while one-third of Tinian was in hands of marines. A Turkish break with Germany was believed near.

SUNDAY—Reds advanced through Baltic states to about 5 miles from Kaunas, cleared enemy from eastern bank of Vistula river up to confluence with San river and tightened encirclement of remnants of three trapped German divisions. Warsaw was being shelled by Reds. Gains were also made in southern Poland. The U. S. trap appeared closing on Nazis in Normandy and Nazis threw in an armored division in unsuccessful effort to halt Allied advance. In six days Allies had pushed forward about 25 miles, captured 6,000 Germans, overrun 500 square miles of territory, captured 60 cities including major strong points, captured much equipment. Destruction of 17 more Jap vessels by American subs was reported. Allies in Italy pressed on toward Florence. Yanks tightened traps on Japs on Guam and Tinian. Superforts bombed Anshan, key industrial city in Mukden area of Manchuria, the first daylight raid for these big bombers, and the third on Japan's home installations.

MONDAY—A British offensive in Normandy gained about 5 miles, matching American gains of day previous. Reds advanced on Kaunas and East Prussian frontier, gaining 15 miles on 68-mile front; retook 300 towns, and crossed river on Warsaw front. British were in sight of city of Florence in Italy. Heavy bombers reported Normandy fighting and 500 from Italy hit aircraft factories and oil fields and rail yards. A new secret American weapon on Guam and Tinian was proving devastating. Guam's harbor was firmly in American hands and Marines took airport on Tinian. Reports persisted that Nazi marshal Rommel was dead. Chinese troops entered a Jap base in Yunnan province. Details of third attack on Japs by superforts showed heavy damage to war industries of the enemy.

TUESDAY—American troops in 16-mile southward plunge have burst out of Normandy peninsula beyond the town of Avranches, 40 miles from jumping off point of last Tuesday. Remnants of eight German divisions were being rounded up. Russians continued to sweep across Poland and Baltics, and were at gates of Warsaw. Seizure of three Nazi strongholds was announced as Reds were 15 miles of pre-war frontier of East Prussia. Allied troops in Italy registered small gains around Florence. 1,200 American heavies slashed at Hitler's war industries. American forces on Guam and Tinian were forcing Japs into hopeless traps, cutting forces in two on Guam. Japs broke into city of Hengyang in China. Allies landed on Dutch New Guinea, on Vogelkop peninsula, isolating 15,000 Japs. It was termed "the last operation of the New Guinea campaign." Germans issue. Everyone knows that the vice-president under Roosevelt has no more say than John Doe. The nomination of Senator Truman means that another yes man has been taken on to replace a yes man, and the people will not be fooled.

The President's statement that he is not going to campaign in "the usual sense of the word" is not fooling anybody either. He knows but one way, the way of padded payrolls and waste of public money, in addition to anything and everything in the way of promises.

It is a simple proposition: Will the U. S. be willing to entrust the winning of the war and the making of the peace in the hands and keeping of one who has betrayed them so tragically in the past?

The Shinnston News.

were using rocket-propelled fighter planes against Yanks.

WEDNESDAY—Nazis began burning the ancient capital of Poland preparatory to abandoning it. Russians assaulted Praga, suburb across Vistula river. Reds captured Kaunas, pre-war Lithuanian capital and land communication between East Prussia and Germans in Baltic area were cut. Marshal Mannerheim, 77, became president of Finland upon resignation of Risto Rytty. American infantry in France plunged ten miles below Avranches, bagged 7,812 prisoners, and penetrated into Brittany, and forced themselves into Percy, 14 miles below St. Lo. Marines threw back fanatic Jap counterattacks on Tinian and drove enemy into hideouts. Other forces pressed attack on Guam. Japs claimed Yanks had attempted landings on Rota island. Eighth army was closing in on Florence in Italy. Reds were 326 miles from Berlin. Allies 630 via Normandy, 605 via Italy.

THURSDAY—American forces were nearly halfway across Brest peninsula, sweeping almost unchecked in drive to sever peninsula from French interior and win ports of Brest and St. Nazaire. British troops wheeled eastward in effort to crush enemy resistance below Caen. Churchill disclosed 4,755 Britons killed, 14,000 injured by rocket bombs. 817,000 houses destroyed or damaged. Russians took town 8 miles from East Prussia border; their fleet and air force massing in Baltic to cut off flight by water of German forces trapped. Turkey broke diplomatic and economic relations with Axis. Marines advanced a mile on Guam.

By FRANK R. KENT.

Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

Washington, July 29. ONE OF the difficulties Republicans experience in this campaign is to find a line of attack upon Mr. Roosevelt and his administration to which people generally will respond. There is no lack of things for which they can be indicted and against the Administration is a black one and would be sustained in any unbiased court.

BUT, IT can't be presented in court; it has to be presented to the American voters, not any too large a proportion of whom is understanding or susceptible to reason. For twelve years millions of them have been anesthetized by the billions of taxpayers' money which the New Deal has poured out and fascinated by the glittering baubles which the master showman in the White House has kept in the air. And two years ago, when it seemed the people were about to come out of their daze, the war came along. It was an amazing piece of luck for the New Dealers that just as the country was getting on to them, the war should afford an almost complete protection.

IT OFFERED a vast blanket under which they could conceal innumerable faults and escape the penalty of ghastly failures. Wrapping that blanket around their candidate, they are using it now to secure a fourth Roosevelt term. It is the clear strategy to push all domestic matters to the rear, keep the war always to the front and run Mr. Roosevelt not as a party nominee but as Commander in Chief. In this, the President is setting the pace as shown by his dramatic address to the convention from a Pacific naval base. And, he is being greatly aided in this effort by the CIO publicity outfit, which refers to him always as Commander in Chief instead as President.

PERHAPS they will get away with it, but they should not. They should let, for example, be able to keep from the people the facts about what Mr. Roosevelt has done to the Federal Bench in his twelve years of office. Back in 1937, he made an attempt to pack the Supreme Court. This did arouse the American people to such a degree that it failed. Certainly, many who had liked Mr. Roosevelt up to that time have no faith in him since. But, it was not until seven years later that the full story of what he has done to the Federal judiciary became clear. It is devastating indictment and it ought to arouse great popular indignation. The problem is, with Mr. Roosevelt running as Commander in Chief, to get any national attention for the facts.

MANY think that of all the things the President has done the extent to which he has laid political hands on the courts is really the worst. He has brought the Federal Bench to the lowest level in its history. Since 1932, he has named 62 percent of the judges on the United States Supreme Court and District Courts—or 156 out of 259. Of these, 153 are New Dealers, 2 are Republicans and 1 a Progressive. Republican Presidents have named Democrats to the Bench and Democratic Presidents have named Republicans, but never before has any President done what Mr. Roosevelt has done. As Mr. Samuel Pettin-gill says, its closest parallel is to be found in Germany.

IT IS not, Mr. Pettin-gill points out, that a Republican, as such, makes a better judge than a Democrat. It is that the packing of the Federal Bench with judges of one political creed, of itself, destroys confidence in the integrity of the Bench. And if people lose respect for their judges, then the whole American system is damaged, because respect for the judiciary is basic and vital. Mr. Roosevelt has named eight men to the Supreme Court, every one of whom has been his strong political supporter. Seven of the eight never served on an important court. Three of them never tried a case before the court to which they were appointed. Mr. Rutledge, the only Roosevelt appointee who had served on a lower Federal Bench, in 1937 joined in the demand to pack the court.

IN BRIEF, his judicial appointees have been exclusively New Deal adherents and close political friends. Today, his Supreme Court selections are snapping and barking at each other as never before. There is lowered respect for the court and lessened regard for its stability. Its actions can no longer be measured by its previous judgments. Some of its members, encouraged by the President, developed political aspirations. One was endorsed by him for the Vice-Presidential nomination at the recent convention. Another frequently is consulted about and makes recommendations for political appointments. Another accepted an assignment from the President that took him away from the court for a long time.

NOT ONLY the dignity of the Court has been diminished but its great traditions of aloofness from politics and absence of personal ambition have disappeared. It is split in embittered factions and there are no yardsticks left by which its course can be measured. When this is added to the extraordinary way in which the lower Federal Courts have been politicized, the effect has been to undermine popular confidence in the Federal judiciary, which is a pretty dreadful thing. With Mr. Roosevelt making for a fourth term these facts ought to be presented. To use the art to divert public attention from them and from other domestic despondencies is clearly the aim.

"THE LIFE OF A HUNTER."

By Michael Browning
Is being eagerly read by thousands of hunters and their families from coast to coast. It contains 450 pages of the most thrilling stories of land-to-land fighting with furious bucks, bears, wolves and panthers. The tenth edition is nearly exhausted and war restrictions will cause indefinite delay in printing more. No family in Garrett County should fail to secure a copy while they last. Hunters, Teachers and Advanced Scouts should, by all means, have a copy of this delightful book, $2.00 postpaid.

Have a "Coke" = What's the hurry?

...a way to be carefree in the Caribbean

Between spells of duty at our southern outposts, the American soldier knows how to relax. Have a "Coke", says a thirsty Yank, and it's like a friendly invitation to fun or a chin-fest...the same as when you serve Coca-Cola in your home. From the Caribbean to the Arctic, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes,—has become the high-sign of friendliness many places overseas.

Priority Control

From a news article we find: "Unless paper production for military use is increased the government may have to curtail supplies for publishers and commercial printers and impose complete priority control over paper, the War Production Board reported."

There are two things I don't like about that statement. One is "complete priority control." That is what Roosevelt wants over everything, and that is what he points to in everything he does.

Every piece of publicity we get from the hundreds of government agencies carries a hint of the direction which the present leaders in Washington hope we will go.

From one: "mention was also made that stern measures would be exercised against employers who failed to include the name and social security account number of each employee in the quarterly social security tax return." Now, wouldn't that be criminal?

The same agency, in another story, boasts that there are 13,000 employees in their group, including those in 450 field offices throughout the nation, 45 million persons now contributing to the fund, and with enactment of proposed legislation another 20 million "are anticipated."

We still remember back in April, in direct violation of the Bill of Rights, President Roosevelt ordered the armed seizure of the Montgomery Ward plant, a private concern not engaged in war production. Backed by the attorney general, Francis Biddle, it left the way open for the President to do anything he pleases, using the flimsy pretext that "war powers" give him the right.

Propaganda is already coming to this office which continues to mention Roosevelt as the "commander in chief." There is a regulation that forbids anyone in the armed forces from taking part in political activities. But he uses the title for political reasons. He used a special train to go from Washington to the west coast so he could give his acceptance speech from a naval base, making it appear he was vital to the war. He stopped in Chicago long enough to direct some of the political activities here. Civilians of course are urged not to use the trains except upon necessity, yet he can disrupt an entire railroad system by an unnecessary special train on an unnecessary mission - for political reasons.

We are already to the point where those in power feel "the king can do no wrong." Citizens are prevented from sending congratulatory messages by telegraph, yet he used the wires to congratulate Senator Truman.

"Complete priority control." It sure looks like it's on the way unless we check it in November.

The second thing I don't like about the original statement was the absence of any mention of cutting down on use of paper by the federal government itself, among those bureaus which are not connected with war work.

While the paper shortage is acute, the propaganda agents of the anti-trust New Deal agencies know nothing of it. Reams of paper with material that goes straight to the wastebasket, continue to pour into this office, with requests that it be published. If they would only be more careful and keep the ink marks off the backs of the pages we might use it for copy paper but it's not even usable for that purpose.

Recently the spotters were inactivated. Each one was given a certificate, printed in two colors, on paper that no commercial printing company is able to buy. With the certificate three letters were given, one from a major, one from the secretary of war, and one from a colonel, all saying about the same thing in words of praise. Four sheets of paper to every spotter, not only here but in thousands of communities all over this land. Multiply such unnecessary use of paper by the thousands and you get a paper shortage. Maybe that's what Roosevelt wants. What would be more to his advantage than no paper available for the only independent agency that remains in the country, the free press, so criticism of his acts as sovereign ruler can't be distributed to the people who hear his voice over the radio and believe his promises that each time will be the last time he will run.

Now if he doesn't use his position as "commander in chief" to order our boys to slow up a little, those driving Yanks might have the European war over before the election and the Pac-

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Helen M. Martien vs. Kenneth Martien. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland. The object of this suit is to procure a decree of divorce of the plaintiff, a vinculo matrimonii, from the defendant, Kenneth Martien.

The Bill states: That the parties were married April 30th, 1939; that no children were born of the marriage; that the defendant abandoned and deserted her on December 13th, 1939, since which date she has not lived or cohabited with him; that the defendant is not a resident of Maryland, and that the plaintiff is a resident of Garrett County, Maryland, and has been since 1939; that the last known address of the defendant was Moundsville, West Virginia. That said abandonment has continued uninterruptedly to the date of filing of plaintiff's bill.

Servicemen On Leave Will Get More Gas

Servicemen home on leave will be entitled to one gallon of gasoline for each day of their leave up to a maximum of thirty gallons, according to officials of the War Price and Rationing Board.

Under the new system the rationing ration will range from a minimum of three gallons for a three-day furlough up to the thirty-gallon limit. No ration will be granted for leaves or liberties of less than three days, the officials said.

Non-Members Of Car Pools Face Gasoline Cut

The State Office of Price Administration yesterday sent telegrams to all War Price and Rationing Boards in Maryland urging that they begin immediately to issue supplemental B and C gasoline coupons on a 30-day probationary period instead of the usual three-month period to persons who have failed to form riding clubs or car pools for their home-to-work driving.

OPA officials said the new regulation is aimed largely at office workers and other white collar workers whose gasoline rationing has not come under the supervision of plant transportation committees.

Homemakers' Column

THE HOME CANNER

The following questions are often asked by homemakers who are attempting to put up their home food supply. Research people working in the field of home canning gives the following answers to the frequently asked questions:

Q. Sometimes I have small amounts of fruits. Is there any reason why I shouldn't can jars of two kinds at once, if both take the same amount of processing?

A. No reason why not, as far as processing goes, provides you can put enough to have a succession of apples and one of plums ready boiling hot, as to fill jars of each and load the canner quickly.

Q. How can I figure in advance how much liquid to allow for canning fruit?

A. Amounts needed are found to vary because some fruit yields so much juice when heated than other fruit. Also, some fruit settles more compactly than others. For a good proportion of liquid to add food allow on the average 3-4 to one cup of juice or syrup for each quart jar.

Q. What will keep home-canned tomatoes from separating?

A. Some settling of solid particles is to be expected, and juice is easily shaken up to blend at time of serving. However, if good canning directions are followed closely, there should be less separation. Soft but sound tomatoes make good juice, but overripe ones tend to separate, and should not be canned in any case. Too much of the little heat adds will cause solid particles to settle. Juice separated from the seeds will have less solid matter, but you lose some food value.

Q. How can I keep fruit especially peaches, from darkening when canned?

A. Heating fruit before jars are filled and processed helps to prevent darkening. Raw-packed food heats more slowly during processing, and air in the tissues has more chance to cause darkening. Jars of fruit packed raw also lose more liquid during canning, and this may leave some fruit high and dry, so that it will darken. Allowing too much heat or too little during processing may also cause darkening—so follow directions closely. Darkening does not make the canned fruit unfit to eat if it is otherwise normal.

Q. Why is it so important to drive the air out of a steam pressure canner?

A. If air mixes with steam in the canner, the temperature will be lower than it should be, and some jars of food may not get heated as much as they need to destroy spoilage bacteria.

Q. What causes my canned lima beans and peas to look cloudy in the jar where there is no sign of spoilage?

A. Starchy material in the food may have got out into the liquid. Or hard water or free running table salt may cause the liquid to be milky. If there is no sign of spoilage, this does not indicate any harm to the food.

A Great American Speaks

By MRS. KERMIT GLOFFELY

LAST WEEK we heard a statement made by a great American, Governor Thomas E. Dewey, Republican Presidential nominee, repudiated a remark made by another prominent member of his own political party who had brought up a racial problem in connection with the coming election.

Governor Dewey said, "Anyone who injects a racial or religious issue into a political campaign is guilty of a disgraceful, un-American act. I have fought that kind of thing all my life, and I always will, regardless of partisan consideration."

By that statement, Governor Dewey is giving renewed emphasis to that fact that here in our beloved land has existed in a larger sense than in any other land, tolerance for all races and creeds, and that it was the Christian conviction of the founders of our nation that here should be founded a nation, conceived in Liberty, for all people. Here oppressed people from all lands have found new hope and new opportunities. It is the secret of our national greatness, and we should be determined to keep it that way.

Of the false political philosophies, which in the opinion of one writer, is sending Europe back to the Dark Ages, Governor Dewey has this to say, and I quote: "Any political philosophy which defies a nation or a race, is incompatible with a religion that teaches the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man."

That statement would apply to those of any nation who hold in contempt any other creed or race. We should be on our guard, lest it happen here.

Governor Dewey by these statements has acquired a new stature for himself in the minds of millions of his fellowmen. He has shown himself to be bigger than any party and that he refuses to sacrifice his principles for any political gain. He has shown himself worthy of the high honor, given him as a leader of a great political party.

He has attempted to keep the coming political campaign on a high level, free of racial and petty bickering. In this he is expressing the wish of his fellowmen who desire to see the campaign carried on in an intelligent manner, with the real issues of the campaign brought before the people.

Whatever his political future may be, he has increased the stature of himself as a great leader for many of us, and tried to raise national politics to a new level.

We have been listening to a great American speak!

Lawn Tennis Group Approves Tourney For Mt. Lake Park

Event to be Held on Park Courts August 24, 25 And 26, When Veterans Will Return

The Mt. Lake Park Tennis Club's War Bond-Invitation Tournament, to be held August 24th-26th, has received the official sanction of the Middle Atlantic Lawn Tennis Association, J. Patrick Beacom, president of the club, announced.

Several veterans of the previous Western Maryland Championship tournaments are expected. Among them are Alex Kelles, Frank Roberts, Al Baker, and Ed LaFleur, all of Baltimore. New players this year include William and Walter Woelke, two of Baltimore's best rated players; Walter Reuchel, executive secretary to the Mayor of Baltimore, and one of that city's ranking players has also been listed as an entry.

Bill Shrive, now in the service, stationed in Washington, and formerly one of the ten top ranking racket wielders in the south, has been entered along with Congressman Jennings Randolph, H. J. Hanna and Col. Reginald Davey, also of the Nation's Capitol.

Jimmy Allen, three times state champion from Charleston, and Red Brown, twice winner of the Western Maryland Championship tourney, from Elkins, will be leading contenders from West Virginia.

The approval of the tournament by the Lawn Tennis Association has assured a gala list of entrants for Mt. Lake Park's tournament. Every indication points to a highly successful tournament this year in anticipation of the returning day when the Mt. Lake Park Tennis Club can once again resume the series of Western Maryland Tennis Championships, which have been discontinued until the end of the war.

Fishing in Deep Creek Reaching Satisfactory Heights

The fishing in Deep Creek Lake this year is apparently reaching satisfactory heights, and a number of sports writers on daily newspapers are giving space to the activities of this area.

A number of papers have carried accounts of those who have been successful in snaring some of the larger fish, in particular the one weighing six and one-half pounds, caught by C. Arden May, of Melleny.

In his "Up the Stream" column in the Washington Herald of Sunday and Monday, Bob Wilson speaks of May's catch, and also what Frank Bentz, Administrative Assistant of fisheries of the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission, says of the season. Bentz declared that "We are getting any number of reports of fine catches of large-mouthed bass that are weighing better than five pounds." While in Garrett county last week Mr. Bentz said he was "surprised to learn of the many fine catches of fish being taken in the lake. For a number of years after Deep Creek Lake was opened to the public it did not do so well, but we finally struck our stride on the proper fish to stock and we are more than pleased with results. As an experiment some years ago we put 50,000 yellow perch fry in the lake and for the past two years have been receiving reports of catches of perch measuring 12 to 14 inches in length with a record one of 16 inches."

The late Dr. Henry McComas, former Senator, was always much interested in the fishing possibilities in Deep Creek Lake, and Senator R. L. Gonder, a member of the Board of State Forests and Parks, is continuing this interest.

Prisoners Seek Incentive Wages

Hancock area fruit growers awaited army action on a request to be allowed to pay piecework wages as an incentive to German prisoners whom they said picked only half as much apples as civilians.

A member of the Hancock Fruit Growers Association quoted officials of the Green Ridge, Md., prisoner camp as saying that the captives could not be paid more than 80 cents a day under the Geneva agreement, but the grower said that association members hoped for permission to work out some type of piecework pay.

Several growers declared that prisoners assigned to them picked an average of only 25 bushels daily while civilians, paid 10 cents a bushel, harvested from 45 to 75 bushels.

One orchardist said a prisoner told him "Give us an incentive and if the Americans pick 80 bushels a day, then we'll pick 100."

The action of Allegany county prisoners is of particular interest at this time when there is talk of a prisoner of war camp in this county.

Town and Service Clubs Providing Funds For Youth

Playground And Swimming Pool Are Being Improved

Money to pay for improvements at the city playground and the swimming pool, and to help support the Oakland band, was made available at the monthly meeting of the Mayor and Town Council, on Monday evening. Money for the playground and band had previously been made available in the budget, amounting to $100.00 for the former, to be paid to the Lions club to add to a similar amount from club members, and $75.00 for the band.

At Monday's meeting the Councilmen agreed to furnish $100.00 to match funds provided by members of the Oakland Rotary club to construct some bathhouses, and provide other conveniences at the swimming pool. It was stated a large number of young people had been using the pool this summer. The two service clubs have had committees working on these recreational activities for many months.

Receipts for the town during July were listed at $3,768.64, with $2,335.50 from water, $857.48 from taxes, and $425.66 from other sources. Expenditures amounted to $1,899.11. Arthur Lawton, clerk-collector, reported cash on hand of $3,649.58, which included $5,500 in the sinking fund, to provide for payment of bonds and interest in October.

Movie tax for July amounted to $70.90. The city attorney was instructed to draw up an ordinance which would prohibit parking of trucks and busses on certain streets of the town. Some complaints had been received, it was stated, about the excess amount of noise and confusion in certain areas, from vehicles and their drivers, at all hours of the night.

Men Involved In Liquor Case Free On Bonds

Face Action In Garrett County Court On Charges Of Possession Of Illegal Whisky

Three men arrested on charges of possessing illegal whisky, after raids by federal officers last week, were held under $500 bond for action of the September term of Garrett County Circuit Court at hearings before Magistrate H. A. Loraditch, at Oakland, last Friday afternoon.

George Tipping, Frostburg policeman, and George K. Katsanis, Frostburg grill proprietor, were arrested Wednesday afternoon on the farm of James Green, near Avilton in Garrett county when federal officers raided a 75-gallon still.

A third man, Francis O. Garlitz, near Beall school on Little Savage mountain, was arrested later Wednesday afternoon in another raid. Officers confiscated 50 gallons of mash and one gallon of whiskey but did not locate the still. When the officers went to Garlitz' home he denied he was operating a still. When he refused permission to search his cellar they told him they would get a search warrant.

The federal raiders left but watched the house from a point of vantage and in short time saw Garlitz and two children, one 11 and the other 12 years old, carrying mash and whiskey from the house, officers said. Garlitz was arrested about 300 yards from his home. The arresting officers were Charles E. Cushman, Hagerstown; John Barton and Oliver G. Briggs, Baltimore federal investigators, and Howard P. Loughrie, United States deputy marshal.

Green, arrested on Wednesday, was ordered held for action of the federal grand jury in Baltimore on $500 bond by U. S. Commissioner Wilbur V. Wilson. He is charged with possession of an unregistered still, carrying on the business of a distiller without giving bond, making and fermenting mash fit for distillation and producing distilled spirits of alcohol.

Former Oakland Business Man Dies Wednesday

Henry Lauer, Proprietor Of Oakland Bakery For Over 30 Years, Passes On

Henry Lauer, aged 70 years, proprietor of the Oakland Bakery for over thirty years, until about 1934, and former prominent citizen here, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Edwin Fry, at Cabin Lodge, Deep Creek Lake, about 7 o'clock last evening. He had been in ill health for several months.

Mr. Lauer was born May 30, 1874, in Baden, Germany. He came to America from Germany in 1900, and after a brief stay in New York, moved to Oakland where he established the Oakland Bakery. For many years thereafter Mr. Lauer was active in community circles and in fraternal and church organizations. He was a member of the Lutheran church and several times a member of the church council. He was a member of the Knights of Pythias, and the Oakland Lodge of Masons. He was a 32nd degree Mason. He was also a member of the City Council during his active career. He gave up his business in the early 1930's and went to Washington, D. C., residing there and at Morgantown, W. Va., for a time. He had been residing with his daughter for some time.

Surviving are three daughters and one son, Mrs. Frank Lyon, Clarksburg, W. Va.; Mrs. Wade H. Lohr, Jr., Cumberland; Mrs. Edwin Fry, Oakland; Edward Lauer, Renton, Washington. His wife died twenty years ago, on the exact date of his death, and one son, William Lauer, died just a few years ago. Also surviving are eight grandchildren, and one sister who lives in Germany. Three of his grandsons are in the service, Henry Lyon, South Pacific; Jack Lyon, New Orleans, and Jimmie Lohr, at Bainbridge, all in the U. S. Navy.

The remains are at the Rodden Funeral Home, and funeral services are to be conducted on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Funeral Home with Rev. George D. Forestry Officials Seek Reconsideration From Commissioners

Their Request for Establishment Of War Camp On Meadow Mountain Gets No Support

An appeal to the County Commissioners by the State Forestry Department to reconsider the question of war prisoners in Garrett county, specifically the establishment of a prison camp on the site of the Meadow Mountain CCC camp, met with no success on Tuesday afternoon at the commissioners' office in the Court House.

Speaking for the Forestry department were Joseph F. Kaylor, state forester, and William H. Johnson, district forester. Several others were present before the board to express their opinions.

Mr. Kaylor remarked that the board's refusal to consider the camp which would be used in cleaning out areas damaged by the tornado, and also in obtaining a large quantity of pulp wood for sale, would eliminate the county from participating in possible revenue. He pointed out the possibility of obtaining 25,000 cords of wood, worth $300,000, of which the county would receive fifteen percent, around $45,000, and also said the prisoners would have made it possible for a lot of citizens of the county to be helped in clearing their forest lands of fire hazards, left by the tornado.

Mr. Kaylor said he had challenged the statement by C. E. MacMurray of the Pennsylvania Electric company who reported to the County Commissioners that he believed the officials of the State Department of Forests and Parks were unduly aroused over the danger of forest fires as result of the tornado.

Others who were present at the meeting, including Mayor L. M. Fraley, of Oakland, declared they realized the need of extra labor to gather pulp wood and clear the forests, but that they had misgivings concerning the possibility of escape of the German prisoners and the subsequent danger to civilians.

He received the purple heart award and his parents received the medal this week. They also received a letter from their son telling them not to worry.

POLICE CAPTURE ARMED CONVICTS WHO FLED PRISON

Two Escaped Prisoners Are Arrested On Road Near Accident

The two convicts who escaped from Rockview prison, Bellefonte, Pa., on July 13, were captured by Maryland State Police and Garrett county authorities near Accident early Monday afternoon.

The convicts, one carrying a thirty-two caliber automatic pistol and the other a knife with a seven inch blade, were taken into custody as they walked along a back road leading from Accident to Friendsville.

Sgt. Harold C. Carl, who led the search for the men, said the convicts were taken by surprise although one of them attempted to flee but ran into the arms of Trooper Blair J. Buckel.

Use Black Car
The officers, Carl reported, used a black automobile with regular license plates instead of their khaki-colored car bearing yellow and black tags and evetook the convicts without being recognized.

As the men heard the automobile approaching they turned and looked at it, noticed it was painted a standard color, then turned back and continued walking along the road and made no effort to get away, Carl said. The police soon arrived alongside them, jumped out of the car with pistols poised and took the men into custody.

Carl identified the men as Floyd Goodwin, 29, and Kenneth Aldrich, 27. He said they were convicted of armed holdup and robbery and were serving six to twenty year terms in Rockview prison, a branch of Western State Penitentiary, Pittsburgh, when they escaped and made their getaway in a stolen pickup truck.

Corresponded with Woman
State police received a call from Sheriff George E. Coddington, of Garrett county, at 11:45 a. m., Monday informing them he had information the convicts were in the vicinity of Accident, possibly at the home of Edna Mates, with whom Goodwin had been corresponding while an inmate of the prison, the sergeant said.

Anticipating a gun battle, Carl and Troopers Buckle, Glen D. Folk and Ira G. Unger and the Garrett county officers including Coddington, and Deputy Sheriff William Casteel and Constable J. S. Teets, arrived at the Mates home at 1 p. m.

They left after a search of the five-room dwelling revealed the men were not there but shortly received information that two strange men had been walking toward Friendsville. Carl said the Mates woman told him the men had been at her home several days.

Aldrich Makes Break
Carl said the men were found without much difficulty and added that as the officers jumped from their machine Aldrich made a break in back of the car but ran against Buckel who was getting out on the other side. A search of the men disclosed that Aldrich was carrying the automatic and Goodwin the knife.

In the meantime, Carl reported, Pennsylvania Motor Police had been dispatched to Friendsville and arrived there from Uniontown about twenty minutes after the convicts were arrested. Goodwin and Aldrich were then released to the Pennsylvania officers.

Temperature Drops

Following rains in some sections of the county early this week, the temperature took a sharp drop and official readings at Weber's, east of Oakland, showed 44 degrees on Wednesday morning and 42 degrees this morning. Other readings through the month have been 50 or higher.

One resident reported seeing frost Wednesday morning on top of a freight car that stood on the siding near the B. & O. station.

THE HOME CANNERS CHECK

Many questions are being asked about methods and procedures of preserving foods and about the causes of canned food spoilage. For a homemaker who has trouble with spoilage, a careful check to see that the following things are not being done may reveal the causes:

Using stale, unsound, or over-mature foods.

Letting foods remain too long in closed or tightly packed containers or in warm places before being canned.

Canning more material at one time than can be handled rapidly.

Failing to sterilize containers that held spoiled food.

Delaying between the steps in canning, including failing to process promptly.

Failing to use a clean cloth to wipe off the sealing surfaces.

Processing for too short a period.

Failing, during processing, to have the containers well covered with boiling water or with a tight-fitting lid.

Beginning to count the processing time before the water in the water bath has come to a boil again, after the containers have been put in.

Processing non-acid vegetables, meats, poultry and fish without a pressure cooker.

Using a pressure cooker with an inaccurate gauge.

Closing the petcock of the pressure cooker before all the air is driven out.

Beginning to count the processing time in a pressure cooker before the gauge registers the necessary pressure.

Failing to permit free circulation of water by packing jars too closely together or not using a rack.

Leaving containers too close together during cooling.

Allowing containers to cool too slowly.

Inverting jars while the are still warm.

Storing containers after processing to add water, then rescaling.

Packing or storing containers before they are cold.

Storing containers in too warm a place, such as near steam pipes, furnaces and the like, or in a place so cold that freezing causes the seal to break.

THE PRIEST IN THE LIFE OF ISRAEL

LESSON TEXT—1 Samuel 2:27-30, 35; 4:12-18.
GOLDEN TEXT—For every high priest taken from among men is ordained for men in things pertaining to God—Hebrews 5:1.

Failure to observe God's law inevitably brings disaster. That is true in the family, and in the nation. It follows even though the man who sins is in a high and favored position in God's service.

Our lesson which brings before us the work of the priest in Israel also reminds us of the sacred relationship of father and son. These are important matters inviting our careful study.

I. A Holy Calling (2:27, 28).

Eli was the high priest in Israel, an office ordained of God, and by Him established in the household of Aaron. The priest was to stand between God and man, there to seek His forgiveness for the sins of the people, and His grace and mercy upon them. He was to teach them the law of God and to seek for their divine guidance. He was subject to special laws, and had great privileges of service.

Such a man must not only be holy himself, but unusually diligent about properly rearing his sons who would follow him in this office, which was by God's ordinance an hereditary one. He had to be both a good minister and a good father. Eli was the former, but he failed as a father. In the New Testament, Christ becomes our High Priest (Heb. 7:26; 9:11), and those who minister for Him are to bring men to Him—the "one Mediator between God and Man" (1 Tim. 2:5; Heb. 9:15). In this new covenant the minister has a high and holy calling, but it also is made clear that all believers have the liberty to teach boldly the truths of grace (Heb. 4:16); hence they too are called "a holy priesthood" (1 Pet. 2:9).

II. A High Responsibility (2:29, 30, 35).

As already suggested, Eli was evidently a man of personal piety and integrity in office. We honor him for that, but we regret his failure to properly rear his sons who were to succeed him.

It is not enough to meet one phase of our responsibility before God and then, because of our faithfulness there, to seek to justify weakness elsewhere. One sometimes hears the expression, "But he is such a good man," as an excuse for failure, but it just will not do.

Eli did revere with his boys, but he waited until it was too late—or did it in such a way and at such a time as to be ineffective. His failure at this point is declared (v. 29) to be a placing of his sons above God in his thinking.

What a solemn warning to "adulterant parents"! "Not to only strain our children, to give them their own way, is to honor them more than God. Ere we think it, weakness becomes wickedness in ourselves and in our children too." God has "made every parent . . . a king in his home, that he may . . . command his children in the way of the Lord" (Andrew Murray).

God will not permit such sin and failure to pass unnoticed. He will set aside those who fail Him (v. 30) and bring them into judgment. He has others who are willing to serve Him (v. 35). Evidently young Samuel was the one to mind here.

It is both a trust and an encouraging to note that in the midst of the wicked and immoral surroundings created by Eli's sons, God had the tender vine of His own planting—the life of the boy Samuel, growing up in the temple. He was already hearing God's voice and learning to obey the call.

III. A Heavy Judgment (4:12-18). The Israelites went out to battle against the Philistines. Meeting defeat, they thought to gain victory by bringing the ark of the covenant into battle, and who had the effrontery to appear as "priests" with the ark but the wicked sons of Eli.

Swift and awful was the judgment of God. Not only was there defeat, but the ark was lost to the heathen Philistines, and the two sons of Eli were killed. When Eli heard the news of what had taken place, he too fell and died. Here was the tragic end of a life that had begun with promise, and all because of weakness, failure and sin.

There is a pointed lesson here for us. The people of Israel depended on the ark itself, an outward symbol of godliness, when there was no spiritual life in the heart—and they went down to failure. Will we go through the means of religious exercises, talk vases of prayer, appoint men who place our itching ears (II Tim. 4:3) to preach to us, and then go on our careless, worldly, indifferent way, supposing that our formal religion will save us? Paul tells us in II Timothy 4:15 that "having a form of godliness but denying the power thereof" is a sign of the "last days," of "perilous times" which have come upon us. May God save us!

German army rations, although edible, are not very appetizing is a report of soldiers from the front who have captured tins of food issued to the Nazis.

JACKSON OPPOSES F.D.R., BROWDER AND HILLMAN

Democratic Leader and Four Times Mayor Of Baltimore
Airs His Views

Howard W. Jackson, attacking President Roosevelt's fourth term candidacy in a strongly worded statement, said on Monday he would vote in November "against one-man government" against Earl Browder and Sidney Hillman.

The Democratic party leader and four-times mayor of Baltimore, who was defeated for re-election by Republican Theodore R. McKeldin last year, asserted he felt this to be his "duty and obligation to America's men and women at the fighting front all over the world."

Refuses To Be Delegate

Jackson, who had declined to be a delegate to the Democratic national convention in Chicago, issued his statement in reply to a charge by Harold A. Keene, city party chairman, that the former mayor had previously bolted the party "but this is the first time he had laid his cards on the table."

"I have been expecting a smear," Jackson declared. "I haven't any desire to enter into a controversy with Mr. Harold A. Keene who x x x when he aspired to be chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee sought my help."

"If I had been against the nominees of the Democratic party in 1928 x x x, '34, '36 and '40, I would have said as I am now doing in reference to a candidate—President Roosevelt—who long since in my judgment has ceased to be a Democrat. x x x."

Jackson Disillusioned

"In 1932 I voted for Mr. Roosevelt with faith, confidence and hope. In 1936 I voted for him with apprehension, and in 1940 against my conviction, but I have too much honor to sit in a convention, as a delegate, that nominates a candidate and then vote against that nominee. Therefore, I declined the offer of the party leaders to be a delegate to the convention of 1944. x x x."

"I am for many of the principles of the Roosevelt administration—unemployment insurance, old age pensions, aid for dependent children, collective bargaining (which should be a two-way and not a one-way street) and guarantees of bank deposits."

Reasons For Change

"But I am against most of his administrative policies. He has played politics with labor-management and with racial groups, purged members of Congress who would not be subservient to him; ordered Congress to pass legislation of doubtful constitutionality; reorganized the Supreme Court and make it subject to his views; he piled bureau on top of bureau; he serves the radicals x x x; he commits us to so many obligations and liabilities actual and contingent; he pretends to distribute wealth, which cannot be done; he favors legislation to limit income."

"Dissipating Wealth"

"He is dissipating the wealth of the nation," Jackson continued, "as evidenced by the fact that 1939-40 is the only year in American history in which the wealth of the nation did not increase."

"We cannot make the rich poor without making the poor poorer. If we cannot accumulate wealth, all become poor except the ruling classes. When government can do no wrong, individuals have no rights."

"I am against one-man government. I am against government in peacetime that spends $2,000 and collects only $1,000. x x x."

"I am for more business in government and less government in business. I am for the system of enterprise, the capitalistic system that has made America great by creating jobs and wealth. This is the system (Browder and Hillman are against it) that is winning the war."

Is For America First

"I am for helping other peoples of other nations of the world provided we are strong at home and can afford it. I am realistic. You cannot be too idealistic in dealing with Stalin, who is for Russia, and Churchill, who is for the British Empire. I am for America."

"I am for playing our part x x x in a world organization for the good of all mankind and for the prevention of future wars. I am against being Santa Claus to the peoples of the world."

"I am for all-out effort and sacrifice to win the war and a lasting peace, but this does not depend on and is not the job of any one man but the responsibility of every fighting and home-front American."

"The real challenge to the American people will come after the war. That challenge will call for sacrifice, the equal of which the American people have never been called upon to make and will embody and imply much that is contrary to our institutions, thoughts and way of life. These face us in Europe, Asia and at home. x x x"

Examine Your Fan Now! Does It Need Oil or Grease?

When fans are needed most they often quit because parts are worn out through lack of oil, or became all fouled up with dust and dirt. Even though your fan is running at the present time, take out a few minutes to see whether it needs some attention. If it is of the oscillating type the gears may need a little vaseline. Should your fan need expert servicing, bring it to our Appliance Service Department.

Timber Marking Service-Forms Are Available

The timber marking service offered landowners by the Department of State Forests and Parks, for which a charge has heretofore been made, can now be obtained on areas of less than 100 acres without cost. State Forester Joseph E. Kaylor announces. Upon application, a technically trained representative of the Department will examine a timber tract, record the size and composition of the stand, and mark for removal those trees that, when taken out, will leave on the tract a growing stock of healthy young timber. He will also furnish the owner with an estimate of the current stumpage value of the marked trees, a list of reliable sawmill operators, and, if desired, a form of sale contract.

In a number of recent instances, Mr. Kaylor declares, landowners who availed themselves of this service received for their timber several times the highest amount previously offered for it. Familiarity with market conditions, Mr. Kaylor goes on to say, enables representatives of his Department to place upon stumpage a fair valuation that ensures the owner maximum money returns.

Application for the marking service may be made to District Forester Wm. H. Johnson, at the Court House, Cumberland.

Freedom Without Trimming

THE wish that seems to be expressed most often by American service men throughout the world is that after this war they want to come home to the same kind of country they left. They don't want a streamlined, regimented society. Before the last President took office and for several months afterward there was freedom, and this is what our men hope, above everything else, to find when they return.

At present the feeling that freedom is in deadly peril hangs heavy over the land. Seldom, if ever, in the history of the country, have the people talked so much of freedom, while never has their freedom been so restricted. Today the energies of every thinking person are devoted to preserving liberty.

The president of a leading oil company recently voiced the thought of many people when he said: "It is important to remember that the oil industry, like all American business, has been able to accomplish the extraordinary job, because, in time of peace, the companies were competing with each other to make better products. Spurred on by this competition, the skill of the American worker and the ability of American business management combine to make this country the industrial leader of the world. What this means to us today, in war, is dramatically demonstrated by the fact that three years ago the United States was the weakest in armament among the great nations, and now has become the strongest in armament. With this kind of support, our military forces and those of our Allies are now moving steadily toward victory."

Competition depends on freedom, just as does the privilege of attending the church of our choice. Yes, plain, unadorned freedom is our most precious possession.

Eleven Jap Beetles Trapped in One Section of County

Other Areas Apparently Still Free From Destructive Pest

The gradual advance of the Japanese beetle upon Garrett county is seen as a possibility as the result of tests now being carried on, but thus far the threat is not very serious, according to John H. Carter, county agent.

Carrying on a sort of "scouting" program in this county, the Extension Service, in cooperation with the entomology department, University of Maryland, put out eighty beetle traps this year with 30 at Oakland, 10 each at Grantsville, Accident, Deer Park, Red House and Bloomington. Following a check-up last week by George Landford, in charge of Japanese beetle control in the State, only one area has been found with any of the insects. At Bloomington 11 beetles have been trapped, but in the other five areas none has been found. Last year a total of seven were trapped in Oakland during a two-month period.

In contrast to Garrett county Mr. Carter pointed out that a report of the week of July 22 revealed that 592,656 beetles were trapped in Allegheny county, and during the week of July 29, 827,064. The weekly count in several counties goes above one and two million, with over four million in Kent county and over five million in Prince George's county. State officials are of the opinion that the beetles will eventually spread to this county.

Beetle traps will be kept out in Garrett county until the latter part of September, Mr. Carter said. A control program will get underway should it become evident that the beetles are on the increase here.

The Japanese beetle is destructive to more than 200 plants, fruits, etc.

Collection of Paper and Tin Cans Planned For Friday, Aug. 25

The County Salvage Committee announced that a collection of paper and tin cans will be made in Oakland on Friday of next week. Magazines and newspapers are particularly wanted and those who have been saving these are requested to tie them in conveniently sized bundles so that they can be easily handled. The two types should be kept separate if possible. Tin cans should be prepared by removing the labels, cutting out the ends and flattening the sides. This collection will be in charge of members of the Oakland Volunteer Department Band and all amounts received from sale of the paper and tins will go to the band. All citizens of the town are urged to cooperate by properly fixing the papers and cans and placing them at the curb Friday morning, August 25th.

In Mt. Lake Park and Loch Lynn a collection of paper and tins will be made by the Boy Scouts during this coming week. Plans for this collection are in charge of Rev. Reece Burns, Scoutmaster, and the members of his troop, and citizens of the two towns are urged to cooperate with them in order that the effort may be successful. Those having paper and tins to turn in should get in touch with Rev. Burns or some member of the Scouts.

Christmas Boxes For Soldiers Must Be In Mail by October 15

Save strong string and box material and start to plan shopping. Postmaster General Frank C. Walker advises Americans in announcing the rules for mailing of Christmas gifts for Army and Navy personnel overseas.

This year the Christmas mailing period for both Army and Navy overseas forces is the same—September 15 to October 15. After October 15 no gift parcel may be mailed to a soldier without the presentation of a written request from him.

The great demands upon shipping and the need for giving preference to arms, munitions, medicine and food is the prime reason for the early mailing date. Moreover, gift parcels must travel great distances to reach Army and Navy personnel who are located at remote points, and frequently the transfer of large numbers to new stations necessitates forwarding of the packages and additional time is required.

I. R. Rudy, local postmaster, stressed the fact that more care must be taken in wrapping and packing parcels securely and addressing them correctly.

To Consider Rotary Ideals At Friday Dinner Meeting

Company Confirms Facts About Brick Plant at Jennings

Construction Program Already Under Way; Ample Supply Of Fire Clay Is Available

R. Green Annan, Pittsburgh, president of the Union Mining company, in a telegram to the Cumberland News last Thursday evening, confirmed the fact that the company was building a new plant at Jennings and that work had already started on this plant.

It was understood that the new plant would replace the one which had been in operation at Mt. Savage, in Allegany county, since 1841. A section of the plant in Mt. Savage is being dismantled which contains thirty-five hand operated kilns. An automatic kiln, installed at the Mt. Savage plant about three years ago at a cost of about $250,000, is expected to continue to manufacture sawdust brick.

Clay Was Imported

The supply of fire clay at Mt. Savage ran out some time ago and it has been necessary for trucks to obtain clay from Garrett county, trucking it to the plant for the manufacture of bricks. At Jennings, it is understood, there is ample manpower, fire clay, coal, and a railroad siding, all of which would be advantageous to locating a plant in that area.

Excavating operations at Jennings are being carried on by the George F. Hazelwood company, Cumberland. The plant will be for the Garrett County Refractories Company, a subsidiary of the Union Mining company.

The Union Mining company was first organized as the Mt. Savage Iron Works in 1839. Blast furnaces were erected and in 1843 the first steel rail was made in the United States, according to information appearing last week in the Cumberland News.

In connection with the rolling mill a brick yard and foundry were built. Fire clay was discovered in the mountains above Mt. Savage in 1839 but prior to that time all brick for use in rolling mills was imported because brick was not manufactured in this country. In 1841 the manufacture of brick was almost on par in the community with the rolling mill industry and when the iron works closed the brickyard supplanted it and had been the leading industry in Mt. Savage for 100 years. At its peak the plant at one time employed 500 persons but less than 100 have been at work there in recent months.

Steady Rainfall Needed to Save Crops

While a few areas in the county have received a bounteous supply of rainfall in recent weeks, most of the county, along with a vast territory in several states, remains parched and dry.

Thunder showers have been spotted and while there has been rainfall west of Oakland, around the Power House at Sines, and along Deep Creek lake, most of the county has been by-passed. Gardens are slowly drying up and crops are becoming very short.

A soaking rain of many hours is needed to save what crops remain. Some farmers feel it is too late to save corn or potatoes. Leaves are turning on some trees and shrubbery and lawns are burned brown.

There are prospects of rain and cooler weather for the week-end.

He relates: "It has been several days since I have written to you but it couldn't be helped. We have been plenty busy and busy we sure have the furlough on the way. The other day we were in a battle and something happened that I have heard about but never did believe.

"The Germans waved a Red Cross flag and we stopped fighting for a while. We went to their lines and got our wounded and they came to us and got theirs. I was way back behind the enemy lines to help get a couple of our wounded. I was a little scared when I first went there but everything turned out fine and it was a great experience. They were real friendly. There was one of them who talked our language and I talked to him for about fifteen minutes, and of course we had a couple of fellows with us who could talk the German language. We traded cigarettes, we smoked theirs and they smoked ours, and we gave them some chewing gum we had.

"By the way, I have given first aid to a couple Germans and some of their medicines have helped our men. They seem just as human as we are. I just can't understand why we have to have such a thing as war. After we got our wounded and got back to our lines the fighting started all over again. This war sure is a funny and a cruel thing.

"I sure will be glad when it is over and I don't think it will last much longer now. Boy, won't it be a happy day the day I get off the train and you are all there to meet me. We will have lots of swell times together to make up for all the time I have been away. I sure will have a lot to tell you when I come home. I am taking real good care of myself so be sure not to worry about me. Be seeing you all real soon."

Mr. and Mrs. George Kerins, Oakland, have received a box of souvenirs from their son, Pfc. Regis Kerins, somewhere in Italy. It contained coins, paper money, tapestry, a German mess kit, and German pistol. It also contained a goat skin billfold and handbag from North Africa.

In recent letters he told of his visit to Vatican City, Rome, and Naples. He is sending home medals blessed by the Pope when he made his appearance at Vatican City.

Pvt. Kerins was inducted into the army in February, 1943, received his training at Camp Lee, Va., and Camp Vandenberg, Miss., and sailed for North Africa in August, 1943. He was sent to Italy and was attached to the Fifth army. He has just returned to duty after recovering from an attack of malaria.

Another son, Capt. George Kerins, Jr., has been with the air force in England for two years. He is the husband of the former Miss Lucille Houck, now serving with the American Red Cross in England.

Pvt. Raymond P. Thomas is now stationed on an island somewhere in the South Pacific. In a letter to his mother, Mrs. Babena Hulmerson, and his grandmother, Mrs. Anna B. Thomas, Friendsville, he said they were pushing the Japs back and that they expected to be in the Philippine Islands before long. He told them he was in perfect health and would have lots to tell when he got home.

Corporal Mayo Sisler, Camp Pickett, Va., and his brother, Pfc. Adam Sisler, Camp Breckinridge, Ky., were at Mt. Lake Park last week visiting relatives while on furlough.

Pvt. John W. Gilmore, Crellin, with an engineering combat battalion somewhere in France, recently told his wife in a letter that he was "O. K. but kept pretty busy." He continued: "This part of the country at one time was probably very nice but now it is all torn up. People are hard working. You can see women pushing wheelbarrows full of clothes to the river to wash, then pushing them back. Things like this make one feel glad there is an America where everything is fine, and that the fighting is over here instead of at home. At least those of us who will get back will really have something to come home to." Pvt. Gilmore is a son of Mrs. Grace Gilmore, Crellin. Mrs. Gilmore also has a son in the U. S. Navy, somewhere at sea. Another son, Timothy, who served one year overseas in Africa and Italy, has been honorably discharged from military service.

Harold Ashby, who is studying at Mt. St. Mary's college, Emmitsburg, in the U. S. Navy's V-12 program, is taking private airplane lessons in his spare moments at Gettysburg, Pa. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse J. Ashby, Oakland.

Proper Burial Is Given Our Loved Ones "Over There"

To The Editor of The Republican: Since so many of our friends and relatives have wondered if the body of our loved ones are properly buried "over there," will you please publish this letter in The Republican that I received today, August 12, as I feel it may be a comfort to some more sorrowing hearts as it has been to mine.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Truman S. Custer
Accident, Md.
July 10, 1944

Mrs. Oma Blanche Custer, Accident, Maryland.

I am writing to you at the request of my commanding officer about the death of your son, 2nd Lieutenant Clyde R. Custer, 0-815093, who was accidentally killed in an airplane crash, July 4, 1944.

Sudden death of our loved ones shakes our soul. God is our refuge and strength in such times. In either war or peace, God reveals His comfort by His Holy Word, through the Church. The Psalmist tells us that man's day is short, Psalm 90. In this same Psalm, we all are cautioned to stop one beautiful hill, and is calm and quiet, away from turmoil and noise. The Christian commitment service was spoken as Clyde was laid to rest. Full military honors, the volleys and taps sounded immediately after the benediction.

I am not permitted to give you information concerning the exact location of his grave or the disposal of his personal effects. You may communicate directly with The Quartermaster General, Army Service Forces, Washington, D. C., about questions of this nature.

May God continue to bless your home and strengthen your Christian faith in this, another spiritual trial. Sincerely,
KENNETH E. HARTMAN,
Chaplain

Championship Tennis on Tap at Mt. Lake Courts Next Week

Championship tennis will return to Western Maryland next week after an absence of three years, when the Mt. Lake Park Tennis Club's War-Bond Invitation Tournament gets underway August 24th-26th.

Admission this year will be without charge to all who have purchased war bonds during the recent 5th war bond drive.

Tournament Director Ralph Weber and J. Patrick Beacom, president of the Mt. Lake Park Tennis club, jointly announced the list of entries had far exceeded the number expected before the deadline on Wednesday night, August 23rd.

Those officially entered include the young Maryland State Junior champion, Malcolm Fox, of Baltimore. At fifteen years he is considered one of the most promising young players to come up in eastern tennis circles during the past decade. Young Fox will have plenty of competition this year with the entries of Milton King and Eddie Alcorn of Pittsburgh, two of the tri-state's top ranking racquet wielders. King recently was runner-up in the Western Pennsylvania championship and Alcorn has been one of the main contenders every year in West Virginia and Pennsylvania tournaments.

Bill Shirer, of Washington, formerly of New Orleans, and one of the top ranking players in southern tennis will be on hand, as will Bob Allen, of Charleston, and Red Brown, of Elkins.

Among the better women players will be Mrs. William Hannig, Miss Jean Holloway, Mrs. Kay Hubbard and Mrs. James A. Holloway, all of Wheeling, W. Va. Mrs. Frank Wright, Jr., Washington, D. C., is also expected.

All work on the courts has been finished and tennis players here are enthusiastic in their praise of the work which has been done.

Scoop's Column

By Scoop Himself

Voters, I hope, can't help but see that the present activities of President Roosevelt are only political and would not alter the course of the war one iota. Two statements last week show how silly his campaign has already become. Roosevelt announced that General MacArthur was going back to the Philippines and the islands would be given their independence.

This announcement was made after a supposedly highly secret conference in Hawaii with MacArthur and Nimitz, as if such strategy as the defeat of the Japs would be the result of that conference.

When MacArthur left the Philippines he made the promise, "I will be back," and Congress long ago determined to give the Philippine people their independence.

Just watch the president from now until the November election. He will try to play the "commander-in-chief" role for all it is worth, trying to make people believe that he is back of all the strategy of the army and navy leaders.

Apparently such a procedure is all the president has left. People are getting wise to his bluff on other matters, and that his promises have been broken, one after the other, when it is politically expedient to do so.

The showman is putting on his last performance from the White House theatre, so sincerely hope, for the good of this country of ours, and for our own satisfaction.

This November will be the fifth presidential campaign in which I expect to vote and in all but one of them F. D. R. was a candidate.

Children up to fourteen have never known another president.

For a democracy—such a situation is not healthy. People who will think seriously can change that condition. So let's think and then vote accordingly.

IN MEMORIAM

A tribute of love to the memory of my dear husband, J. Milton Fike, and my darling children, Baby and Glenn. Broken is the family circle.

Our dear ones have passed away—Passed from earth and earthly darkness—Into bright and perfect day.

No dead to us who loved them—Not lost, but gone before; They live with us in memory And will forevermore.

A happy home we once enjoyed; How sweet the memory still—Hard was the parting, but in faith I see

New plighted truth in heaven for you and me.

I think of you hourly and daily But to be brave and content—Alone in my sorrow, you stand by my side

And whisper, dear mother, death cannot divide. Wife and Mother, Marcia E. Fike, Baltimore, Md. —Advertisement 11*

By FRANKLIN C. GLAZE

The American people have a certain quality—an extra something that makes them outstanding among the peoples of all nations. They are like a metal that has had a certain alloy added to strengthen it, improve its appearance and usefulness, or a beverage that was tasteless until something was added to give it sparkle and flavor and body.

As you know, we are a nation made up of people from most of the other nations of the world. We are Germans, Greeks, Belgians, Swedes, Italians, Swiss, Dutch, English, Scotch, Irish, French, Spanish and other nationalities. But to the certain peculiarities of each of these nationalities something has been added to make us Americans. I wish I could tell the world just what this something is.

It is our common belief in God and His teachings? Could be; but a lot of these people believed in the same God in their home countries but still lacked that certain Christian quality that makes them Americans. I believe that certain staid customs, certain restrictions and customs handed down thru the ages prevented them from enjoying the fulness of service to God according to the dictates of their hearts until they found real freedom of worship in America.

Here, we are free to serve our God as we see the light, whether we are Catholic or Protestant, Jew or Gentile. Here we have a certain tolerance and respect for each other's form of worship. That is one of the added things that make us Americans.

In some countries too much attention is paid to class distinction. A person born to a certain class has never had a ghost of a chance to rise above it. His position and destiny in life and society is settled at his birth.

This war has brought out a lot of the hidden qualities of Americans. Of course these qualities might have been covered up a bit of veneer made up of snobbishness among our so-called "Blue Bloods" and others that sort of hold themselves a little above the masses. This veneer soon came away with the call to arms in the defense of our country, and we all found ourselves on common ground.

In a truly American spirit to serve on the battlefields, in the defense plants, on the farms, in factories, in chemical laboratories, hospitals, USO clubs for entertainment of those in the service, or by buying war bonds to help finance our fight toward victory over our common enemy, we have shown that we have certain something that spiritual, mental, moral and physical strength that once aroused against an enemy to our way of life, and other powerful nations, knows no obstacles nor defeat.

We do not fight Germany because her people are Germans. We do not fight Japan because her people are Japanese. Rather do we fight the evil that has possessed the minds and the hearts of these people and made them into ruthless murderers, thieves and persecutors bent on destroying or stealing the lands and homes of peaceful nations, or enslaving their people.

We who have known freedom for so many years; we through whose veins flows the blood of ancestors who shook off the shackles of monarchy and slavery and blazed trails thru the wilderness from the Atlantic to the Pacific, to open farmlands and tap the great natural resources of our country for the use and benefit of humanity, and laid the foundation of freedom and all that it stands for, know what we are fighting for. We want every country in the world to enjoy the same advantage we enjoy in our way of life.

We want our enemies of freedom. We'll fight with the same courage and faith in God that we fought with when our nation was born, on to final victory and peace.

We are Americans!

DIARY OF THE WAR

FRIDAY—American tanks swung close to 50-mile defense area west of Paris; the 175-mile front in northwestern France was very fluid. Armored units were up Loire river from Nantes, British and Canadians were gaining slightly in Normandy but Nazi counter-attacks were heavy. St. Made in Brittany was almost in American hands and Brest was under assault. Reds swarmed across Noreve river before East Prussia. Allied bombers hit Nazi targets. Superfortresses smashed at Jap mainland and in Dutch East Indies. Guam was securely in American hands. American subs sank 15 enemy ships. China admitted loss of Hengyang. Southern Philippines were bombed by Americans. Nazis resumed daylight buzz-bomb attacks across Channel.

SATURDAY—An armored unit thrust north from Le Mans in effort to trap 100,000 Germans. Other American armor headed toward Chartres, 45 miles from Paris, and east toward Seine and Loire rivers. A general retreat was ordered by Germans. A new drive by Reds was destroying 300,000 Nazi troops caught in Estonia and Latvia. Reds exuded from south of Warsaw. Bombers were again busy. Polish troops in Italy gained ground. New superfortresses attacked on Japan. Philippines were declared prelude to more intensive raids. Chinese said Japs were sending reinforcements to Philippines and Formosa. Allied invasion of Philippines was held imminent.

SUNDAY—Yanks recaptured Mortain and hammered around left flank of German army in Normandy, also pushing southward beyond Loire river. The exact situation around Paris remained obscure to keep Germans befuddled. Southwest France was reported almost bare of German troops. Nazi forces in Italy quit Florence during night. Interior French forces were declared holding some French areas. Two Soviet drives had gained in North Poland and Baltic thrusts. It was announced there were 226,416 prisoners of war in this country. Japan decided to relax its policy on the press and pay more attention to public opinion. British in Burma captured Taungtha, south of Meikong. Clearing of East India was declared imminent.

MONDAY—German army began retreat from Normandy with its escape corridor only 18 miles wide. Yanks took Argentan, 15 miles from Falaise which was under assault by British and Canadians from north. About 20 Nazi divisions were trapped. Reds had continued success on eastern front, fighting close to East Prussia and Warsaw. Fresh bombing at tacks on widespread Jap bases from Kuriles to mid-Pacific Marshalls and another raid on Bonin islands were reported. Liberators hit Paramushiro base, while others hit Pagan and Rota in Marianas, Truk and Ponape in Carolines and remaining Marshalls still in enemy hands.

TUESDAY—Americans were only 8 miles from Falaise in drive to close trap on Germans. Canadians were less than four miles from Falaise on the north. Some gains were made around Brest. Russians took town 17 miles from East Prussian border, were 11 miles from Warsaw and made further gains in Baltic area. Italian fighting front was quiet. U. S. airmen blasted a 3,500 mile sea front of Japs from Kuriles to Halmahera, south of Philippines. Chinese prepared for smash against Tongchun and Lungling on Burma road. American, British and French troops landed on southern coast of France in a second invasion of continent. The places were only lightly defended by Germans. Large Allied convoys had been streaming through Strait of Gibraltar for several days.

WEDNESDAY—Allied invasion of southern France was in full swing. Germans reported; the force consisted of Americans and French mainly. French patriots were reported aiding cause of Allies. Landings were made between Marseille and Nice; enemy opposition was sporadic. General Patton was revealed as leading American third army against Germans in northern France. Americans gained four miles as enemy in north France were hammered mercilessly. Allies used 3,000 planes on enemy bases. Reds crossed Biebrza river in Poland.

THURSDAY—Allied invaders pressed inland eight miles along French Riviera while in northwestern France remnants of Germans 7th army were being battered in Falaise pocket. Germans said a swift American drive was underway for Paris. Fighting raged 40 miles west of Paris. There was yet no strong opposition in southern France. Russians had their first reverse of summer campaign, losing Osovov, 7 miles from Praga but advanced in other sectors. Bombers hit vital targets but lost 23 heavies. A Jap naval base was raided and smash against Formosa was reported. Yanks hit Pescadore islands between Formosa and China. Planes flew from China.

Have a "Coke" = Welcome back

... or giving a returned soldier a taste of home

To soldiers overseas, Coca-Cola is a reminder of home. To soldiers at home on furlough, "Coke" is part of the old familiar way of living. With frosty bottles of "Coke" on hand, offering a man in uniform a refreshing welcome is an easy matter. Have a "Coke" is always the hospitable thing to say. In many lands overseas, as in your own living room, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes, —has become a happy symbol of hospitality.

William Morgart Succumbs at Home

Pioneer Coal Operator, 82, Dies After Fracturing Hip In Fall Last Tuesday

William A. Morgart, 82, pioneer coal operator of this section, died at 3 p. m., Saturday, at his home in Jennings. He suffered a fractured hip in a fall Tuesday and the injury caused complications which resulted in his death.

Born April 12, 1862, in the Bottle Run section of Allegheny county, near the Pennsylvania border, he was a son of the late Peter and Amanda (Wolford) Morgart. In 1896 he discovered the mineral wealth in the Cassan river basin of Garrett county and in recent years he and his son developed the fine clay and coal operations in that area.

For many years he resided in Cumberland. He moved about 20 years ago to Jennings. His wife died last November.

Survivors, besides his son, Louis A. Morgart, of Jennings, are two daughters, Mrs. Harold R. Gibson and Mrs. William M. Atchison, both of Arlington, Va., and a grandson, Pvt. David F. Butcher, stationed in New Guinea.

Funeral services were held at 11 a. m., Monday, at the Wolford Funeral Home, Cumberland, conducted by the Rev. Louis H. Ewald, rector of Holy Cross Episcopal Church.

At one time he was active in various enterprises, being a director of the Cumberland and Westmoreland Electric Railway Company, one of the founders of the Interstate Trust Company and of the First National Bank of Hancock, (now the Peoples National Bank), and also developed coal lands in West Virginia. Mr. Morgart was a Democrat, but never sought public office.

PEACH UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE
1 1/2 cups flour (sifted), 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 egg, 1/2 cup milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 cup brown sugar, 1 cup nut meats, chopped, 1 1/2 cups sliced peaches.

Cream butter and sugar, add unbeaten egg and combine with creamed mixture. Add milk and flour alternately. Melt 1 tablespoon butter in skillet. Add the brown sugar, stir until melted. On this, place sliced peaches and sprinkle with nuts. Pour the cake batter over the contents in the pan. Bake in moderate oven. Turn from pan and serve with peaches and whipped cream on top.

PEACH FLOWER SALAD
Sprinkle sliced peaches with lemon juice (to prevent darkening). Arrange slices in a swirled position as petals of a flower on lettuce or shredded cabbage. Place cottage cheese, creamed cheese, nuts or fruit in center. Place salad dressing at one side.

FROZEN PEACH SALAD
1 cup chopped or mashed peaches, 4 tablespoons powdered sugar, 1 pkg. cream cheese, 1 cup cooked or mayonnaise dressing, 1 cup whipped cream (unflavored), 1/2 cup chopped cherries.

Mix peaches and sugar and chill well. Drain off liquid. Blend well the cream cheese and dressing, and fold into this mixture. Pour into a mold with a tight-fitting lid. Pack in ice and salt and let stand 3 hours, or freeze in a freezer. Serve on lettuce with whipped cream salad dressing.

2 tablespoons gelatin, 3 cups cold water, 1 cup boiling water, 1/4 to 1 cup sugar, to taste; 1 cup sliced pulp from ripe peaches, 3 tablespoons lemon juice.

Soften the gelatin in 1/2 cup of cold water, then dissolve it in the boiling water and add the fruit pulp and lemon juice. Add sugar to taste and the remaining 2 1/2 cups of cold water. If sweet, ripe peaches are used, very little sugar will be necessary. Strain the mixture and freeze it. This makes about 2 quarts of sherbet.

electric service!

WAR has moved many American families into new living quarters. But, whatever the size of their homes, they all get exactly the same dependable electric service.

Oh, sure, some folks may light more rooms and use more appliances than you do. But the service and the quality of the electricity you receive remain the same. You can't buy an "exclusive" grade.

Electricity is also the one service whose cost has remained low — while the cost of living in general has been going up. Whom, you say? Your bill's been more over the years? Well, that's because you're now using electricity to keep food, wash clothes, clean rugs, tell time and make music — where once you used it only for light.

The truth is, the average American family today gets about twice as much electricity for its money as it did 15 years ago! And we, your friends and neighbors, are proud to be one of the many electric companies under business management, bringing you this bargain.

Mt. Lake Club House Comes Under Town Ownership This Week

Action Ends Several Months Of Planning By Interested Groups

This week the ownership of the Club House, (or Bowling Alley), and the Public Library numbering over 2,000 volumes, passed to the Town of Mountain Lake Park, coming as the joint gift of the Woman's Civic Club and of the Company holding title to the building and land.

This action, consummation of several months planning by Mrs. W. B. Love and Mrs. Julia W. Ruhl, respective presidents of Club and Company, Mayor H. L. Bitter, and others interested, with Mr. Neil C. Fraday handling the legal details, promises to fill an urgent need in the social and recreational life of the entire Community, with emphasis on the winter months, and their accompanying special juvenile needs.

Built near the Century's turn, before there was a winter population, the building was not intended nor equipped for cold-weather use. It is now proposed to install a heating plant; enclose a portion of the porch for a separate room for the library; repair the still serviceable alleys—in short, to make the Club House a real, all-year, civic center for the activities of the Boy and Girl Scouts, Red Cross, Parent-Teacher Association, Civic Club, and other Community organizations. For the carrying out of this vital project, the exclusive management of the Club House has, for a five year period, been wisely lodged in a Permanent Committee of Five, consisting of: the Mayor, for the municipality; Principal Mason Callie, for the public schools and Rev. W. Reece Burns, for the W. S. C. S. and Bethel Church, he also being the present Scoutmaster; Mrs. John Stevenson, Sr., and Miss Virginia Weeks, representing the twin towns of the Park and Loch Lynn.

In this gift the Civic Club fifty crowns its over two score years' record of service to the Community, which includes: adding the porch, chimney and basement rooms to the original building; who size and quality stand and lattice fence; installing the five tennis courts, whose solid foundations of crushed stone and cinders, still make possible a continuation of that sport; and, as a member of the U.S.L.T.A., sponsoring the Western Maryland Tournament for 21 years until the present war forced a halt. For next week's 3-day tennis session it is supplying some tournament nets and other equipment used. The Club's outstanding achievement is the excellent library, whose size and quality is a permanent testimonial to the untiring efforts of the late Mrs. Elizabeth T. Talson, the Club's first president.

The Club House lot fronts 140 feet on Allegheny Drive and 90 feet diagonally along the path to the boardwalk. It includes a portion of two of the tennis courts, the balance of which together with the three main courts lie on land now owned by Mr. A. L. Naylor.

The Committee will shortly announce plans for the raising of the substantial Improvement Fund required. The Civic Club has already contributed $44,000, covering two years paid-up insurance on the building. Also, thru the generosity of Mr. Arthur A. Taylor, it will give $100.00 in memory of his wife, long an active worker in the Club. The Boy Scouts have over $100 to put in; the Girl Scouts another $50. The enterprise deserves prompt and liberal support from all. The slogan is, "S.L.S.O. Before the Snow Flies!" That means a number of Century bills; a goodly crop of $50 and $25 chip-ins; a multitude of X's and V's; and, most important of all, something from everybody!

To Guarantee Opportunity

ALTHOUGH war has forced this nation to adopt many principles of those governments which seek domination of their peoples, Americans firmly believe that our Constitution is the best instrument yet developed for reconciling government by majority with the rights of individuals.

But if our Constitutional liberty is to be maintained in post-war, certain current tendencies must be reversed.

One principle to be rigidly maintained is that the Constitution be amended only in the manner provided in the Constitution itself—never by executive and legislative fiat or judicial interpretation. The tendency to take powers from the states and concentrate them in Washington should be abandoned. Congress should abolish the power of bureaucrats to control the lives and activities of citizens by means of directives.

The founders of the Constitution proposed to guarantee opportunity, as well as liberty, to the individual. Opportunity will prove a reality in postwar only if we establish conditions that result in jobs and better living standards. We must understand that over any period no group can be prosperous unless other groups also prosper. We must see the necessity of encouraging competition, of preventing monopoly and special privileges for management, labor, agriculture or investor.

This can best be carried out by electing Governor Dewey as our President this fall.

Prisoner of War Praises Red Cross

Joseph Markley, a technical sergeant, Army Air Force, who is a prisoner of war in Germany, praises the American Red Cross very highly in a letter to his wife, Wilma Markley, who resides in Kitzmiller.

The letter was written April 2, 1944, and received by Mrs. Markley on July 15. He was reported missing over Austria in February, after an Allied air raid.

He wrote: "However, I feel much better now than when I wrote the last letter because I'm almost certain that you have been informed by this time of my safety, thanks to the Red Cross. I think I can honestly say that no one could possibly appreciate them nearly as much as we fellows undergoing this experience as a prisoner, so I ask you to give to them heartily for my sake."

Sgt. Markley is a son of Joseph Markley, also of Kitzmiller. His wife was formerly Wilma Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Evans. A son was born to the couple on August 15, in Potomac Valley hospital, Keyser.

Arrangements Complete For Transporting School Children During Coming Term

Arrangements have been completed for the transporting school children of the county during the coming school year, according to F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent, and John L. Fitzwater, supervisor of transportation.

The ensuing list contains the names of the route, the contractor and address, and the length of each route in miles or way.

"The Board of Education of this County," stated Mr. Rathbun, "appreciates the responsibilities attached to transporting school children and is always on the search for the best qualified contractors and drivers. They are cautioned constantly that the rule of safety, first, last and always should be followed."

"Over half of all the pupils in the schools are transported to and from school each morning and evening," continued Mr. Rathbun, "which fact demands every provision for comfort and safety in their transportation, and men are selected who will accept these responsibilities and carry them out faithfully. During the past school year, 1527 elementary pupils were transported every school day, and likewise 839 high school pupils, making a total number of 2366 each day of school."

Mr. Rathbun stated further that the sum of $565,501.60 had been paid during the past school year for the transportation of the elementary pupils and $35,483.14 for high school pupils, the two totaling $600,984.74. This amount was provided wholly by (Continued on Page Three)

School Children To Help on Collection of Milkweed Floss

Goal in County Is 4,000 Bushels Of Pods, Capable Of Saving 2,000 Lives Of Servicemen

Garrett county's school children will be asked to collect 4,000 bushels of sooty needed milkweed floss, now replacing kapok in life belts used by members of the armed forces, according to F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent.

Mr. Rathbun has been named chairman of a committee in charge of the milkweed collection and he pointed out that children would be making a vital contribution to the war effort that may result in saving as many as two thousand lives.

The supply of kapok from the East Indies has been cut off, and milkweed floss has proved to be an excellent substitute.

In Maryland the program is being set up by the Extension Service and the Soil Conservation Service. Stewart B. Shaw, state supervisor of the floss collection, was in Oakland last Friday at which time he appointed the chairman after conferring with John H. Carter, county agent; and William W. Nace, soil conservationist. At a meeting Monday afternoon Mr. Rathbun named the following as members of the committee: Frank Getty, Grantsville; W. J. Glenn, Friendsville; B. O. Aiken, Accident; F. D. Bittle, Oakland; and O. P. Jones, Kitzmiller, high school principals; Merle Frantz, Oakland elementary principal; Jessie Iden, Crellin principal; Mrs. Lenora Wiley Buckel, Bittering; Mrs. Carolyn Wilson and Miss Kate Barnatone, supervising teachers; John L. Fitzwater, transportation supervisor; Rev. Francis Driscoll; George Hanst, Mr. Nace, Mr. Carter, and Joe Steger, assistant county farm agent.

Most of the milkweed from this state will come from Central and Western Maryland and other counties in the state are to conduct similar projects. Twenty-seven other states are also collecting the material.

All Can Participate Although the collection of the floss will be handled through the schools, it was pointed out that other organizations are invited to take part. Scouts, 4-H clubs, Sunday schools, etc., may work as a group but the pods should be turned in at the nearest school.

Ready in September The milkweed is expected to be ready for picking the latter part of September, Mr. Rathbun said. He explained that it must be picked before the pods open and when the seeds are black for the floss to be at its best.

Those interested are being urged to get the pods picked now so that when ripe they can be picked without much effort. Mr. Carter said he was having letters written to every farmer in the county asking their cooperation. They will be asked to refrain from cutting fifth patches where milkweed abounds until after the pods are collected.

Teachers will be informed of the program at the annual teachers meeting on September 11. Bags to be used in collecting the milkweed are to be sent to the committee and distributed through the schools or from the offices of the county agent or soil conservationist. Mr. Carter said that 2,000 bags had been ordered and more could be obtained if necessary. Each bag will hold one bushel of pods and two bags of pods will provide enough floss to fill one life jacket which may help save a life.

The government is providing 20 cents per bushel for all pods picked. Mr. Carter said there were over 2,000 farms in the county and each farm should provide at least two bushels of pods, so a quota of 4,000 bushels has been set, enough to save the life of 2,000 individuals.

Bags of pods must be tied to tops of fences or over a clothes line or somewhere where dew, rain or snow will not harm them. If packed in tight boxes or thrown in a heap in the barn or on the ground the pods will mold and spoil. When thoroughly dried (2 to 5 weeks) they may be piled indoors. Pods dry enough to store will give a sharp crackle when the bags are squeezed.

Rain Aids Crops Rainfall on two consecutive days, amounting to more than an inch, gave a tremendous boost to crops which were rapidly turning brown.

The government station at Weber's recorded 14 inches on Tuesday and 7.5 last evening.

The coldest temperature of the week was recorded on Sunday, with a reading of 37 degrees. Temperature was 50 degrees last night with much lower reading forecast for to-night, due to a northwest wind.

Soldier, AWOL, Is Recaptured After Jumping From Train

A soldier, under armed guard, jumped from the washroom of the National Limited Friday night while ascending the seventeen-mile grade, but his recapture was effected by Corporal Thomas Currie, of the State Police, the following afternoon.

The soldier, Pvt. Frank A. McAdams, Jr., a member of Company H, 333rd infantry, stationed at Camp Claiborne, La., had been absent without leave and had been apprehended in Washington, D. C. He was being taken to Camp Claiborne when he persuaded his guards to allow him to go to the washroom. He climbed through the window somewhere about Streeters, east of Swanton.

Authorities notified the sheriff's office here, the following day, and W. D. Castel, deputy, called Corporal Currie, who undertook the task of hunting the missing soldier.

Corporal Currie said he made his way to Deer Park and after making inquiries, proceeded to Swanton and thence to Streeters. Receiving word he was in the vicinity, Corporal Currie said he spied the soldier on a ledge of rocks high up on the mountain side. Skirting the area he arrived at the spot, near an old stone quarry and after a thorough search spotted the man on the ledge below him, asleep on the ground and in a most convenient position for the officer to slip on the handrails before the escaped man had awakened.

At first he protested his innocence but later admitted to Currie that he was the man sought. The soldier had cut on the face and one leg, evidently received when he jumped from the train. Upon being brought to the Oakland jail Currie had Sheriff George Coddington call Dr. Sollars, who dressed his injuries. Military policemen from Cumberland, notified of his capture, came that night to take charge of him.

YOUNG MARRIED WOMAN KILLED BY TRAIN MONDAY

Former Oakland Resident, Visiting Here, Meets Death Instantly; Had Been Ill For Several Months

Mrs. Fred Mousch, 27, Guilford, Connecticut, visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Elza Naylor, Second street, was instantly killed on Monday morning when she deliberately ran down a steep embankment and in front of passenger train 23, westbound, at 6:30 o'clock, just east of the Second street crossing.

Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, county medical examiner, who examined the remains and made the investigation, declared that it was a clear case of suicide and that an inquest would be unnecessary. Mrs. Mousch, the former Betty Naylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Naylor, of Guilford, had been in a nervous condition for some time and in recent days had been telling friends and relatives she "wanted to die," according to neighbors and friends. Relatives had decided they would take her to the state hospital near Baltimore for examination.

Lee R. Mason, neighbor, standing on the overhead bridge on Oak street, watching the train approach, saw Mrs. Mousch on the other side of the "cut" wave to him. As he waved back he saw her make a mad plunge down the bank and step out on the tracks. The fireman apparently saw her and signaled the engineer who made an abrupt stop. Her mangled body was removed from the tracks several cars back from the engine, by trainmen.

Her husband and father had arrived from Guilford Friday night and her mother had been here for several weeks with Mrs. Naylor, who is quite ill. Relatives said they had been watching her closely in an attempt to prevent any suicide attempt but she came out of the house Monday morning in pajamas, house dress and sweater, shoes but no stockings, just as the train approached. An alley led from the house to the top of the railroad embankment where she plunged over.

She had a twenty-months-old son, in perfect health, but relatives had said she worried constantly about him and expressed the belief that he couldn't live through the summer.

Mrs. Mousch came here several weeks ago with her baby, her husband and father believing her condition would be improved. She was born in Oakland May 20, 1917, and moved with her parents to Connecticut about fifteen years ago.

Private funeral services were conducted on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from the Rolden Funeral home, with Rev. George Birk, Lutheran pastor, officiating. Interment will be in the Oakland cemetery.

Surviving are her husband and one son; her parents, of Guilford; one brother, Corporal William E. Naylor, Camp Lee, Va.; and two grandmothers, Mrs. E. G. Naylor, of Oakland; and Mrs. Sam Thomas, Sang Run.

BARKLEY MAKES

POOR CASE—

Senator Alben (Oft-Again-On-Again) Barkley (D.) of Kentucky, writing in Collier's a national magazine, makes the point that mayors of various cities are elected four, five and even up to ten terms, concluding from this fact that representative government can function no matter how many times a President is elected to office.

Well, Alben, how about the comparison between the office of mayor in the average little city to the office of President of the United States? Isn't it like comparing an ant to a dinosaur?

The two offices are both political offices. Agreed. But from that point on, all similarity ceases.

Presidents have the power to appoint ambassadors to other nations; to appoint Federal judges; Presidents have power to appoint cabinet members, who in turn have jurisdiction over employees in every state in the nation and in the inland possessions and territories outside this country.

Presidents have power over an enormous amount of Federal largess, which is administered in part by mayors and other public officials. The President today has more than 3,000,000 Federal employees under him. Does any mayor have one-thirtieth this many employees under him?

Even to compare the two offices is to show utter cynicism for the intelligence of the people or complete disregard for the facts.

DIARY OF THE WAR

FRIDAY—Russians for first time in thirty years carried the war to German border, reaching East Prussian frontier. German resistance was heavy with many reserves being hurled into battle. Berlin admitted that Nazis had lost battle of Normandy and were trying to escape another large Allied trap. Americans were 25 miles from Paris. Americans in south France seized five road centers behind beachheads. Vichy officials were reported fleeing to Berlin. French patriots were attacking Germans in many areas and were reported well organized. Allied guns were sounding in Paris. In Italy the 8th Army fought to clear Florence.

SATURDAY—Germany told its people they must be prepared for a German withdrawal from France. Nazi Fifteenth and seventh armies in Normandy were on the run. The retreat route to Paris was blocked. Allies were only twelve miles from Paris. Allies in southern France made a drive to outflank the Toulon Naval base. A push by Russians was menacing Silesia. Reds had trapped three German divisions. Warplanes blasted Nazi installations in France and sky fights raged as German air force came to life. U. S. ship was sunk in South Atlantic. Air action was continued against Jap islands. Retreats in Japan in India were being annihilated fast.

SUNDAY—The Nazis scuttled their fleet in Bay of Biscay, including subs, torpedo boats, trawlers, freighters and auxiliary ships. Allies outflanked Toulon and were 25 miles from Marseille, gaining ten miles a day. Allies were springing a Seine river trap on fleeing Nazis around Paris. The rapid drives were called the result of efficient bombings. Tanks were trying out rocket-firing flamethrower planes. Two Red armies rolled ahead in Warsaw area. An aircraft carrier and two cruisers were launched at Philadelphia. A light cruiser was launched at Quincy.

MONDAY—Armored units reached Seine river northwest and southeast of Paris, flanking French capital. Other forces were mopping up Germans still trapped in Normandy. Americans reached vicinity of Versailles. British moved eastward along Normandy coast in direction of Le Havre. French troops were closing on Toulon and Germans were pulling out of Marseille. Another aerial smash against Jap homeland by superfortresses was reported. Points on Kyushu and Shikoku islands were hit. Planes also raided isolated Jap islands ranging from Marianas to Palau. Chinese battled to stop Jap reinforcements headed for Hunan, recapturing three positions. U. S. planes hit shipping supply lines and airfields in China and sank two Jap freighters in South China sea. Japs were withdrawing all air forces from Palau. 300 miles south of Philippines.

TUESDAY—Armored columns were across Seine river on both sides of Paris as French troops fought into naval base of Toulon. Other forces were nine miles from Marseille. American infantry were 50 miles inland from Toulon, a third of the way to Lyon. Other columns were racing toward Rhone valley. Russians lashed out anew northeast of Warsaw. Reds acknowledged a reverse in western Latvia. Germans and Reds had opened an offensive on Romanian front. Nazi airfields were hit from Italy. Germans hurled heaviest attack of robot bombs, hitting London and southern England towns. It was revealed Japs lost 14,067 on Guam and 25,144 on Saipan; only 100 prisoners were taken on Guam. Two superfortress blows from China gave Japan a warning of what is to come. Subs sank 19 Jap ships, in latest report.

WEDNESDAY—Armored units drove 65 miles through weak German resistance to area of Sens, 58 miles southeast of Paris, over halfway to German border from Normandy beach head, 165 miles from Reich. German garrison of Toulon naval base was cut off from escape. French units were within three miles of Marseille. French Army of Interior declared that more than half of all France was under control of Allied or patriot forces. Germans seized Marshall Point. Flying bombs hit London and southern England at accelerated pace. Florence, Italy, was firmly in Allied hands. Red armies captured last in Rumania and crossed Bug river northeast of Warsaw. France's two greatest cities, Paris and Marseille, fell to Allied and patriot armies; 50,000 armed citizens drove Germans from Paris streets. French troops took Marseille. One American column was 140 miles from landing beaches in south. Americans drove ahead on both sides of Paris, clamping stranglehold on fleeing Germans. A number of craft on Irrawaddy and Chindwin rivers of Burma were hit by Allied airmen.

State Health Record Is Considered Good

Maryland's health record for the second quarter of 1944 is good, according to statistics just released by Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Department of Health. The figures show that on the whole the residents of this State were healthier during April, May and June of this year than during the corresponding period of 1943.

The general death rate declined by 4 per cent. There was a small decrease in the death rate for white residents and a decrease of 11 per cent among the colored.

The records show 403 fewer deaths from all causes during the second quarter than in the corresponding quarter of 1943. This lower mortality is reflected in the smaller number of deaths from specific causes. In the group of "degenerative" diseases (i. e., heart disease, cancer, cerebral hemorrhage, nephritis and diabetes) there was a decrease of 276 - from 3,035 to 3,359 deaths. Deaths from syphilis dropped from 86 to 72, cerebrospinal meningitis from 30 to 18, whooping cough from 16 to 1, and appendicitis from 23 to 15. Very gratifying decreases are recorded for deaths due to pregnancy, which declined from 28 to 12, and for deaths from all types of accidents, which dropped from 394 to 355. Tuberculosis deaths, however, remained practically stationary, and there were increases in mortality from diphtheria, measles and motor vehicle accidents.

The birth rate decreased from 20.9 per 1,000 population in the second quarter of 1943 to 19.5 in 1944, a drop of 7 per cent. The white rate dropped 8 per cent, from 20.5 to 18.3, but the colored rate declined only 3 per cent, from 23.3 to 22.6. These lowered birth rates are the continuation of a trend noted in the first quarter of this year. The decrease in birth rate per 1,000 population was accompanied by a 54 per cent drop in the maternal death rate. Unfortunately, the infant mortality rate showed an increase of 8 per cent over that recorded for the corresponding quarter of 1943. This year the rate was 44.6 per 1,000 live births, as compared with only 41.2 during the similar period of 1943.

Communicable diseases were less prevalent during the second quarter of 1944 than they were last year. There were 17,184 known cases of reportable diseases in Maryland in the period under discussion, as compared with 20,241 cases last year. Considerable decreases are recorded for epidemic meningitis, pulmonary tuberculosis, syphilis, gonorrhea, whooping cough and German measles. On the other hand, increases occurred in the incidence of diphtheria, measles, scarlet fever, undulant fever and Rocky Mountain spotted fever.

CARROTS
Some recent studies made by the Colorado experiment station have resulted in some interesting facts about carrots that we have not known before. Carrots for a long time known to be a good source of vitamin A have now been found to contain a moderate amount of vitamin C. If used fresh from the garden, the C content is not greatly disturbed, but present methods of harvesting, handling, and cooking often destroy all or most of this vitamin.

If cooked either by steaming or boiling in a little water until just tender, they lose very little. On the other hand, when carrots are baked in the field, stand in the water air of grocery store or kitchen, and finally are cooked too long or in too much water, they are practically C minus when served. Experiments show that carrots must be kept both cold and moist to hold their C. They can be held overnight with little vitamin loss if they are kept in cold water. If held longer, they should be kept at a temperature not over 40 F.

Vitamin A in carrots is less easily lost than C. When carrots are allowed to wilt or become warm, they lose A but the loss is gradual. Overcooking also causes a loss of A. Vitamin A, however, does not dissolve in the cooking water as vitamin C does. When carrots are canned, the vitamin A remains in them, but much of the C goes into the liquid in the can.

Tests also show that mature carrots are richer in vitamins and flavor than young, tender "baby" carrots, so the gardener will be wise not to gather them too early.

Tests of winter storage of carrots in Colorado show that they keep best topped and either buried in moist soil below the frost line or packed in a storage room between 32 and 40 F.

Have a Coca-Cola = Let's work refreshed

... or a helping hand on the farm
Helping to feed America means long hours in the fields... endless tasks to perform. All the more welcome, then, is the friendly pause for an ice-cold Coca-Cola. Have a "Coke", says a farm companion, and it means Let's work refreshed. In country home or city dwelling, frosty bottles of "Coke" belong in the icebox. Across America, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes, — a symbol of kindly hospitality.

It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke".

ISRAEL'S FIRST KING

LESSON TEXT—1 Samuel: 9:15-21; 10:25-27; 11:12-15.
GOLDEN TEXT—Honor all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the king.—1 Peter 2:17.

"Well begun is half done," says the old proverb, reminding us of the importance of a good beginning. While it does not guarantee success (see next week's lesson), it is eminently desirable, and truly helpful. Israel had foolishly tired of being a God-ruled nation and had begun to demand a king.

Samuel was directed of God to the man of His choice, Saul, in a very remarkable way. He entered upon his service as king as an obedient and earnest ruler. (Would God that he had continued in that way!)

We note a number of favorable elements which indicated the possibility of a successful reign. He was—

I. Wanted by the People (9:15, 16).

A ruler forced upon a nation is sure of opposition, but here the people were clamoring for a king to rule over them. The way was wide open to the interest and the affection of their hearts. Saul was just the type to please them. Physically he was head and shoulders above the people—a desired thing in a ruler (see 10:23). He was mentally fitted (10:25)—humble (9:21), spiritually right (10:6-9), tolerant and kindly (11:33), and a good military leader (ch. 11).

II. Chosen by God (9:17).

All these qualities commended Saul to God as well as to the people. In fact, he was God's choice. A man could not enter upon high office with any more auspicious token for good.

Observe that what looked like a purely chance visit to Samuel, when Saul was on business for his father, was the occasion for the making known of God's choice. Out of a simple experience in daily life came an event which changed his entire destiny.

III. Anointed by the Prophet (9:18-20).

The man of God's choice had met God's man, Samuel, who proceeded to instruct him, and to privately anoint him as king. It was a tender scene. The aged prophet, rejected by the people as God's ruler over them, quietly and sweetly obeyed God's command to anoint the young man to be king.

Public recognition, which came later, was important, but, with Saul as with every servant of the Lord, the personal anointing of God, in the hidden place of communion with Him, was the matter of highest importance.

IV. Humble in Attitude (9:21). That pride, which was ultimately to be Saul's downfall, was beautifully absent at the beginning of his reign. Although of good family, and well-equipped, he saw himself as poor and insignificant, not ready for such an honor.

That is the right attitude for one who is to serve God. Pride and self-assurance do not befit the man who stands in the presence of the Almighty.

V. Guided by Principle (10:25). Saul did not enter upon his office, new as it was to both him and to Israel, without a Constitution, that is, without principles of action. Samuel, the Lord's prophet, wrote down "the manner of the kingdom" in a book. How interesting, and how important.

Rulers who imagine themselves so wise that they need no controlling laws, and so powerful that the law may not question their decisions, are certainly not rulers after God's plan. Knowing the heart of man, his weakness and pride, God has provided true principles by which the ruler is to be guided, yes and controlled.

VI. Forgiving in Spirit (10:26-27; 11:12, 15). Some "worthless fellows" despised Saul and would not recognize him as king. The urge of the flesh was to destroy them, and especially did that seem proper because of their worthless nature. But Saul, in true kingly spirit, said that there was to be no revenge, just rejoicing.

To be of the right spirit toward one's enemies is the hall mark of Christian character.

VII. Established in Office (11:14, 15). While there is the secret whisper of God in the heart, and the personal anointing by the Lord's servant, there should be the public recognition which establishes the Lord's servant in the eyes of all people. Saul had this at Gilgal. It placed him among the kings of the earth, and prepared the way for his dealing with other nations as well as with his own people.

Applying that truth to those who serve Christ, we say that there is upon the church the obligation to recognize God's call and anointing by giving that official recognition which sets the testimony and service of the individual free to exercise itself among men in general.

Bulgaria threw out a peace feeler its premier saying "The government is determined to remove all obstacles which stand in the way of Bulgarian people's love for peace."

Turning Over An Old Leaf

By PHILLIP A. GLADHEIM

"There were faces to remember in the Valley of the Shadow; There were faces unregarded, there were faces to forget; There were faces of grief and fear that are a few forgotten ashes; There were sparks of recognition that are not forgotten yet."

The culture-man of the 20th century has a value-measurement that is about as comprehensive in its power of discernment as the mechanical calculator of mathematical problems framed within a panel of every known device of numbers located at Harvard University. The culture-man's value-measurement consists in the mastery of the coordinated sciences in delving ever deeper into the remote past. With this knowledge his mind finds the means to span from the prime symbols of life across the centuries of known history. His power of foreseeing and planning the future of culture is in direct ratio to his penetration into history and pre-history. Thus there is a genetic relationship between the cave-homes of our pre-historic ancestors and the dream-mansions of the future. As man's functional powers increase, multiply, and show an ever greater variation—so do the forms require the selections of new materials.

The pre-historic man lived within the narrow walls of instinct. He accepted what he found. Nature provided food and shelter without the addition of effort, other than search. In July 1944 issue of Harper's there is an article entitled "Our Search for the Earliest Americans," by Frank C. Hibben. This earliest American is known as Folsom Man, who is believed to have been an inhabitant of various sections of the United States in the Pre-Glacial Period. The discovery of Folsom Man was made in Sandia Cave, New Mexico, by inference. No human bones were found, but a grooved arrow-head of flint, unlike any of the Indian tribes, was found beside the skeletal remains of animals living here in that early period—and which did not survive in Post-Glacial times. The search started in Sandia Cave and has thus far taken its adventures to an inland lake in Alaska where the identical Folsom-point was found among the same skeletal remains, that of a mastodon.

The recent discovery in Sandia Cave, New Mexico, has an important bearing on observations made in 1926 by the late Dr. David White in an article (reprinted in Bulletin No. 6 of the National Speleological Society) entitled: "The Paleontological Exploration of Caves." And what makes the findings more exciting is that Dr. White calls attention to an accidental discovery of fossils in our mountains, near Cumberland. To quote: "When extending the Western Maryland R. R. through a limestone ridge near Cumberland a few years ago, the workmen cut into the earth filling a chamber beneath an old sinkhole. The bones found there were supposed to represent buried live stock, and carloads of the earth were hauled away for filling beneath the railroad bed. It was the final discovery of some strikingly curious specimens that attracted the notice of an engineer and led to the collection of skulls and other remains by Dr. J. W. Gidley of the National Museum in Washington. The remains of extinct vertebrate animals which Doctor Gidley was able to salvage included an eland very closely resembling the species now living in Africa, a crocodile, five extinct peccaries, a tapir, a mastodon, an extinct bear, and a horse. This association of animals falling into a sinkhole scarcely 150 miles from the National Capitol, is of striking significance as to the geographic distribution of vertebrates at that presumably Pleistocene moment, and as to the climatic conditions then prevailing."

Further on in the article Dr. White says: "There must be scores—probably many hundreds—of caves in the Appalachian region containing animal remains not less interesting than those found near Cumberland, a part only of which were ever recovered."

It is reasonable to conclude that these Pleistocene vertebrates identified by Dr. Gidley several years ago lived contemporaneously with Folsom Man. Therefore it is not too much to assume that the quest for skeletal remains of Folsom man might find its end here in some floor deposit of a cave.

Dr. White believes that paleontological research in America will richly supplement that already done by European scientists. He would dispel the notion that vertebrate deposits are limited to the Eurasian lands—archaeological man was distributed widely throughout the earth from earliest times. Most of such work has been done in caves and excavations in Europe and Asia. But today this science is beginning to dig deeply into what we call the New World—and is finding that it is not a 'New World' after all; that man has been here millenniums before the American Indian.

Already teachers of American history must revise their material pertaining to American prehistory. In our mountains we can no longer assert, for instance, that the first human being to cut a trail thru the wilderness was a Shawnee Indian. To be sure we are on the brink of startling new discoveries about our human ancestry, and that there is more than an equal chance for these discoveries to be made in our locality.

Ever since the forming of the National Speleological Society in 1940 the writer has been an active member. In the fall of 1941 he guided the President, William J. Stephenson, and Vice-President, John S. Petrie, to John Friend's Cave at Sang Run. Shortly after his visit an article was published about this cave in this column; also an article was written by Stephenson in the national bulletin. That same fall Dr. and Mrs. Martin Muma, of College Park, Md., also visited the same cave. Since then they have published various data respecting their finds. The following specimens of fauna have been discovered in this cave and recorded by the Society: (1) Arachnida (spider) Leiobunum bi-color—3 sub-adults collected in zone of partial darkness. (2) Family Argiopidae, Cyclosa turbinata, adolecent—1 female collected. (3) Family Acheloniae—Cores of 1 young female collected. (4) Myotis lucifugus (LeConte). (5) Myotis sp. adolecent. Specimens 4 and 5 are two classifications of bats. In lay-terms the fauna discovered in this cave were 4 spring-tails, 3 flies, 1 mosquito, 1 cave cricket, 5 harvestmen, 2 spiders and two species of lizards.

The cave was mapped, measured, and temperatures were taken. As Muma reported in Bulletin No. 6 the distinguishing feature of this cave was its "condensation room." This same phenomena has been observed only in five other caves thus far explored by the Society.

In his report as Chairman of the Committee on Archeology Dr. Floyd Barloga has the following to say in Bulletin No. 6: "Dr. and Mrs. Martin Muma, of College Park, Maryland, have submitted some very interesting study material to the Chairman. On July 4th and September 12th, 1943, Dr. Muma collected the specimens listed below in a large refuge cave known as Sand Cave in Garrett County, near Loch Lynn, Md."

76 Flint Chips, 2 Flint flake knives, 2 Flint chipped knives, 3 Triangular flint arrow tips, 1 Shouldered, square base arrow head, 2 Broken arrow points, 1 Flint chip, 1 Bone tool, 1 Grit tempered pot sherd of red and blue clay, a number of small animal bones, many charred and burned, some broken for marrow."

Thus already scientists are busy in these parts. They have visited two known caves—and have made a record of their findings. This is only a beginning. In a very short while extensive excavations of cave floors will likely be made for the purpose of seeking pre-historic data.

Cave-exploring in Europe is a recreation and study that has enlisted the interest of thousands of outdoor enthusiasts. At present there are over two hundred such groups in England under the leadership of the famous anthropologist Sir Arthur Keith. Our National Society is but newly born. Already there are about 400 members from every state in the Union.

It is reassuring to note that the pioneers in their science have already visited our locality, and that their investigations will continue. It is to be hoped that many who read this article will reflect on the possible discoveries to be made here and that their curiosity might lead them to join the Society and share the fun of exploring "on the last frontier."

Most certainly values can be gained from facts, if we heighten our powers of discernment. The Cave is one of the prime symbols of man's culture. It symbolizes the dawn of awareness—the location of the Oracles of the Numen—the first architectural motifs of the Church—the first suggestions as to multi-roomed dwellings—and the art of ornamentation. No more fitting words than those of Matthew Arnold in his "The Buried Life" can express its deep symbolism:

"But often, in the world's most crowded streets,
But often, in the din of strife,
There rises an unspeakable desire
After the knowledge of our buried life;
A thirst to spend our fire and restless force
In tracking out our true, original course;
A longing to inquire Into the mystery of this heart which beats
So wild, so deep in us to know
Whence our lives come and where they go."

Foot-note:
We take for granted the results of science. In the field of pre-history most of us are not aware that these views were up until very recently held by the church as untenable. The following is a quotation from "A History of the Warfare of Science With Theology in Christendom" by Andrew White, once President of Cornell University.

"At the close of the first quarter of the nineteenth century, geologists began to examine the caves and beds of drift in various parts of the world; and within a few years from that time a series of discoveries began in France, in Belgium, in England, in Brazil, in Sicily, in India, in Egypt, and in America, which established the fact that a period of time much greater than any which had before been thought of had elapsed since the first human occupation of the earth. The chronologies of Archbishop Usher, Petavius, Bousset, and the other great authorities on which theology had securely leaned, were found worthless. In 1863, Sir Charles Lyell, in his book on "The Antiquity of Man," retracted solemnly his earlier view—yielding with a reluctance almost pathetic, but with a thoroughness absolutely convincing—the last stronghold of orthodoxy in this field fell."

By FRANK R. KENT.

Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

THERE OUGHT to be some kind of clear understanding in this campaign as to when Mr. Roosevelt must be treated as Commander in Chief of the army and navy and when he can be treated as a candidate for reelection to a fourth term in the White House. Not to have that understanding gives him a protection to which he is not entitled and which is unfair.

AS A CANDIDATE Mr. Roosevelt's record and Mr. Roosevelt himself are legitimate objects of attack. There are things Mr. Roosevelt has done and things he is doing which should be exposed and for which he should be held personally responsible. Yet, when he wraps his Commander-in-Chief cloak about him and departs on some mysterious journey, in pursuance, as he declares, of "my constitutional duties" there is natural reluctance upon the part of the opposition to assail him. This is not only because he must be doing something of great importance (though that by no means has always been the case) but also because of the ease with which his assailants could be put on the defensive and the cleverness with which it could be maintained that small-minded politicians attack him at home while he, as the Commander in Chief, with no thought save winning the war, operates on a plane high above politics.

THERE ARE things that should be understood about these Commander-in-Chief campaign trips in pursuance of "my constitutional duties." One is that they permit Mr. Roosevelt to move around under a veil of secrecy so thick that the full story of where he has been and what he has done never is revealed. Eventually, upon his return, the American people get what information he thinks they should get. Only the picked representatives of the three press services accompany him and by the time they are free to write what really happened, it is no longer news, and, in any event, would not be written in a way the President would greatly dislike. This is in contrast with Mr. Roosevelt's opponent, who is constantly attended by forty odd newspapermen, quite a few of them hostile.

ANOTHER THING that should be understood is that Mr. Roosevelt, traveling as Commander in Chief, also travels as a Presidential candidate. For example, on his most recent trip he took time out on his way to the Pacific Coast to divert his train to Chicago, where as a candidate he conferred with Democratic Chairman Robert Hannegan and others, on purely political matters. Two days later, at a "West Coast naval base," he made his speech accepting the nomination—but made it as Commander in Chief in "pursuance of my constitutional duties." A third thing that should be understood is that on these trips Mr. Roosevelt, whether on land or on sea, whether in this country or some other, is never out of communication with his aides, political or executive, is always kept informed of political developments, is always able to advise or decide. Frequently, orders and messages from him emanate from the White House when he is many miles away.

A FOURTH thing that should be understood is that this dual role of Commander in Chief and candidate is a piece of coldly calculated political strategy. It is upon it that reliance is placed by the elements behind Mr. Roosevelt to keep him in the White House for four more years. Certainly it gives him a great advantage. Although there was no war in 1936 and in 1940 it will be recalled that Mr. Roosevelt pursued almost the same strategy in both those campaigns and it is the way in which it worked in those years that gives the men around him now confidence it will work this time. In 1936, for example, Mr. Roosevelt assumed the attitude that he was too busy handling the affairs of his great office to participate in an ordinary campaign. Instead of a political tour, he made "inspection trips" to the distant bow of the Middle and Far West, which had all the effect of a political tour. In addition, those trips permitted him to pose as being aloof from politics. In that campaign he also held a nonpartisan conference of Governors in Iowa, at which his opponent, Governor Landon, was present but at which Mr. Roosevelt got all the publicity.

IN 1940, the war was clearly approaching and Mr. Roosevelt, again as candidate, made "inspection trips" in the interest of preparedness, visiting many plants engaged in the manufacture of arms and munitions. In that campaign, though he directed his own organization, formed his own political plans and was in constant White House conference with his political leaders—as he is now—he publicly pretended to be so oblivious of politics that he could not be brought even to mention the name of his opponent—Wendell Willkie. His intimates were immensely gleeful over the way in which, after personally manipulating his third-term "draft" at Chicago, he got by with this non-political pretense in the campaign. It was slick, all right, but it does not argue strongly for the discomfitment of the voter.

ACTUALLY, this is the third time this game has been worked. Whether it will be as successful again as it has been before remains to be seen. The fact that we are actually at war now is, of course, a big help to Mr. Roosevelt. But, it is easily possible that a sufficient number of voters have become disillusioned about him, and aware of the way in which the Commander-in-Chief business is being used to promote his candidacy, to produce a very different result. One thing certain about Mr. Roosevelt which hardly his friends will deny, however much he may be Commander in Chief he never forgets he is running for reelection.

Marine Captain Gives Picture Of Pacific Area

From the pages of letters received since January by the family of Marine Corps Captain Albert T. "Bert" Watson, Jr., a composite picture of life in the war-torn Pacific may be visualized.

The Fairmont (W. Va.) Sunday Times of June 25, carries some of the excerpts of letters of the Fairmont soldier who spent a number of summers at his summer home near Deer Park, and who was known by many Oakland and Mountain Lake Park residents.

Captain Watson served in the past year in Pago Pago, Tutuila; Apia, Upolu (British Guiana); Noumea, New Caledonia; Melbourne, Australia, and finally Wellington, New Zealand. His present location is uncertain.

In a letter Jan. 10, Capt. Watson wrote: "The outfit is back from Tarawa and as QM my job is to re-outfit them. The trip here was ideal in a Liberty ship except for the fact that we had more tons of TNT and dynamite in the hold than I care to mention."

Captain Watson received his captain's commission and was re-assigned just before his outfit left for Tarawa. He said: "I did my best to back them up working 20 out of 24 hours for five weeks. Wonder what John L. Lewis would think of those hours. The men worked 12 hours on and 12 hours off for five weeks."

Of the South Sea Islands, Captain Watson wrote that books and other accounts were misleading. "I'll grant the sunsets are beautiful and the weather the same from day to day, but does anyone say that the temperature is just short of the oven doors of hell, and with the precipitation you are wet all through, then bake out for a couple of hours—and the mosquitoes come in droves with their malaria and M-M (Elephantiasis), and spiders as big as baseballs live with you and how you have to check your back each night to see there are no eight-inch centipedes in it. The only times these islands throughout the Pacific are beautiful are when you are on the deck of a ship a couple of miles off shore. Nobody looks like Dorothy Lamour out here, sarong or no sarong."

Captain Watson's parents live in Fairmont. His wife is the former Miss Mary Irene Brown, of Frostburg.

WHO LIVES NEXT DOOR?

By EUTH TAYLOR

How many of you see The Community News of Merchantville, New Jersey? It's a very able editor recently wrote an editorial which was thought-provoking, to say the least. "Who lives next door - or are you the fellow?"

There is something in that sentence which appeals to the imagination. Each one who reads it will follow thought according to his own line of thought. Here is what it meant to me.

Who lives next door? Is it the Murphys, the Smiths, the Slezaks, the Antonios, the Cohens, the Kozwalskis, the Sanchezs? This is America, and it may be any one of them. But really it is you, too - for you are part of America, and America means men and women of all faiths, races, religions and colors, working side by side to make of this a better and a greater nation.

This is a big world. Likewise we are a big country. The world is built upon competition. So is our country. But fortunately, our country is so large - both mentally and physically, that there is room for all of us, provided our motives are sincere.

We, as Americans, do not want dictation from any group. Therefore we must not dictate to any one. Equally so is the fact that we must not be indifferent to the needs of any one. It was George Bernard Shaw who said: "The worst sin toward our fellow creatures is not to hate them, but to be indifferent to them; that is the essence of inhumanity."

Who lives next door? Whose job is it to make the best of America? His or yours - for to someone else you are the fellow next door.

We cannot have a superior without an inferior - so the insecure try to manufacture inferiors upon whom to look down. You can get a pain in the neck from looking down as much as from craning up. Free men should look at each other - for they are neighbors. Who lives next door? It is you and me and every last American of us. We are neighbors all - and until and unless we assume a neighborly spirit of cooperation, we are not living up to the best that is America.

What we need to do is to look around at our fellow-Americans drawn from every rank of life, from every nation, from every religion, and say: "Thank God for America - where we can all work together, fight together - and win together! Let's get to it! Together nobody can beat us!"

here are six ways to put them up—

There are many ways of using this wholesome fruit, with its rich Vitamin C content . . . and your GAS RANGE can help! Here are a few ways to put them up in addition to your regular home-canning of tomatoes.

Tomato Juice Use firm, red ripe, freshly picked tomatoes; discard any that are bruised. Wash carefully. Cut into small pieces (not necessary to remove skin). Cook until soft; put through a fine sieve to remove seed and skin. Work fast when canning tomato juice (loses vitamins). To insure speed, work with only enough tomatoes to make 1 to 2 gallons of juice at a time. Salt to season 1 1/2 to 1 tsp. to each quart of juice. Preheat juice immediately to simmering point; pour into hot jars. Process in boiling water bath 20 minutes.	Chili Sauce (Approximate Yield: 4 Pts.) 4 qts. chopped, peeled tomatoes 2 cups chopped onion 1 cup chop. sweet red pepper 1 cup chop. sweet green pepper 2 1/2 cups vinegar 1 tbsp. whole mustard seed Combine vegetables, salt and sugar and cook until mixture begins to thicken then add vinegar and spices and cook until mixture becomes a thick sauce. Seal in hot sterilized jars.
Tomato Soup (Approximate Yield: 7 to 8 Pts.) 1 pk. tomatoes 1 bunch celery 6 onions 1 bunch parsley 1/2 cup flour Cook tomatoes, chopped onions, celery, parsley and green peppers until tender. Put mixture through sieve, add sugar and salt. Make a paste of butter and flour, thinned with the tomato juice. Gradually add to the hot soup mixture. Fill hot jars within 1 1/2 inch of top. Seal according to directions. Process in boiling water bath 2 hours.	Piccalilli (Approximate Yield: 5 to 6 Pts.) 1 pk. (12-1 1/2 lbs.) green tomatoes 1 cup sugar (1/2 lb.) 1 cup. peppercorns 1 cup. celery seed 1 cup. mustard seed 2 cups. cider vinegar 1 tsp. whole cloves Chop the tomatoes, green peppers and onions, mix with the salt and rest aside for 12 hours. Drain well; then press to get out all superfluous liquid. Heat the vinegar, sugar and spices, add the chopped vegetables and bring to boiling point. Pack into sterilized jars and seal.
Tomato Ketchup (Approximate Yield: 6 to 7 Pts.) 1 pk. ripe tomatoes 2 onions, sliced 2 cups vinegar 1 tbsp. stick cinnamon (broken) 1 tsp. whole cloves Wash and slice tomatoes and cook until soft (about 15 minutes). Combine with tomatoes and run through a sieve. Boil onion and tomato pulp rapidly until it has been reduced to about 1/2 original. Place vinegar in 4-quart pan; add spice bag, containing onion, cloves and garlic—simmer 30 minutes, remove with a slotted spoon. Add sugar, paprika and salt and boil rapidly until desired consistency is reached—10 to 15 minutes. Pour into hot sterilized jars and seal.	Green Tomato Pickles (Approx. Yield: 6 Pts.) 4 qts. green tomatoes 6 onions 1 1/2 cup salt 1 1/2 cups sugar 2 pods hot red pepper 1 tbsp. ground mustard 1 tbsp. mixed seed 1 tsp. celery seed 1 tsp. allspice 1 tsp. horseradish 1 tsp. whole black pepper 4 cups vinegar Slice tomatoes and onions. Sprinkle with salt. Let stand overnight. Drain. Boil sugar and seasoning with vinegar 5 minutes (the spices in bag). Cool slightly. Add tomatoes and onions and simmer 30 minutes. Pack into hot jars and seal in canning.

All-American Platform . . .

AMONG the other things that the dictators can't be expected to understand about our American way of doing things is how we can be hammering the daylight out of them with both fists—and still be arguing violently over who is going to be our next President!

That's the way we do it in a democracy however—and we are determined to keep it that way in spite of attempts to change our system!

The trend of the New Deal bureaucrats and Communist elements toward dictator government is too plain to mistake.

Government by the PEOPLE (with emphasis on the word PEOPLE), has been on the decline especially in the past eight years.

Another four years of President Roosevelt at the helm and every letter will be out of the word "Federal" except FDR.

Americans must be determined to maintain their freedoms and must concentrate upon the task of ousting the party in power this year which is still inaptly called the "Democratic" party; entrenched with Federal money, machine politics and hiding behind the war front.

Americans want production jobs—making and doing things worthwhile.

Americans want the war won as quickly as possible with the loss of as few lives as possible.

Americans want a postwar America in which there is freedom, opportunity, private employment and the kind of jobs which create prosperity and real security.

Americans want jobs, employers, incentive to invest, a possibility of a fair profit to offset the possibility of loss.

These things may best be achieved this November by voting for Governor Dewey and Governor Bricker, presidential nominees of the Republican party in a convention not bossed by Federal officeholders and Communists of the Sidney Hillman type.

WOMAN, STRUCK BY CAR, SUCCUMBS IN HOSPITAL

Miss Mazie Layman, 77, Injured Sunday Morning Near Finzel As She Was Walking To Church

Struck by an automobile Sunday morning as she walked along the Finzel road to church, Miss Mazie Layman, 77, of near Finzel, died of her injuries on Tuesday night in Miners hospital, Frostburg. She suffered fractures of both legs and cuts about the head and face.

State's Attorney Neil C. Fraley, Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, deputy county medical examiner, and State Trooper A. M. Spioch, investigated the accident.

Mrs. L. D. Llewellyn, 23, of Dan's mountain, near Midland, was named as driver of the car.

No charges have been entered yet against Mrs. Llewellyn. The investigation which was conducted yesterday in the State's Attorney's office, is being continued and probably will be concluded today, it was stated.

According to Spioch, Miss Layman and several children were walking along the road toward the intersection with Route 40 when the accident occurred. The officer said a minister stopped his car across the road to offer them a ride to church. The automobile of Mrs. Llewellyn was following close behind the first car, Spioch reported, and in order to avoid a crash she turned sharply to pass the stopped machine.

As she turned her car, it struck Miss Layman who was starting across the road.

A daughter of the late Daniel and Susan Layman, Miss Layman is the last member of her immediate family. She lived for many years along route 40 between Big and Little Savage mountains but for the past several years had been residing with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Burdick.

Only nieces and nephews survive. Funeral services are being held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home of Miss Layman's nephew, Evan Layman, route 40, about four miles west of Frostburg. They are in charge of Rev. Charles Davis, pastor of Mt. Zion Methodist church, who is being assisted by Rev. Raymond Crowe, pastor of Midland Methodist church. Interment will be in Mt. Zion cemetery.

Betsy Weber, Keiles, Take Tennis Events

Win Women's and Men's Singles Championships On Mountain Lake Park Courts

Alex Keiles, Baltimore, won the men's singles title in the Mountain Lake Park war bond invitation tennis tournament, and Betsy Weber, Oakland, carried off the women's singles crown last Saturday afternoon.

Miss Weber then paired with Barbara Smith of Oakland, to take the women's doubles crown from L. Holloway and Betty Hannig, of Wheeling, in straight sets, 6-2, 6-1.

Keiles and Frank Roberts, Baltimore, took the men's doubles title by defeating Edward LaFleur and Bill Lammie, Jr., 6-6, 6-1. The mixed doubles crown was won by Milton King, Pittsburgh, and Miss Betty Hannig, Wheeling, defeating Miss Weber and her father, Ralph E. Weber, tournament director, in the finals 6-3, 6-2.

In the men's singles events, Keiles had difficulty in overpowering his opponent, Edgar Alcorn, of Pittsburgh, veteran of several Mt. Lake Park tournaments. With the score at 6-2, 3-6, and Keiles with a 5-0 lead in the third and final set, Alcorn took five straight games and then extended Keiles to an 8-6 set. There were twenty-three entered in the men's singles events from Baltimore, Washington, Pittsburgh, Elkins, Fairmont and Mt. Lake Park. Lammie, ousted Robert Red Brown, of Elkins, a former W. Maryland champion, in the first round matches in three sets, 6-2, 3-6, 6-0, but was put in the semi-finals by Keiles, 8-6, 6-8, 6-4. Malcolm Fox, junior champ from Baltimore, was defeated in the semi-finals by Alcorn 6-2, 11-9.

Miss Weber became the first Oakland girl ever to win the women's singles in the annual Mt. Lake tournament. She defeated Miss Hannig 6-2, 6-1. She defeated Mrs. Kay Hubbard, Wheeling, Joan Holloway, and Libby Holloway, of Wheeling, to reach the finals. She was never extended in any of her matches.

Pat Beacom, Fairmont, W. Va., president of the Mt. Lake Park Tennis club, announced that next year's tourney would be back on the approved list of the United States Lawn Tennis association, after a lapse of two years. The week of August 13, 1945, has been granted by the association for the local event.

Mr. Beacom between matches on Saturday afternoon, gave a brief history of tennis at the Park, announcing number of persons who had cooperated throughout the years the tournament had been in existence.

Trophies to the winners were presented by Congressman J. Glenn Beall, of this district. A dance at the Mt. Lake Hotel on Saturday formally concluded the activities, although the mixed doubles events were not completed until the following day.

Here In Interest of Grange Activities

Roy T. Brooks, state grange master, and Mrs. Brooks, were visiting communities of the county last week in the interest of grange work with the possibility of resuming active work in this area.

A number of farm people with whom he visited expressed their desire to resume the grange organization in the county, he said. Mr. Brooks also met with farm leaders in the office of John H. Carter, county agent.

OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, THURSDAY, AUGUST 31, 1944.

NUMBER 27

FIRST COUNTY PARALYSIS CASE IS FATAL TO YOUTH

Warren Myers, 19, of Near Kitzmiller, Dies In Morgantown Hospital Sunday Evening

The only case of infantile paralysis reported in Garrett county this year has turned out fatal, it was announced by Dr. T. R. Shrop, county health officer.

The victim was Warren Jasper Myers, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper C. Myers, of the Short Run community, near Kitzmiller, who died in the Morgantown General hospital, Morgantown, W. Va., on Sunday evening, August 27, after an illness of less than a week.

According to Dr. Shrop, Myers became ill on Tuesday. He was taken to the hospital on Friday after having been examined by Dr. H. C. Miller, of Eglon, W. Va. The paralysis affected the lungs and breathing apparatus.

The health officer hastened to point out that this was no cause for any particular anxiety or alarm on the part of other residents of the county. He stated that there had been only three cases west of Frederick county, in the State of Maryland this year, and that one of those was early in the spring. There have been ninety-eight cases in the state, according to last week's official bulletin. Dr. Shrop also pointed out that there was only one case in Garrett county in 1941, one in 1942, and none in 1943, and that only a small percentage of cases was fatal. He declared headaches, with fever, and pains in the back were forerunners of the disease.

The Myers youth was born in this county December 22, 1924. His father is a former member of the Maryland General Assembly.

Surviving are his parents, five brothers and sisters, Mrs. Isabel Wilson, Washington, D. C.; Wilber, Hooper, Virginia; Herbert Hoover, Ellen Fay, all at home. He was a member of the Deer Park Camp Woodmen of the World.

Private funeral services were conducted in the Short Run cemetery on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in charge of the Rev. Hardesty, of the Kitzmiller Methodist church.

Lee Thayer Injured in Auto Accident

Gorman Lee Thayer, second class quartermaster, U. S. Navy, who arrived in Oakland Sunday night for a furlough after extended action in the Pacific theater, was injured early Tuesday morning when the car which he was driving crashed on route 219, near Rainbow Inn, Deep Creek Lake, about 2:45 o'clock.

He was enroute from Oakland to the home of his father, Gorman Thayer, and his brother, Phillips Thayer, on the Lake, when the car left the highway and crashed through the woods for some distance and upset. Thayer was unconscious when discovered by George M. Browning and Clyde Shipley, enroute to their work at the Power House, about 6:30 o'clock and had apparently been in that condition since the accident, but regained consciousness in a short time.

He was taken to Memorial hospital, Cumberland, in the Golden ambulance, where it was stated the sailor was suffering from lacerations on both eyebrows, brush burns on the chin and left part of face, and abrasions on the upper right arm.

He was alone in the car at the time of the accident. The automobile, owned by his father, was practically demolished.

Thayer has been in the Navy for over three years and is stationed on a battleship that has been in most of the Pacific sea battles with the Japanese. Thayer has been in seven major engagements.

Mason Coddington Seriously Wounded

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Coddington, of Friendsville, received a telegram from the War Department stating that their son, Pfc. Mason R. Coddington, was seriously wounded in France on August 4, where he had been serving with an infantry unit.

Randall D. Wilburn Is Patient in Hospital

Randall Wilburn, of near Accident, is a patient in the Frantz hospital at Confluence, Pa., after a shooting affair Saturday night across the State line, in Pennsylvania.

Wilburn with his family and several friends were returning from Uniontown, Pa., and stopped at the "Knotty Pines," near Addison, Pa., and while standing near his car he told investigators he heard a shot fired inside the Inn.

Soon, he said, Scott Holliday, of Addison, Pa., emerged from the Inn with a gun strapped on his side. Wilburn said he drew his gun and attempted to shoot a light bulb on a pole nearby which he failed to hit. Then, he declared, in trying to get the gun back into the holster the revolver went off again, this time the bullet hitting Wilburn in the left foot.

Holliday was taken to the jail at Somerset, Pa., by two State policemen where he posted bond for his appearance in court. Wilburn remains in the hospital where his condition was reported as "fair."

Prior to entering the service he was employed by the Orange Crush Bottling company at Oakland.

Surviving are his parents, three brothers and one sister; Pfc. Francis Gower, who was stationed in California, but who recently received a Pacific overseas assignment; Pvt. Bernard Gower, in Italy; Leo Gower and Mary Virginia Gower, at home.

Had Letter This Week Mrs. Gower had received this week a letter written on July 30, two days before his death. Parts of it follow:

"Today is Sunday. I can't go to church but I can still say prayers. I just got off guard. While sitting out there (in foxhole) the old Jerry started to throw his artillery over, landing about 7 or 8 hundred yards away. He throws it over whenever he feels like it and that is quite often. Don't get much sleep anymore. The only time you can get any sleep is in the day time and then you can't sleep for the flies eating you up."

"At night we go out on a listening post and scout around just to see what we can find. Sometimes you will run into a Jerry but not often. When I finish this letter I will start in on my K ration, which I have to eat cold. Once in a while we get hot coffee from the kitchen but that is behind the lines. I will be glad when I can get some good home cooking. "Don't worry about me, because I am just fine. Write me a great big letter. God bless you all."

How Much Of A "Soldier" Is The Commander In Chief?

As a "good soldier," the President has announced, he will continue as "Commander in Chief" if the people want him to. And a good many people are pricking their ears up sensitively at this suggestion that the President of the United States is ever a "soldier" at what they consider this new emphasis on the peculiarly military flavor of the President's wartime role.

Just what is involved in being Commander in Chief under the Constitution? Prof. E. S. Corwin has given considerable thought to the question. A sound scholar, he naturally goes back to the source materials. He remembers that Blackstone, a legal and constitutional thinker much admired by the colonists, had said of the English King that he "has the sole prerogative of making war and peace."

Dr. Corwin also recalls that Alexander Hamilton, writing one of the Federalist papers, declared that the American President had less war power than the English King, but that he did have "supreme command and direction of the military and naval forces." But the question is, How direct and personal is this command, how much supervisory and administrative?

There is no doubt that the powers of the Commander in Chief as conceived in the original Constitution contemplated his actually taking the field at the head of armies. This, Dr. Corwin recalls, is precisely what President Washington did at the time of the Whiskey Rebellion. In the War of 1812 it was even argued that the President could not delegate his undoubted power to command militia in the service of the United States.

President Lincoln began the Civil War, as everyone knows, with an extensive degree of direct participation in command. In 1862 he issued direct orders from the White House that the Union armies advance. In the next several months he was constantly advising his generals and the generals were as constantly failing to win decisive victories. Then came Grant, and with him, perhaps, a historic shift in the de facto if not in the constitutional nature of the war duties of the Chief Executive. For with Grant the direct interventions of President Lincoln ceased. And with Grant the tide of war turned toward the Union side.

By the time of World War I, Woodrow Wilson, doubtless the greatest technical expert on constitutional theory ever to inhabit the White House, was leaving the conduct of battles to the military without any effort at personal intervention on the Washington or earlier Lincoln model. Indeed, as Dr. Corwin points out, in the end "Mr. Wilson finally agreed to the American forces in France being placed under a command which was not subject to his ultimate control." Though, of course, "no doubt he could at any time have revoked his consent."

The gist of it seems to be that the best technical constitutionalist of the wind blows in their direction—may it sweep clean that free men with naught to fear, men of good will to all, may stand strong again and work to rebuild—not the old hatreds, but the new world of peace for all.

Where blows the wind? The holocaust started in a small blaze. Japan moved into Manchuria. We shrugged our shoulders and said that the fire was on the other side of the world. Italy attacked Ethiopia and we said, "Isn't it too bad?" The Nazis began their persecution of the Jews—and we shed crocodile tears and said, "We can do nothing—we don't interfere with the internal affairs of any nation." Then Hitler's legions started their relentless march over Europe and we said, "It does seem as though Europe could clean its own house."

We should have known better—we who have had experience with forest fires, who know that a dropped cigarette can bring devastation to acres of timberland, engulfing farms and villages as it spreads.

Where blows the wind? Ask those who first bombed civilians—ask them as they stand in their ruined cities with their dead around them. Who started all this? The German people can suffer and complain, but they had surrendered their bodies and souls, even before the war began, and they are now powerless to control their destiny. Where blows the wind?

It is right to be careful—but not right to be maudlin. Twice in a generation have these fires been lighted. We were not blameless in that we might have used an ounce of prevention but did not—but neither were we the ones who started the fire. The wind is blowing—the fires are blazing—and racing with the speed of demons back toward those who started the blaze. They that sow the wind shall reap the whirlwind.

It is a bleakness—that protection known to the pioneers. Many of our ministers have told us we must not emulate the tactics of the enemy. We are not—but we are turning the wind of wrath in his direction—keeping the fire from our own homes. Surely our own people are as entitled to protection as those who exulted in the bombing of Coventry.

Not cruelty but justice! Not vengeance but the immutable laws of life!

SAUL REJECTED

LESSON TEXT—I Samuel 15:10-23.
GOLDEN TEXT—Because thou hast rejected the word of the Lord, he hath also rejected thee from being king.—I Samuel 15:23.

Moral failure is a direct result of disobedience to God's law. He established the moral order in the universe. His is the only right way, and the man who does not walk in God's way is wrong no matter how successful he may seem to be at the moment.

After a brief period of success, Saul sinned by intruding into the priests' office at Gilgal (I Sam. 13:10-14). This was soon followed by his disobedience in the battle with Amalek (I Sam. 15:1-9). This brought final judgment from the Lord, and Saul stood revealed as a self-willed backslider (vv. 10, 11).

"Turned back from following" God means just one thing, that is, turned back to self-will. These two principles, which are mutually exclusive, rule all actions of man—it is either God's will, or self-will. Saul, who had every opportunity to make good as Israel's first king, lost out completely, and so turned away from God that God had to turn away from him, which is the thought expressed by "repenteth" (v. 11).

H. A Living Hypocrite (vv. 12, 13). Knowing that he had done just the opposite, Saul put on his best "Sunday-go-to-church" manner and professed to be very pious, and completely obedient (v. 13). One marvels at his temerity, but not so much so when one thinks of those in the church who put on the same kind of a "front" to cover a worldly, self-centered life.

Nothing hurts the cause of Christ more than the hypocrisy which they deny by their lives before the community the thing for which the church stands. By the way, are you a hypocrite, you who read these lines? If so, flee to God in repentance. You are in bad company.

III. A Proved Deceiver (vv. 14, 15).

The difficulty with falsehood is that ultimately the truth comes to light. With Saul it came quickly, for the sheep which he said were dead were alive enough to bleat at just the right time. The deceit of Saul thus was proved in the very instant of his false declaration of innocence.

"Be sure your sin will find you out" (Num. 32:23) is not just a religious theory, it is God's word. "He that covereth his sins shall not prosper; but whose confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy" (Prov. 28:13).

IV. A Proud Disobeyer (vv. 16, 17).

Now Saul had to stand before Samuel and hear the words of God's condemnation. He had to face his own life and see where the ground of the judgment of the Lord. He was reminded of the day of his humble dependence on the Lord, which had brought him exaltation to the highest place in Israel.

To be small in one's own eyes is to be great in the eyes of the Lord. He is looking for the acceptable sacrifice of a humble heart (Ps. 51:17; Isa. 57:15).

The tumult and the shouting dies; The captain's voice is still; Still stands Thine ancient altar, An humble and a contrite heart— Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet! Lest we forget, lest we forget! —KIPLING.

V. An Argumentative Evader (vv. 20, 21).

Once set in the way of disobedience, there seems to be no limit to the bold stubbornness of man. Instead of breaking down in contrition and confession, Saul tried to face the matter down by further argument and tricky evasion.

"I have obeyed," said he, "but the people." Who was king? Did the people obey Saul, or Saul the people? There is nothing honest about laying your sins over on another. How often people do it!

Notice also that Saul became very religious again. If anything had been done that seemed wrong, it was with a good purpose; they were going to "sacrifice to Jehovah."

"The sacrifices and ceremonies of religion are to aid and promote obedience, not to be a substitute. Disobedience can never be made a virtue, even though attended by a thousand sacrifices" (Stanley).

VI. A Rebellious Reject (vv. 22, 23).

"To obey is better than sacrifice." Oh, that we might learn well that lesson which God through Samuel tried to teach to Saul. We need to recognize that giving to the church, or working for the church, is not enough if there is not obedience to God; and with us that obedience must be the recognition of Christ as savior and Lord.

Lip service, half obedience, a willingness to make sacrifices were not acceptable in the case of Saul. Be sure they are infinitely less acceptable to God in this day when we have His Son who wants to be our Saviour and to give us the enabling grace to obey His will.

Truthful news was urged by Kent Cooper, executive secretary of Associated Press, in a recent magazine article, as an elemental, essential step to a durable peace.

THE WORM IS TURNING—

Below is a news item reprinted in full. It indicates the feelings of millions of Democrats, who have had to watch sadly as their party was taken over by the CIO and the Communists: "Mankato, Minn., July 25. (C. T. P. S.)—John E. Regan, Democratic nominee for Governor of Minnesota in 1932 and 1934 and for the United States Senate in 1940, announced at his home here today he proposes to aid the Republican campaign this fall by organizing Dewey-Bricker all-party committees in every county of the state.

"Regan said last week's Democratic National Convention in Chicago, which he attended as a spectator, convinced him the Democratic Party is under the control of Communists and that its only hope of salvation as a party lies in such a thumping defeat this fall that the present set-up will be destroyed.

"My fight in Minnesota is for the purpose of preserving the Democratic Party," he said. "We shall expose Sidney Hillman, Earl Browder, David Niles, and all the other men who have a throttle-hold on the present Democratic Party."

"He described the party as 'bloated with Communists which is the duty of every right-minded Democrat to remove from control of the party.'"

"As long as this communistic group is in the saddle, there will be no Democratic Party," he asserted. "This means the end of the two-party system of government in the United States. In order to preserve the party and the two-party system, Democrats must first get rid of the Communists.

"Before they can do this and recapture control of their party, however, the gang now running things must be defeated so soundly that the real Democrats can rebuild from the ground up. This is one reason why I intend to give all my energy to the Dewey-Bricker ticket, but another is I believe Thomas E. Dewey is a true American."

Homemakers' Column

FOR THE RECIPE FILE

Spiced Jelly. Two full fruits, apples and grapes, are especially good for making spiced jelly to serve with meat. Spices generally used are cinnamon and cloves, but allspice may be used instead of cinnamon if the allspice flavor is enjoyed. For spiced apple or crabapple jelly, cook with the sugar and juice from 8 pounds of apples 12 whole cloves and 4 sticks of cinnamon for 1 teaspoon whole allspice tied loosely in a cheesecloth bag. Remove the bag before pouring the mixture in jelly glasses, cover with paraffin, place lid on and store. For spiced grape jelly cook 6 pounds Concord grapes with 1 cup vinegar, 1 tablespoon of whole cloves and 5 sticks of cinnamon or 1 teaspoon whole allspice. Strain. Mix equal measures of juice and sugar and cook to boiling stage. Pour into glasses, cover with paraffin, place lid on and store.

Butters. The homemaker who has to make her sugar for jams, jellies, and preserves stretch as far as possible, will not go wrong in making butters. They take the least amount of sugar in proportion to fruit, and the late season is ideal for fruits which make good butter—peaches, plums, quinces, apples, and grapes.

Grape and Apple Butter have another point in their favor—the same batch of fruit may be used first for jelly, then for butter. After cooking the fruit, drain off some of the juice for jelly, then cook down the sieved pulp for butter.

Use about half as much sugar as sieved fruit or less, according to taste and the sweetness of the fruit. Add sugar to sieved fruit and a fourth teaspoon of salt to each gallon of the mixture to bring out flavor. Boil rapidly, stirring to prevent scorching. As butter thickens, lower heat to avoid scorching. When thick stir in 1 to 2 teaspoons mixed ground spice to each gallon. Pour boiling hot into hot sterile jars and seal.

Mrs. Karin Offutt and Executors of Estate of Late D. E. Offutt Come To Agreeable Terms

An agreement made between the executors and trustees of the estate of the late D. E. Offutt, and Karin S. Offutt, his widow, also mother and guardian of D. E. Offutt, III, has concluded all legal proceedings now pending in the courts of Maryland, and makes definite settlement of all controversies, it was learned this morning from a copy of the proceedings filed in the Garrett County Circuit Court.

Controversy the past year following the death of D. E. Offutt on August 20, 1943, has been over a pre-nuptial agreement, over possession of furniture and other household belongings in the Offutt home, over attempted eviction proceedings, and other matters.

The agreement was signed by W. R. Offutt and Neil C. Fraley, as executors, also as trustees; and by Karin Offutt, as widow, and also as mother and guardian of D. E. Offutt III.

Contents of the agreement of particular interest include the following: According to the records in the Court House:

Agreed that a paragraph in the ante-nuptial agreement, made December 27, 1928, be altered and modified to the effect that Karin Offutt would receive $5,000 per year ($416.67 per month) or if she remarries the amount would be reduced to $2,500 per year, in full of any and all claims on the estate. The previous wording was to the effect that if she remarried she would be paid a lump sum of $10,000 and annual payments would cease.

Following Mr. Offutt's death, Mrs. Offutt had elected to take her legal share of the estate in lieu of the ante-nuptial agreement and had asked that the agreement be null and void, declaring she was unaware of the implications in it.

This bill of complaint had been answered by the executors and trustees who charged that Mrs. Offutt had full knowledge of all facts about her husband's wealth at the time of the ante-nuptial agreement.

Agreed that executors would pay $5,000 to Mrs. Offutt to August 20, 1944, and monthly payments to be made thereafter.

Agreed to pay Mrs. Offutt $12,500 in cash, to pay from that all legal services rendered by her attorneys.

Agreed to pay $1,200 maintenance, education and support of D. E. Offutt III for the past year, to August 20.

Agreed to right, title and interest in all household furniture, furnishings, equipment and other personal property now used in connection with the Offutt home on Second street, to go to Karin S. Offutt.

Agreed that costs of legal proceedings now in courts be paid by executor.

Agreed by Mrs. Offutt to give up possession of Offutt home within six months.

Agreed to $100 per month to be paid to Mrs. Offutt for support and maintenance of D. E. Offutt III as long as at present home, and $150 per month as long as maintained elsewhere.

Approximately five hundred persons attended the annual county-wide picnic, held last Saturday at the Pleasant Valley Recreation area near Bittering.

Between fifty and sixty boys and girls, and a number of adults are continuing this week in picking beans on the Weber farm south of town. Workers receive 50 cents per bushel, less ten cents daily for the bus fare to and from the farm.

Milburn W. Mann, of the U. W. Employment service, stated that last week's payroll for the bean pickers amounted to $529.00. Nine persons made $10.00 or over during the week, with one girl, Lucinda Liller, making $22.12. The other eight pickers getting the most for the week were Alice Lohr, $14.88; George Key, $13.53; Warren Mann, $11.23; Mrs. Boudah Wolf, $11.63; Robert Rice, $10.18; Elizabeth Rice, $10.00; Mrs. Manie Cogley, $10.35; William Wolf, $10.32.

Turning Over An Old Leaf

By PHILLIP A. GLADHEIM

*There were faces to remember in the Valley of the Shadow; There were faces unregarded, there were faces to forget; There were faces of grief and fear that are a few forgotten ashes; There were sparks of recognition that are not forgotten yet.

In 1896 Professor Leo D. Colanage of the Sorbonne completed his four volume work entitled "A Tour of the World." These volumes were profusely illustrated by examples of domestic architecture that he had studied in all quarters of the globe. He took as much pains to describe the interior and exterior of the meanest hut of the aborigine as the most magnificent palace of the aristocrat. Ever so often I examine his findings and study the pictures. Many of these houses are perfect examples of native art—the materials and workmanship are of the best. But I am forced to place all these modes of domestic dwellings with the more recent innovations of the 20th century. If ever I build there will be no temptation to imitate. As I tried to show in a previous article all housing has for its main object the limiting of function to bodily existence. But a house, in order to be a home, should provide more than space for shelter, eating and sleeping—and rooms for the chores of existence.

It is strange that various social sciences are so slow to comprehend that art can be pressed in service with religion to remove our chronic social evils—divorce, delinquency, vagrancy, and immorality—by providing dwellings that incorporate along with rooms that pauper the body those that stimulate the mind and quicken the soul.

Dear reader if you belong to some society or have occasion to converse with your friends may I suggest that you propose the following question: "If you were free to build your own house, how, where, with what material and purpose would you build it?" There would be as many different ideas as there were people present in the conversation. The differences in idea and plan would be in ratio to each person's imagination and knowledge of art.

In the past several months I have had a few occasions to present this question to various informal groups. In every instance I have observed that people nowadays want to build differently from their forefathers. There are many reasons for this. For one thing we have a much larger selection of materials, raw and manufactured, to choose for the construction of a house. Again there are so many mechanical devices for our pleasure and comfort that are now being specially designed for home use.

And because most of our generation has travelled widely, those who have been observant want the freedom to individualize the external and internal appearance of the home—using in novel ways, form, color, lighting, heating, room arrangements, furniture, decoration, and landscape.

If this be true there will be built along with the recognized traditional, and quite likely eccentric type of house.

The following description of the house of the future is but one of many examples that are radically new and bold in design. For want of a better term I will call the house I now want to describe "The House of the Double Facade."

This house is designed either as a hollow rhomboid or rectangle. The front would be two stories with an observation tower, the rear two stories, with a combination sleeping and sun-roof, with the proper kind of glass, and the sides would be long one story affairs with communicating compartments. The use of doors, both to the outside, and to the inner court would be optional. Whatever side of the exterior facade offered the most attractive view of landscape a porch with useful and artistic porch furniture would be constructed. The interior facade facing the inner court, completely around the rhomboid or rectangle, would extend a ceiling horizontally from the walls facing the court, and supported by pillars of various hardwoods, e. g., one oak, the next maple, etc. Each of these pillars to represent carving in the form of bas-relief.

In other words, the inner court would be surrounded by a cloister. As for the court, its center piece should be a fountain encircled by a pool that would give asylum to plants, fish, and a few rare amphibians. The remainder of the court would be divided into beds where grew both flowers and herbs. How pleasant it would be to have fresh herbs at the kitchen door to season the food?

Native wood and stone, together with manufactured composites, would be used both outside and inside. The use of many different kinds of glass and weather-proofing materials would also be required. The floors, ceilings and walls would vary, depending on the function of the room. All plumbing, electric, and mechanical devices, should be a part of the decoration, some embedded within the walls, others exposed, according to taste and utility. Ample storerooms or closets, each fitted for special use, like a place to store clothing, food, accessories, should be so designed that

Such a house in relation to landscape should follow the principle of planes that are pertinent to that particular landscape. This type of house, for instance, should not be built on the side of a hill—but rather on an abrupt small table-land, overlooking the valley. A forest should stand to one side—and open, cultivated fields to the other. While on the eastern slope there should be shrubs of small fruit—and on the western—pattered gardens of flowers. The roofs should be gabled and thatched, with a rim of morning glories, decorating the edge of the outer facade—and moon-flowers a similar decoration for the inner facade. The garage would be placed in the cellar at the rear. As for the other cellar space this would be given over to recreation, the heating plant, and food stores.

Now coming to the rooms themselves. To me—the rooms are the most important thing about a house. The house should be built around functional use of rooms—for these functions will determine the style of the building—and the choice of materials and ornamentation. Starting with the main entrance in the front—the room on the ground floor should be a large reception-living room with a high hearth. The furniture, consisting of chair, benches, and tables should be so designed as to make it intimate for a few or comfortable for a large social gathering. The room directly above, of the same dimensions, would be a library combining the accessories for reading, reference, and writing. And above the library would be an observation, used equally both summer and winter with the seasonal star-charts.

To the left would be the bedroom, and connecting baths, with one or two to spare for guests. The right side would consist of very individualized rooms, of course depending upon the interests and hobbies of the owner. For one thing there would be a music-room, containing a musical library, instruments, radio and phonograph—and recording apparatus. Then the hand-craft room, used for hand-loom, painting, drawing, etc. Then the laboratory for experimental purpose in connection with applied sciences that would have meaning in that particular locality. There should also be a mending room, which among other things should contain a sewing machine. But there are also many other things that need to be repaired. The ground-floor in the rear should be an up-to-date kitchen with the dining-room extended by means of glass into the inner court. Above the dining-room and kitchen would be the Sanctuary where engraven over the private altar would be the words of Jesus: "Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God." Along with the altar would be a large family bible on a stand. Here would family and guests assemble once each day—and here would each person seek solitude, meditation, and prayer at any hour of the day and night with only tall white candles for light. And after the day's work is ended, prayers have been said, to retire to the roof above the sanctuary and be guarded in sleep by heaven's stars and angels.
